LITTLE BOYS AT PLAY SHOT BY A LUNATIC

One Six-Year-Old Killed Instantly, Another Dying in Hospital of His Wound.

NO TRACE OF THE MURDERER

Police Believe Him a Maniac with a Crazy Desire to Kill—Similar Attack on a Man Homeward Bound.

On top of Coogan's Bluff, at Edgecombe Avenue and 165th Street, overlooking the Polo Grounds, a bearded Greek or Italian whom the police have not yet captured ran up to two six-year-old boys early yesterday afternoon, pressed his pistol to their hearts in turn, killed one instantly, mortally wounded the other, and escaped.

Capt. McCallum of the Morrisania Station last night called the attention of Capt. Crusia of West 152d Street, in whose territory the crime occurred, to a similar strange and motiveless shooting in his precinct early on Monday morning by a man who resembled the description of yesterday's murderer. Capt. McCallum thinks that one man may have committed both crimes. The police sent out an alarm for a person of this description.

The man shot on Monday morning was John Frederick of 817 Gerard Avenue, the Bronx, a press feeder. While he was crossing the bridge over the Harlem River at Park Avenue and 152d Street on his way home he noticed a man leaning over the side. He had hardly passed the stranger when the latter opened fire on him, sending six bullets after him, four of which took effect. Frederick was removed to Lebanon Hospital and is still there. He told the police that he did not know his assailant and could conceive of no motive for the attack. The fellow was of medium height, wore a black slouch hat, and a short, light-colored overcoat. Frederick thought he might be an Italian. The pistol he used on him was of light calibre, as was that used on the two boys yesterday.

The police believe they have to deal with a wild and motiveless murderer who gratifies some insane desire by shedding blood.

The Boy Victims.

The boy killed yesterday is Robert Lomas; he who was wounded, Arthur Shibley. They both lived at 434 West 164th Street, the last house in the street before it drops over the bristling ridge of rocks called Highbridge Park to cross the Harlem River into the Bronx. Mr. Shibley, an Armenian, with several brothers, owns a string of drug stores in various parts of town. Mr. Lomas and his wife are English. He is a foreman in a printing shop. The families occupy adjoining apartments on the third floor.

Arthur Shibley's kindergarten let him out at noon yesterday, and he had his afternoon off. Robert Lomas—Robbie his parents and friends called him—had not yet begun school.

"But his mother had just had his long yellow curls cut off," said a neighbor in the house, "and had him vaccinated so that he could begin. You know, you have to be vaccinated, and a boy with yellow curls down over his shoulders has a hard time, because all the boys call him a girl."

Ran Wild in No Man's Land.

So Arthur and Robbie had the afternoon off. They had but to cross Edgecombe Avenue to find themselves in Highbridge Park, which runs northward along the edge of the Speedway and the Harlem River up a little beyond 200th Street, descending from a rocky ridge at the top, sometimes by huge terraced steps and again in a steady decline, to the Speedway below, a distance of several hundred yards.

Highbridge Park is a sort of land of enchantment to the boys of the eastern section of Washington Heights. It is covered in some parts with a stunted growth of shrubbery, quite enough to make it look wild. The snow remains longer on its rocky sides tnan on any other part of Washington Heights. The eye of the boy who stands on the top of Coogan's Bluff—that part of the park overlooking the Polo Grounds at about 160th Street—has before him a stirring view of the Harlem, the railroad trains on the other side, and a land of mystery stretching away to the eastward across the river.

Best of all, in their opinion, they are independent. Both the Park Department and the Police Department have practically disowned this wild stretch of uninhabited territory, and the boys run free through it. In snowball time they attack parties walking along Edgecombe Avenue and by the side of the Harlem, and if pursued by angry citizens or an opposing band of boys take refuge in the old Jumel mansion.

When Arthur Shibley and Robbie Lomas went out for adventure yesterday afternoon they found the lower end of the Highbridge Park all theirs. The schools would not turn out the older boys until later in the afternoon. They crossed Edgecombe Avenue, went through a wooden gate, and entered a rocky pathway at 165th Street, which is called Lovers' Lane. They followed that until they came to the crest of the ridge.

The pair had with them Robbie Lomas's sled. They found a smooth stretch of hillside at that point, and they coasted down a short fall of rock and soil to a terrace perhaps a hundred feet below, whence they could easily see the pathway that runs along the eastern side of Edgecombe Avenue. They could also easily throw snowballs that far. Arthur Shibley said later that they saw a dark man, like a Greek or an Italian, walking up and down along that path. He wore a black slouch hat, a short light-colored overcoat, and was heavily bearded.

Attacked Without Provocation.

So far as the police could learn, this stranger and the two little boys had this section of the avenue and the rocks to themselves. Arthur Shibley told an ambulance surgeon who attended him after the attack that neither he nor Robbie had said anything or done anything to the stranger, but that without provocation he had come over to them on the rocky crest where they were.

However that may be, Robbie Lomas was at his sled ready for a slide down the stretch of smooth hillside. Arthur Shibley stood near him. The stranger ran up to Robbie, pressed a .32-calibre pistol close to his breast and fired. The boy screamed, fell on his sled, and coasted down across the snow to the terrace below, a wavering red streak in the white snow tracing his last ride.

Arthur Shibley was too frightened to move. The stranger turned upon him, pressed the pistol against his side and again fired. The weapon was so close that the exploded powder burned a hole in his clothing over his chest. Then the

MORSE HOME FOR RENT.

Fifth Avenue House Contains Valuable Paintings—To Let Furnished.

The home of Charles W. Morse, at 728 Fifth Avenue, between Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Streets, is for rent furnished. Those who went past the house yesterday in the late afternoon noticed a conspicuous "For Rent" sign on the front of the building.

Although it was generally thought that the old home of Charles W. Morse, now Convict 2,816 in the Federal prison at Atlanta, would be either sold or rented, the fact that it is to be let furnished comes as a surprise to many of Mrs. Morse's friends.

Many valuable Oriental rugs are on each of the four floors, and the paintings gathered by the former banker are said to be worth more than $100,000. The furniture is in keeping with the decorative scheme of the several rooms. Most of the rooms on the second floor are furnished in mahogany.

The Morse house is a four-story stone building. The first floor is level with the street. Many business houses have been built recently along that part of Fifth Avenue.

CAR CUTS A BOY TO PIECES.

He Rolls Under the Wheels from a Snowhouse at the Trackside.

Motorman John J. Murphy, in charge of a Park Avenue car, saw some boys planting a Christmas tree on top of a snowhouse beside the tracks in Jefferson Street, Williamsburg, yesterday afternoon, and slowed his car down as he was about to pass the snowhouse. Despite his precaution, however, he was unable to stop when one of the youngsters slipped suddenly, and, sliding down the side of the snowhouse, rolled on to the trolley tracks.

The car wheels ground the boy to pieces before Murphy could bring the car to a halt. Railroad men were at work jacking the car up to remove the body, when the mother of the boy, who was 6-year-old Otto Kramer of 82 Central Avenue, having been notified by playmates of the accident, came running around the corner.

Dr. Woods of the Bushwick Hospital found the boy's body so cut up that he refused to let the mother see it. He turned the body over to a policeman and turned his attention to Mrs. Kramer, who had to be treated before she could be taken home. Murphy was arrested.

FELLED BY FOOTPADS.

C. De Forest Smith, Homeward Bound, Beaten Unconscious.

C. De Forest Smith, the manager of a wholesale shoe house downtown, who occupies an apartment on the second floor of the Elbe at 660 Riverside Drive, entered the house about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, and staggering across the hall, fell, rather than stepped, into the elevator. The left side of his face was cut and discolored, and his left eye was growing black.

"I've been held u pand robbed," he told the elevator boy, and then commenced a rambling story of how two men had beaten him unconscious.

The boy helped him out at his own apartment and was about to start down, when he heard Mrs. Smith and her mother, Mrs. Stow, call for help. He ran into the apartment and found Smith, delirious, shouting that he would get his revolver and go back and fight the men who had attacked him. He was running toward a bureau in his room, where the revolver was kept. It required the combined strength of the two women and the boy to restrain him from leaving the house.

Dr. W. R. C. Latson, who has apartments on the ground floor, found that Mr Smith had been badly beaten about the head but that his condition was not serious and he managed to bring him to himself. Smith was able to recall then the details of the attack upon him.

He said he had started home after an evening downtown, about 12:30 o'clock, and had alighted from the Subway at 145th Street, probably a few minutes after 1 o'clock. He walked down Broadway to 144th Street and turned down the steep hill to Riverside Drive.

There is a big apartment house on the southwest corner of Broadway and 144th Street which extends nearly half way down the block. The entrance is about in the middle of the house, and because of the slope of the street the side of the stoop furthest from Broadway is very high.

Two men sprang from behind the cover of the stoop and rained blows upon his head. At the first blow Mr. Smith's hat was crushed down over his eyes and he could only strike out aimlessly. In an instant he was beaten to the sidewalk and lost consciousness.

From his knowledge of the time he left the Subway and the time that Clay, the elevator boy, says he entered the house, Mr. Smith estimates that he must have lain upon the sidewalk for nearly half an nour.

Investigation showed that the robbers had taken a small sum of money which Mr. Smith had in his pockets, but had not touched his gold watch and chain. Why they should have left this Mr. Smith cannot explain, as, had they been frightened away by the approach of any one, this person, most probably, would have lent some assistance to him.

Mr. Smith is unable to give any description of his assailants.

CONFER ON HARRIMAN SUITS.

Wickersham and Kellogg Preparing Report on Proposal to Discontinue It.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Conferences on the memorandum to be prepared for President Taft by Attorney General Wickersham and Frank B. Kellogg on the proposal to discontinue the suits for the dissolution of the merger of the Union Pacific and South Pacific Railroad lines began to-day. C. A. Severance, the Government's special counsel in the proceedings, has come to Washington at the request of the Attorney General and had a talk with him and Mr. Kellogg to-day. The situation is to be gone into very thoroughly before a decision as to the future course of the Government is reached.

Further conferences with the representatives of the allied railroad interests will take place in the meantime, and the arguments presenting reasons why the suit should be dropped, supplementary to the representations adopted by the railroad representatives at the White House conference Monday, will be submitted to the Attorney General.

SUSPEND BROKERS IN ROCK ISLAND CASE

Stock Exchange Governors Punish S. B. Chapin & Co. for the Flurry of Dec. 27.

CHANGES IN THE ROAD

Robert Walker Made President and D. G. Reid's Representative, R. A. Jackson, Retires.

After having had tow weeks to consider the report of the special committee appointed on Dec. 27 to investigate the sudden rise in Rock Island common stock on that morning, it took the Governing Committee two hours yesterday afternoon to agree on what action should be taen.

There had been a strong sentiment among many of the active houses against making a scapegoat of S. B. Chapin & Co., who were known to have been the chief culprits examined by the special committee, and when the decision of the Governors suspending S. B. Chapin, head of the firm, for sixty days and his partner, E. D. Countiss, for thirty days, was announced there was much relief among traders

No explanation was given of the grounds for the action of the committee, and the charges against the two Exchange members of Chapin & Co. will not be made known until 11 o'clock this morning.

The fact that neither of the partners was expelled, as had been predicted in some quarters, in face of the coming consideration by the Legislature of the report of the Hughes Wall Street Investigating Committee, was taken to mean that the Governing Committee had held nothing more severe against them than a vioiation of that section of the Constitution which provides a maximum penalty of one year's suspension for a member found guilty of "any act which may be determined to be detrimental to the interest or welfare of the Exchange."

Many of the forty Governors of the Exchange who are identified with the active trading houses, are understood to have stood out for the acquittal of the two brokers on the ground that they had done nothing that was not entirely regular, and that the wild rise in Rock Island at the opening of the stock market on that Monday morning was something they could not control.

Changes in Rock Island Company.

Coincident with the action of the Stock Exchange, the Rock Island Company Directors met and elected Robert Walker, a former counsel, to the Presidency in place of Richard A. Jackson, resigned. The Rock Island Company is the holding corporation of the Rock Island Railroad.

Mr. Walker takes up all Mr. Jackson's offices, including the Chairmanship of the Executive Committee, the general counselship of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad, and membership in the Finance Committee. Immediately after the meeting he started for Chicago to consult with the Rock Island officials there. He is 35 years old, a lawyer, and a graduate of Amherst and Columbia. Ex-President Jackson is understood to be closely identified with Daniel G. Reid and William H. Moore.

Before the meeting yesterday there were still many who believed that more than the members of Chapin & Co. would be reached, and that these brokers would get a year's suspension. One of the factors which operated to make their punishment light, it was said after the meeting, was that important banking interests as well as some of the most influential members of the Exchange had come forward in their favor.

It was pointed out on this side of the argument that while in ordinary discretion the effect of the heavy buying orders scattered about the floor on the morning of tne flurry might have been foreseen, the real culprit was the firm's customer. This man, who is not a member of the Exchange, could not be reached by its discipline, and it was argued that to punish any one else was not fair.

Statement of the Brokers.

Chapin & Co. in a statement issued last night explain their position in the matter and make this defense. The statement reads:

> We received an order on Dec. 27 from a customer to buy 40,000 shares of Rock Island common at the market at the opening, and were expressly directed to give it out to twenty brokers to buy 2,000 shares each. The execution of the orders caused trouble and confusion, but in doing this we simply acted as directed and our customer paid for the stock the following day.
>
> We were left without any discretion in the matter. We had no reason to believe there was any purpose or design on the part of the customer, except to acquire the shares mentioned, and in the manner covered by his instructions to us, nor did we have the slightest doubt on the subject. The result was purely an accident, which has not happened in a similar case. The disturbance could not possibly have been foreseen, and a similar occurrence is unlikely to happen again.
>
> There has been no imputation or suggestion of wrong-doing on our part.
>
> We will continue to conduct our business as usual, but will give out our orders for execution on the New York Stock Exchange to other brokers during the interval.

Chapin & Co. are known as a "Chicago house." They occupy the offices on the ground floor of the Trinity Building at 111 Broadway which were formerly those of C. G. Gates & Co., the house made famous by the operations of John W. Gates.

F. D. Contiss, whose suspension is for only half as long as that of the head of the house, was in Chicago at the time of the flurry. S. B. Chapin, himself did not arrive downtown that morning until the Rock Island shares had steadied down to about the level from which they started upward.

Besides the two Exchange members, the other partners in the firm are Tracy L. Turner, William Ewald, Ira P. Couch, and Cliver P. Cooke.

The firm's Chicago branch is one of the important houses in that city, and it is one of the largest grain speculative concerns in the country. The head of the firm is related to the Armour family, and is looked upon, particularly in Chicago, as an important factor in the market.

In New York the trading through the house by D. G. Reid of the "Rock Island crowd" has been the most spectacular thing in its history. Mr. Reid is understood to have closed his account and taken up his Rock Island and other stocks on the day after the flurry.

$500,000 Post Office Contract Let.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Secretary MacVeagh has awarded a contract to the George A. Fuller Company at $549,500 for the erection of a part of the superstructure of the new Post Office building in New York City. This section will accommodate the railway mail service, and is to be completed by July 10, when the Pennsylvania Railroad Company expects to open its new terminal for traffic. The new Post Office building is to be located west of the Pennsylvania terminal, between Thirty-first and Thirty-third Streets and Eighth and Ninth Avenues. The total appropriation for the building is $3,500,000. The foundation has been completed.

In order not to miss the many notable features in next Sunday's Times it is important to place orders with news dealers to-day.

LIBERALS PROPOSE TO AID UNEMPLOYED

Churchill Promises Insurance Against Lack of Work, Affecting 2,250,000 Men.

BALFOUR FOR TAX ON WHEAT

Says It Will Reduce Cost of Bread—Asquith Ridicules Him—Many Injured at Brentwood Meeting.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—A big scheme of unemployment insurance will be the work of the new Liberal Government if returned to power. Winston Spencer Churchill, President of the Board of Trade, outlined the scheme in the course of a speech at Glasgow to-night, when he addressed two huge meetings.

Mr. Churchill announced that the details of the scheme had already been worked out by the Board of Trade, and said that if the people granted the money the House of Commons would pass a compulsory and contributory unemployment insurance bill, which would deal with the affairs of upward of 2,250,000 adult workers, skilled and unskilled alike. The shipbuilding, engineering, and allied trades would first come under consideration, while, side by side with the scheme, facilities would be extended for voluntary insurance, aided by the State.

The new plan would be carried on in conjunction with 150 labor exchanges, which were soon to be opened throughout the kingdom. These exchanges, Mr. Churchill said, would give labor a scientific market, and the advantages which modern civilization had conferred on all classes. The insurance plan would improve and standardize labor, and would equally benefit the employer and the artisan.

Chancellor Lloyd-George, at Wolverhampton, evidently referring to the same scheme, said that he had put $15,000,000 in the budget to deal with unemployment, whereas his opponents were trying to maintain a land system which was more responsible for unemployment than any single cause. He urged the necessity of taking wheat from wherever it could be obtained

"Don't let us," he said, "slam the door in the teeth of Providence, and say we won't take it."

A. J. Balfour, the Opposition leader, speaking at York, said home rule was a subject requiring the attention of all students of politics, one of the greatest problems, ever put before the country. Yet it was brought forward by the Liberals as an unconsidered item and as an unconsidered scheme of legislation. The Premier had said just enough to make the Nationalists struggle for the return of the Radical Party, and had not devoted either the time or the attention to the subject it required.

Referring to tariff reform, Mr. Balfour repeated that the Tory Party was pledged not to increase the cost of food to the poor. He thought a small duty on wheat, with preference to the colonies, would diminish, rather than increase, the cost of bread.

The Prime Minister, at Salisbury to-night, dealt with the humor of the situation, in that Mr. Balfour criticised omissions in the Premier's election address, whereas Mr. Balfour's own electon manifesto gave only a brief paragraph to the subject of tariff reform, and, he added, although the country was within two days of the elections it was left in darkness concerning Mr. Balfour's views on tariff reform.

The feature of the campaign is the great attention devoted in the newspapers of the rival parties to the comparative cost of living in Great Britain, Germany, and the United States. Columns of figures and statistics are given daily for the purpose of supporting or denouncing, as the case may be, the policy of tariff reform.

Election meetings are still the scenes of considerable disorder. One at Brentwood to-night developed a riot, in which many persons were injured.

REFORMERS IN NEW LEAGUE.

Organization to Combat Saloons, Gambling, and White Slave Traffic Formed.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 12.—The allied moral and civic association was formed here to-day at a meeting held in the Tabernacle Baptist Church, with delegates from the Prohibition Party and a number of organizations interested in civic and social reform in attendance. The purpose of the association will be to combat through legislation not only the liquor traffic, but the white slave trade, gambling, and other evils that beset society.

Mrs. Ella Boole, who attended as a delegate from the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, was elected President of the association. On the Committee on Legislation, which will be clamoring at the gates of the Capitol from now until the close of the session for reform legislation, were appointed, besides Mrs. Boole, Chairman C. E. Pitts of the Prohibition Party in this State, and the Rev. O. R. Miller of the International Reform Bureau at Washington.

Eighteen organizations were represented at the gathering, among these the New York Anti-Saloon League, which has been conducting a campaign for local option in this State for many years; the Independent Order of Good Templars, the Loyal Temperance League, the Secret Law and Order League.

The organization will begin by asking for local option legislation on the county unit basis, with the provision that if at an election a county goes "wet" the question shall be submitted to the voters again at a general election two years later, but that if a country goes "dry" it shall remain so permanently.

Postal Telegraph-Cable to Change Name

Application was made yesterday to Justice Hendrick in the Supreme Court to change the name of the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company to the Transcontinental Telegraph Company. The application had been advertised by George Adams, Vice President of the company. No opposition was made to the motion, and it is expected that Justice Hendrick will grant the motion by default.

NEARLY A MILE HIGH GOES FLIER PAULHAN

Judges' Record at Los Angeles Says He Reached 5,000 Feet in His Biplane.

BEATS ALL HEIGHT RECORDS

Crowd Goes Wild as He Descends After 50 Minutes 46 1-5 Seconds—Failed to Beat Curtiss's Speed.

AVIATION CAMP, Los Angeles, Jan. 12.—Louis Paulhan, the French aviator, broke all official and unofficial records for altitude in a heavier-than-air machine to-day, by flying in a Farman biplane to a height of more than 4,000 feet and descending safely after 50 minutes 46 1-5 seconds in the air.

Owing to difficulties of measurement the exact height reached is not known, but there is no doubt that Paulhan exceeded Latham's Mourmelon record of 3,600 feet, the previous best. The instrument on Paulhan's machine registered the greatest height at 4,600 feet. The judges' record of his altitude, which is still to be sanctioned officially, was 1,524 meters, approximately 5,000 feet. The time of descent was 7 minutes 30 seconds.

Paulhan, who is the idol of the crowd to-night, made his record shortly after losing the speed record of the course to Glenn H. Curtiss.

The Frenchman, using an engine that had just arrived from Paris, had been on the course all afternoon. He had circled the course again and again, skidding and dipping and swinging corners in a daring fashion that made his wife shiver with fright.

The sun was low toward the sea and the shadows had begun to gather when Paulhan went up for the height record. The wind barely stirred. Cortlandt Field Bishop, President of the Aero Club of America, stood in front of the judges' stand. As Paulhan rose in the air he bent low his gray-capped head and smiled as he made a short circle over the 50,000 spectators. Curtiss had previously tried the higher currents and come down.

Paulhan pointed north, went up a thousand feet, passed over the centre of the field again, then turned north and up again. The crowd watched breathlessly as the Frenchman and his machine rapidly became a speck in the gathering twilight.

At a height of 1,300 feet Paulhan described a great circle to feel the currents. By this time he was a mile and a half from camp. Two thousand feet high and still climbing. Then when he was as nearly out of sight as he could be without disappearing Paulhan began to descend, much to the relief of the spectators.

He came down easily in front of the grandstand after having risen to the plane of the mountain peaks. As he leaped from his machine, cheeks glowing and eyes flashing, he was seized by his friends and carried to the grandstand, where he bared his head amid a thunderous sound of cheers.

Paulhan gave the crowd another thrill earlier in the afternoon. The balloon New York, which had ascended from Huntington Park, came drifting toward Aviation Camp. In it was Mme. Paulhan among the other guests. When the Frenchman caught sight of it he sprang to his Farman machine, snapped out instructions to his helpers, and in a flash darted off. Then rising in a wide circle to a height of 600 feet he sailed a mile or more over the adjacent fields and approached close enough to the New York to hail his wife. Then he swept back to earth, paying his respects to Beachey and Knabenshue, whose dirigibles he passed in descending.

After his first flight Paulhan hardly gave his engine time to cool before he went up again, taking Maisson as passenger. Apparently the flight was as easy as the first, but he did not rise as high.

At 2 o'clock the balloons and the dirigibles driven by Knabenshue and Beachey crowded over the course. Two Curtiss machines were dragged to the starting place. A band played waltz music, and the official starters and markers took their places.

Curtiss stepped from his tent and the megaphone announced that he would try for the speed record of the course. He rose easily, and after a short trial flight increased his speed to 43⅗ miles an hour. The time for the course of slightly more than a mile and a half was 2:13 3-5. No sooner had Curtiss alighted and strolled away than Paulhan's manager announced that the Frenchman would seek to take the speed honor from the American.

The course was cleared with difficulty and Paulhan started. His engine, however, had less power. His turns were not so sharp. The result of the second lap, which was the one timed, was 14 seconds slower than Curtiss's record. The Frenchman kept on circling the course six times, but he did not equal Curtiss's record, though he covered more than eight miles in the flight.

The three balloons, New York, Peoria, and Dick Ferris ascended from Huntington Park within fifteen minutes of each other. The rigging of the Peoria, which was the first of the three to start, fouled as she rose a flagstaff on a building. An anchor was thrown out and the balloon brought to earth. That was enough for C. Crovall, who left the balloon to Aeronaut Kanee and his sister Mary, remarking that he had had enough ballooning to last for some time. The Peoria later started with the other two balloons.

In the New York were Clifford B. Harmon, aNt C. Goodwin, Bud Wood Thorpe, Mme. Paulhan, Baron Robert de Penendorff, Mme. de Penendorff, and George Harrison. In the Dick Ferris, a new balloon, were A. G. Willard, aeronaut; George Dussler, Capt. H. C. Slotterbeck of the California National Guard, P. H. Greer, and C. F. Edholm. The others, after ascending to a considerable height, came to earth without incident, the Peoria very high up, sailed away to the northwest, crossed the beach near Santa Monica, and passed out over the ocean, traveling in an opposite direction to the lower currents.

After going about three miles out, followed by tugs, the balloon dropped so close to the water that her drag rope trailed in the sea. Then catching the reverse current from the northwest, the Peoria sailed back over the land.

It was after all this that Paulhan made the most spectacular flight of all in rising mountain high.

It was announced to-day that Cortlandt Field Bishop, President of the Aero Club of America, had sanctioned the following list of prizes for the aviation meet, beginning with events this afternoon:

Speed—Best during meet, ten laps, $3,000, $2,000, and $500.
Endurance — Best demonstration during meet, $3,000, $2,000, and $500.
Altitude—$3,000, $2,000, and $500.
Best flight with passenger—$1,000, $500.
Slowest lap at any time, $500.
Quickest start, $250.
Shortest distance in starting flight, $250.

In addition to this, Curtiss will receive $10,000 for his flights during the meet, and Paulhan and the members of his aviation syndicate, Miscarol and Maisson, will receive $25,000.

Mr. Bishop cut down the prize list aggregating $80,000 proffered by the committee. He based his calculation on the ground that large prizes tended to magnify the sporting aspect of the meet and subordinate scientific interest.

The high flight made by Hubert Latham, which was surpassed by Paulhan at Los Angeles yesterday, was at Mourmelon, France, on Thursday last. Latham attained a height of 3,600 feet in an Antoinette monoplane owned by H. S. Harkness of New York. The remarkable flight by Latham surpassed by some 2,000 feet the best previous official record held by himself. Orville Wright and Paulhan, however, had made unofficial flights to altitudes which equaled or surpassed Latham's performance previous to the record of last week.

PICKED UP $30,000 GEMS.

Poor Girl Who Found Mrs. Isman's Pearl Necklace Got $2,000 Reward.

It was announced last night that the client for whom Tiffany & Co. advertised in THE TIMES lost column last Sunday a reward of $2,000 for the return of a string of pearls worth $30,000, was Mrs. Irene Isman, former wife of Felix Isman, the real estate operator, whom she divorced last October. The pearls were recovered yesterday and the lucky finder, a poor working girl, received the reward.

Because she feared to have the knowledge that she possessed so much money become public, the girl's identity it was said, was concealed.

Mrs. Isman lost the necklace last Friday while on her way from Delmonico's to her home at 140 West Fifty-seventh Street. She retraced her steps, but found no trace of the necklace. It must have been picked up by the girl a minute or two after Mrs. Isman dropped it.

GERMANS MUST DANCE WELL.

Officers Appointed by Kaiser Bar Others from Court Balls.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—The Kaiser has appointed Lieut. Count Vedigo von Wedel and Baron Gisbert von Knyphausen leading dancers at this season's Court balls. Both are officers in the crack cavalry regiment, the Gardes du Corps.

Their duties are to open all dances and then to supervise the other dancers. They possess absolute authority at all Court balls. If they consider the floor too crowded they can call off the superfluous couples, and if they notice faulty dancing the offenders are expelled from the imperial presence.

The Kaiser insists on perfect dancing at Court balls, and young guards officers who fail to attain the necessary dancing standard are regarded with disfavor.

AGAINST INCOME TAX PLAN.

Resolution for Rejection of Proposed Amendment Introduced in Senate.

ALBANY, Jan. 12.—A concurrent resolution rejecting the proposed amendment to the Federal Constitution authorizing an income tax was introduced to-night by Senator Newcomb of New York.

The resolution was referred to the Judiciary Committee without comment.

SHIP STRIKES, 31 LOST.

Steamer Czarina, After Hitting Coos Bay Bar, Disappears.

MARSHFIELD, Oregon, Jan. 12.—The steamer Czarian, form San Francisco to Coos Bay, which to-day while crossing Coos Bay bar struck on the north spit and drifted off toward the shore disabled has disappeared and it is believed that all on board have gone down.

The ship's company was Capt. Dugan, a crew of twenty-nine men, and one passenger, Harold Mills, son of General Manager Mills of the company.

FARM LECTURES AT COLUMBIA

Practical Farmers and Scientific Men Will Deliver Them.

Columbia University has arranged for a course of thirteen lectures on "Economic Agriculture." The first will be given at the university next Tuesday, and the rest will follow on successive Tuesdays.

Instruction will be given both by authorities on scientific farming and by practical farmers. George T. Powell, President of the Agricultural Experts' Association, will deliver the first lecture. Persons wishing to attend the course should apply to the Secretary of the university.

SOUGHT SPOOKS BY WIRELESS

Captain Asked Mrs. Pepper Vanderbilt to Find Bracelet Lost at Sea.

Capt. F. A. G. Schultze, shipping manager for the New York Central Railroad, sought by wireless to invoke the aid of spirits to recover a $1,500 diamond bracelet lost by his wife on Monday while coming to port on the steamship City of Atlanta. The message was addressed to Mrs. Mary Ann Pepper Vanderbilt of Brooklyn. The message was not delivered as the high priestess of spiritualism was not a home when the message arrived.

The Captain and Mrs. Schultze returned from Savannah on the steamship. Mrs. Schultze was wearing the bracelet. After leaving the library she missed it. Notices were posted throughout the ship and the Captain sent the wireless asking for spiritual assistance.

Since Mrs. Vanderbilt failed to get the message Inspector McCafferty's "spook brigade" will search for the bracelet.

KNOX EXPECTS SUCCESS.

Thinks Powers Will See Advantages of Arbitral Court Plan.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—No answer has been received to the circular note addressed to the powers by Secretary Knox in advocacy of a permanently constituted arbitral court at The Hague, but in spite of the failure of a somewhat similar proposal in the Roosevelt Administration, high hope is felt here that a step toward international peace will be accomplished. The State Department believes that so many reasons exist for the establishment of such a court or for turning the prize court into such a tribunal, sitting in peace and in war, that it feels that other nations must see the wisdom as well as the fairness of the plea.

The prize court, as such, depends for its usefulness on the existence of war, but the idea of Mr. Knox is to transform it into a tribunal of peace, not by agreeing to the settlement of all disputes, but by endowing the court with permanency and conferring upon it powers of arbitration now given only to specially constituted courts having a lifetime of only one case. By making the court permanent it is felt that not only will its judges be more experienced, but that international litigation will be made much cheaper.

Prinzess Irene Safe at Bremen.

The North German Lloyd Line steamship Prinzess Irene, which left New York on Dec. 30 for Bremen, and lost her rudder at sea, arrived at Bremen yesterday morning, according to a cable dispatch received here. The Prinzess Irene was steered by her propellers, and arrived about forty minutes late.

TAFT'S BILL FOR FEDERAL RULE OF THE TRUSTS

National Corporations to be Under Strict Supervision by Government Officers.

CAN BUY STATE CONCERNS

Commissioner May Appoint Receivers — Stock Taxable by States, but Not Franchises.

NO HIGH LIMIT ON CAPITAL

But the Minimum Will Be $100,000—President Will Bring Strong Pressure to Bear for the Measure.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Here is the Administration bill to provide a system of Federal incorporation as recommended in President Taft's special message sent to Congress last Friday. The bill was drawn by Attorney General Wickersham after repeated consultation with Secretary Nagel and other legal advisers of the President, including Senator Root.

Mr. Wickersham and Secretary Nagel have been at work on it since early last Summer, and the details have been threshed out in frequent and extended conferences with President Taft. It reached a stage last November where it was put in print, and since then has been under the continued scrutiny of the President and the lawyers of his Cabinet. It was ready for introduction in Congress when the President sent his message, which he closed with the words:

"It will be at the disposition of the appropriate committees of Congress."

Since then it has been sent to the Judiciary Committee for its examination, but no one has as yet introduced it in either Senate or House.

It will be seen that, while the bill follows closely the recommendations of the President's message, it will, if enacted into law, work a tremendous readjustment in the manner of doing business in this country. For it seems, at least on first reading, to authorize the creation of a series of corporations, which will be subject only to the action of Congress in certain vital respects. For instance, it is expressly provided that no court shall have anything to say as to the forfeiture of a charter, which can be annulled or changed only by Congress.

Can Buy State Corporations.

The bill distinctly legalizes a form of holding company and authorizes such a corporation to purchase and hold State corporations engaged in the manufacture of the articles which the National corporation uses in inter-State commerce. Thus it is apparently within the power of a National corporation chartered under this bill to buy and operate every sugar refinery or every steel plant or every bakery or butcher shop in the country. The Commissioner of Corporations is made the supreme judge as to the issuance of a charter, which he is obligated to issue if he finds that the association applying for it has complied with the provisions of the law, which are comparatively simple. If he finds that the articles of association are at variance with this law or any other law he "may" decline to issue his certificate.

A minimum is established for the capital of a National corporation, but no maximum. Stock is to be issued for cash, except that property may be purchased by stock at an appraisal approved by the Commissioner of Corporations. There are full regulations governing the operations of the National corporations and provision for reports to the Commissioner of Corporations, this covering the desired Government publicity.

Will Be Introduced Soon.

It is expected by the Administration that the bill will be introduced in both houses before very long, but it is uncertain as yet whether the President will demand its enactment at this session or permit it to go over to the short session next Winter. If his commerce law bill goes well he may conclude that Congress can also handle this one at this session.

The President has let it be known in the last day or two to members of Congress that he expects and will demand a ready acceptance of the Administration measures that he is proposing, and it is likely to appear before very long that he has constituted himself the judge of party regularity and will render decision in accordance with the manner in which his bills are treated in the Senate and House. There are evidences that he is very much wrought up over the way members of his party have been acting toward his recommendations in the last few weeks, and it would not be surprising if this Federal Incorporation bill should be the cause of an explosion that will make the existing rumpus in the Republican Party look like a toy firecracker beside a volcano.

Here is the bill in full:

TEXT OF THE BILL.

An act to provide for the formation of corporations to engage in inter-State and international trade and commerce. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

Section 1.—Any five or more persons, citizens of the United States, each of the age of 21 years and upward, may, upon complying with the requirements of this act, form a corporation to engage in trade or commerce with foreign nations, or among the several States, or between a State or States and places subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, or between any Territories of the United States, or in and between any such Territory or Territories and any State or States and the District of Columbia or places under the jurisdiction of the United States or between the District of Columbia and any State or States and foreign nations or places under the jurisdiction of the United States, or for all or any of such kinds of trade and commerce.

Section 2.—The persons uniting to form such corporation shall make and subscribe articles of association which shall specifically set forth:

First—The name of the proposed corporation, with the addition of the words "National Incorporation" as the last words thereof, which name shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Corporations.

Second—The place in which the principal business office of the corporation is to be situated, designating the State, Territory, or District, and the particular county and city, town, or village.

Third—The object for which the proposed corporation is to be established, stating the general nature of the inter-State or international trade or commerce which it is formed to carry on.

Fourth—The amount of the capital stock of the proposed corporation, which shall not be less than one hundred thousand dollars, and the amount with which it is to commence business, which shall not be less than ten thousand dollars, and whether or not any part of the capital stock is to be contributed in property other than money, and if so, the amount of such part.

Fifth—The number of shares into which the capital stock is to be divided and the par value, if any, of such shares; whether or not such shares are to be divided into classes, and, if so, the amount of each class and a statement of the preferential and other special rights of each class.

Sixth—The number of Directors, and if they are to be divided into two or more classes, the number of Directors to constitute each class, and the terms of office of each class, respectively, and the names and Post Office addresses of the Directors for the first year, and the name and Post Office address of the Treasurer of the corporation to serve until the election of officers for the first year.

Seventh—The period, if any, limited for the duration of the company, not exceeding fifty years.

Powers Must Be Approved.

Eighth—Any other provision which the incorporators may choose to insert in the articles for the regulation of the business and the conduct of the affairs of the corporation, and any provisions defining, limiting, and regulating the powers of the corporation, its officers, Directors, or stockholders, or of any class or classes of stockholders, and provided such provisions be approved by the Commissioner of Corporations as not inconsistent with this act or with any other act of Congress.

Ninth—The fact that the articles are made to enable such persons to avail themselves of the advantages of this act.

Tenth—The names and places of residence of the respective subscribers to the articles and the number of shares which each of them agrees to take in the said corporation, which must aggregate not less than the amount specified in the articles as that with which the corporation is to commence business. The articles of association shall be acknowledged by each subscriber before an officer authorized to take the acknowledgment of deeds for purposes of record at the place or places where they are so signed and acknowledged, and shall be authenticated by the seal of such officer and the certificate to his official character of the clerk of the court or county, or other officer with whom the commission of the officer taking such acknowledgment is required by law to be filed or recorded; and the articles of association so acknowledged or authenticated shall be transmitted to the Commissioner of Corporations.

Duty of Federal Commissioner.

Section 3—It shall be the duty of the Commissioner of Corporations to examine such articles, and if, in his opinion, they conform to the requirements of this act and contain no provision which is contrary to any other act of Congress, and if the name proposed to be adopted by such corporation is not the same as or so nearly resembling the name of another existing corporation organized under this act or by any other act of Congress as to be calculated to deceive, he shall, upon payment of the fees provided in this act, file the said articles in his office and record the same in a book to be kept by him for the purpose, and, upon proof satisfactory to him that the amount of the capital with which the corporation is to commence business has been paid in cash to the Treasurer named in the articles, he shall thereupon issue a copy of said articles so filed, together with a certificate, under his hand and seal of office, that the incorporators have complied with all the provisions of law required to be complied with and have become and are a National corporation under the name, and are authorized to have succession for the period specified in the articles of association. Such certificate shall be in the form prescribed in Schedule A of this act, and thereupon and from the date of such certificate the said incorporators and their respective successors shall be and become a body corporate, having succession for the period in said articles mentioned, and as such, and in the name designated therein, shall have and may exercise the powers specified therein, and all powers necessary or proper to the effective exercise of the powers herein specifically granted. If, in the opinion of the Commissioner, the articles of association shall contain any provision at variance with this act or any other act of Congress, or if the name selected for said corporation shall be the same as or so nearly resembling the name of any other existing corporation organized under this act, or by any other act of Congress, as to be calculated to deceive, the Commissioner may refuse to file said articles of association.

Powers of the Corporations.

Section 4—Every corporation formed as herein provided shall have the following powers:

First—To adopt and use a corporate seal and alter same at pleasure.

Second—To have succession for the period specified in its articles of association, unless it is sooner dissolved by the act of its shareholders owning two-thirds of its stock, or unless its existence is terminated by reason of some other provision of law.

Third—To acquire by grant, gift, purchase, devise, or bequest, and to hold and dispose of such property, real and personal, as the corporation shall require or find useful in its business, subject to such limitations as may be prescribed by law.

Fourth—To carry on the general kind of inter-State or international trade and commerce specified in the articles of association, with foreign nations, or among the several States, or between a State or States and places subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, or between any Territories of the United States, or in or between any such Territory or Territories and any State of Columbia, or places under the jurisdiction of the United States, or between the District of Columbia and any State or States or foreign nations or places under the jurisdiction of the United States.

Fifth—To sue and be sued, complain and defend in any court of law or equity having jurisdiction as fully as natural persons may do.

Sixth—To elect or appoint a Board of Directors and an Executive Committee, and by its Board of Directors to appoint a President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and other officers or agents, define their duties, prescribe their qualifications, dismiss such officers or any part of them at pleasure, and appoint others to fill their places.

Seventh—To make by-laws not inconsistent with this act or any other act of Congress for the management of its property, the regulation of its affairs, the transfer of its stock, and the calling of meetings of its members; such by-laws may also fix the amount of stock which must be represented at meetings of the stockholders to constitute a quorum, unless otherwise provided by law. By-laws shall be adopted by the stockholders, unless it is provided in the articles of association that the by-laws may be made by the Board of Directors, in which case by-laws may be so adopted, subject to alteration or repeal by the stockholders at their pleasure. By-laws adopted at a meeting of the stockholders shall control the action of the Directors, but no by-laws shall be effective until two weeks after a copy of the same, duly certified by the Secretary of the corporation under its seal, shall have been filed in the Bureau of Corporations, unless such time shall be duly waived by writing signed by the holders of all the stock filed with said by-laws in the Bureau of Corporations.

Section 5—If in the original or amended articles of association any informality be found to exist, or said certificate be found to contain any matter not authorized by law to be stated therein, or if the proof of acknowledgement thereof shall be defective, the incorporators or the Directors of the corporation may, with the written approval of the Commissioner of Corporations, make and file amended articles correcting such informality or defect or striking out such unauthorized matter, and thereupon the Commissioner shall issue under his hand and official seal an amended organization certificate, whereupon the original articles of association shall be deemed to be amended accordingly as of the date when such original organization certificate was issued, and the corporation shall then for all purposes be deemed to be a corporation with the organization and powers in the amended articles of association contained as and from the date of the issue of the original organization certificate.

Section 6—The organization certificate and any amended organization certificate issued by the Commissioner of Corporations pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be presumptive evidence of the existence of the corporation named therein in every court and place.

Holding of Stock of Other Concerns.

Section 7—The articles of association may contain any provision for the regulation of the business and the conduct of the affairs of the corporation, and any limitation upon its powers and upon the powers of its directors or stockholders which does not exempt them from the performance of any obligation or of any duty provided by law;

Provided, however, that such provision shall be approved by the Commissioner of Corporations. Any corporation organized hereunder may acquire and hold not less than a majority of the capital stock of a corporation organized under the laws of any State or Territory and engaged only in the manufacture within such State of articles or commodities which the corporation formed under this act uses or proposes to use in the interstate or international trade or commerce conducted by it. But no corporation formed pursuant to this act shall purchase, acquire, or hold stock in any other corporation otherwise than as above provided. No corporation formed pursuant to this act shall, by any implication or construction, be deemed to possess the power of carrying on the business of discounting bills, notes, or other evidence of debt, or of receiving deposits or buying or selling bills of exchange, nor shall it issue bills, notes, or other evidence of debt for circulation as money.

Section 8. The business of every such corporation organized hereunder shall be managed by its Directors, who shall, respectively, be shareholders therein. They shall be not less than five in number, and, except as hereinafter provided, they shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at the time and place provided in the by-laws, and shall hold office for one year, or until others are chosen and qualified in their stead; but by so providing in its articles of association or in amended articles adopted as herein provided, any corporation organized under this act may classify its Directors in respect to the time for which they shall severally hold office, the several classes to be elected for different terms:

Restrictions on the Directors.

Provided that no class shall be elected for a shorter period than one year or for a longer period than five years, and that the term of office of at least one class shall expire in each year. Any corporation which has more than one kind of stock may, by so providing in its articles of association, confer the right to choose the Directors of any class upon the stockholders of any class or classes to the exclusion of the others. At least a majority of the Directors shall, at all times, be citizens of the United States and bona fide residents therein. The articles of association or any amended articles adopted as herein provided may provide that the powers of the Board of Directors shall be exercised by an Executive Committee composed of not less than three Directors, which committee shall have and may exercise all of the powers of the board, except when the board is in session, and may also provide that the members of the Board of Directors other than those constituting the Executive Committee shall not be liable in any respect except for the exercise of good faith and due diligence in respect to matters brought before meetings of the Boards of Directors duly held and attended by them.

Section 9.—The incorporators named in any articles of association before the payment of any part of the capital, and before beginning the business for which the coporation was created, may surrender all their corporate rights and franchises by filing in the Bureau of Corporations a certificate signed by all the incorporators and verified by oath, stating that no part of the capital which has been paid in has been expended; that such business has not been begun, and no indebtedness has been contracted, and surrendering all rights and franchises, and thereupon the said corporation shall be dissolved.

Two Classes of Stock.

Section 10.—Every corporation organized under this act shall have power to create two or more kinds of stock of such classes with such designations, preferences, and voting powers and restriction or qualifications thereof as shall be stated and expressed in the articles of association, or in any amendment thereof, which shall be filed with the approval of the Commissioner of Corporations; and the power to increase or decrease the stock as in this act provided shall apply to all or any of such classes of stock, but at no time shall the total amount of preferred stock issued and outstanding exceed two-thirds of the capital stock paid for in cash or property, and any class of preferred stock may, if desired, be made subject to redemption at a price not less than the par value of said stock, if it have any par value, otherwise at not less than a price to be specified in the certificates of said stock; and the holders of such preferred stock shall be entitled to receive and the corporation shall be bound to pay thereon dividends at such rates and on such conditions as shall be stated in the articles of association or amended articles, quarterly, half yearly, or yearly, and such dividends shall be made payable before any dividends shall be set apart and made payable on the common stock, and such dividends may be made cumulative. But no preferred stock shall be authorized except as specified in the original articles of association, save with the consent of the holders of two-thirds of each class of stock outstanding at the time of such authorization, given at a meeting called to consider the same, of which not less than two weeks' notice shall have been given in the manner provided in Section 21 hereof. Every stockholder shall be entitled to a certificate signed by the officers of the corporation, designated for such purposes in the by-laws, certifying the number and class of shares owned by him in such corporation.

Record of Stock Ownership.

Section 11.—Every corporation organized under this act shall keep at its principal office a book to be known as a stock book, containing the names, alphabetically arranged, of all persons who are stockholders of the corporation, showing their places of residence, the class and number of shares of stock held by them, respectively, the time when they respectively became the owners thereof, and the amount paid thereon, which stock book shall at all times during the usual hours of business be open for the inspection of its stockholders, judgment creditors, and any officer authorized by law to investigate the affairs of such corporation. For any refusal to allow such book to be inspected such corporation and the officer refusing shall each forfeit the sum of $50, to be recovered in an action by the United States in the district where the principal office of the corporation is situated.

Section 12.—No transfer of stock shall be valid as against the corporation, its stockholders, and creditors, for any purpose, except to render the transferee liable for the debts of the corporation, according to the provisions of this act, until it shall have been entered in such book as required by this section, by an entry showing from and to whom transferred. The stock book of every corporation shall be presumptive evidence of the facts therein stated in favor of the plaintiff in any action or proceedings against such corporation, or any of its officers, Directors, or stockholders. The shares of stock in every such corporation shall be personal property and shall be transferred on the books of the corporation in such manner and under such regulations as the by-laws provide, and whenever any transfer of shares shall be made as collateral security, and not absolutely, it shall be so expressed in the entry of the transfer.

Subscriptions to Capital.

Section 13.—If the whole capital stock shall not have been subscribed at the time of filing the articles of association, the Directors named in the certificate may open books of subscription to fill up the capital stock in such places, and after giving such notice as they may deem expedient and may continue to receive subscriptions until the whole capital stock is subscribed. At the time of subscribing every subscriber whose subscription is payable in money shall pay to the Treasurer of the corporation 10 per centum of the amount of his subscription in cash, and such subscription shall be received or taken without such payment.

Section 14—The first meeting of every corporation shall be called by a notice signed by a majority of the incorporators, designating the time, place, and purpose of the meeting, which notice shall be published at least two weeks before the meeting in some newspaper of the county or town where the corporation is established; or said first meeting may be called without publication, if two days' notice be personally served on the incorporators; or if all the incorporators shall waive notice, in writing, and fix a time and place of meeting, no notice by publication shall be required. Unless the articles of association shall otherwise provide, the by-laws shall be adopted at the first meeting of the corporation.

Section 15. The Directors of every incorporation may from time to time make assessments upon the shares of stock subscribed for and assessable in cash not exceeding the whole par value thereof, or if such stock shall not be of par value then the amount subscribed and agreed to shall be paid for such stock, and the sums so assessed shall be paid to the Treasurer at such times and by such installments as the Directors shall prescribe, said Directors having given thirty days' notice of the assessment and time and place of assessment, personally or by mail or by publication in a newspaper of the county in which the corporation is established. If the owner of any shares shall neglect to pay any sum assessed thereon for thirty days after the time appointed for payment, the Treasurer, when ordered by the Board of Directors, shall sell, at public auction, such number of the shares of the delinquent owner as will pay all assessments thus due from him, with interest and all necessary incidental charges, and shall transfer the shares sold to the purchaser, who shall be entitled to a certificate therefor. Nothing but money shall be considered as payment of any part of the capital stock of any corporation organized under this act, except as thereinafter provided in Section 16 in the case of the purchase of property.

Stock Purchase of Property.

Section 16.—Any corporation formed under this act may purchase any property necessary for its business, and issue stock to the amount of the value thereof, as fixed by the Board of Directors, in payment therefor, and the stock so issued shall be fully paid stock, and the holder thereof shall not be liable in any event for any further payment with respect thereof to the use or for the benefit of the corporation or its creditors. The certificates of such stock shall contain a statement that the same is issued for property purchased and in all statements and reports of the corporation such stock shall be reported as having been issued in payment for property purchased; provided, however, that before any such stock is issued there shall be filed in the Bureau of Corporations a statement in writing, signed and sworn to by a majority of the members of the Board of Directors, setting forth:

The said approval by the Commissioner of the value of said property shall be conclusive as against the corporation and stocksolders and creditors, but in case any statement required by this section shall be false or inaccurate in any material respect, the directors uniting in said statement shall be jointly and severally liable to all purchasers of such stock for any damage by reason of the purchase of said stock in reliance upon the truth of such statement, and in any action to recover such damages brought by any purchaser of such stock except one of such directors or his personal representatives, it shall be presumed that all stock issued and sold after such statement was filed, as in this section provided, was purchased in reliance upon the truth of such statements, and the burden shall be upon the defendants to show that the purchaser had no knowledge of and did not rely upon such statements.

Reports to the Government.

Section 17—Every corporation formed pursuant to this act shall file in the Bureau of Corporations within sixty days after the first day of January in each year a report of the condition of said corporation at the close of business on the thirty-first day of December preceding, in such form as the Commissioner of Corporations shall from time to time prescribe, which report shall be verified by the oath or affirmation of the President or Treasurer of such corporation, and attested by the signature of at least three of the Directors.

A—A full description of the property in payment for which the stock is to be issued.

B—The number of shares agreed to be issued in payment for said property, and whether or not such shares are to have a par value, and, if, so, the aggregate par value of the stock so issued.

C—The names and addresses of the vendors of the property purchased or acquired by the company, or proposed to be so purchased or acquired with the stock so issued, and whether or not they or any of them are officers or Directors of the company, and whether or not they are owners in their own name or otherwise of any shares of stock in the corporation, and, if so, how many of such shares.

D—The terms of any existing agreement, verbal or written, for the transfer of such property to the corporation and the parties to all such agreements, and particularly the amount paid or payable as purchase money in cash or shares for such property, specifying any amount payable for good will, and all amounts paid or intended to be paid for such property to each vendor; and in case any written contract has been made with such vendor, or any of them, a sworn copy thereof shall be filed with such statement.

E—In case the vendors of said property, or any of it, are Directors of the corporation or owners of any of its stock in their own names, or otherwise, a statement of the prices paid or agreed to be paid by them for the property so to be sold or transferred to the corporation, and copies of all contracts by which the said vendors of said property to the corporation acquired the ownership or the control thereof.

F—In case the stock to be issued in payment for said property shall have a par value, there shall be filed with such statement in the Bureau of Corporations an appraisement of the value of such property made by two disinterested appraisers, approved in writing by the Commissioner of Corporations, and the Commissioner may, in his discretion, appoint one or more other appraisers to make valuations of such property, and shall fix the compensation of such appraisers, which shall be paid by the corporation before the approval of the issue of such stock, and no stock having a par value shall be issued in payment of property purchased or acquired by the corporations to any amount of such par value in excess of the value of said property as approved by the Commissioner of Corporations after such appraisement.

The Commissioner of Corporations shall also have power to call for special reports from any particular corporation whenever, in his judgment, the same are necessary in order to secure a full and complete knowledge of its condition. In addition to such reports, every corporation organized under this act shall report to the Bureau of Corporations, within ten days after declaring any dividend, the amount of such dividend and the class or classes of stock on which payable, and the amount of net earnings in excess of such dividends; which report shall be attested by the President or Treasurer of such corporation.

Every corporation which shall fail to make and transmit any report required by this section shall be subject to a penalty of $100 for each day after the period therein mentioned that it delays in transmitting its report to be recorded by the United States. All sums of money collected for penalties under this section shall be paid into the Treasury of the United States.

Section 18.—Upon payment of every installment of capital stock, and of every increase thereof, a certificate stating the amount of the capital so paid and whether paid in cash or property, stating also the total amount of capital stock, if any, previously paid and reported, shall be filed in the Bureau of Corporations within thirty days after such payment shall have been made, which certificate shall be signed and sworn to by the President or Vice President and Secretary or Treasurer. If such officers shall neglect or refuse to perform the duties prescribed in this section they shall be jointly and severally liable for all the debts of the corporations contracted after the date of such payment, and before the filing of such certificates.

Oath to be Taken by Directors.

Section 19.—Every Director when appointed or elected shall take an oath that he will, so far as the duty devolves upon him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of such corporations that he is the owner in good faith and in his own right of the number of shares of stock standing in his name on the books of such association specified in such affidavit, which shall be not less than ten of such shares; and that the same are not hypothecated or pledged as security for any loan or debt. Such oath, subscribed and certified by an officer thereunto duly authorized, shall be immediately transferred to the Bureau of Corporations, and shall be filed and preserved therein.

Section 20—If from any cause an election of Directors is not had at the time appointed, the corporation shall not for that cause be dissolved, but an election may be held on any subsequent day. Thirty days' notice thereof shall be given in a newspaper published in any town or county in which the principal office of the corporation is located, and if no newspaper is published therein, then in a newspaper published nearest thereto. If the by-laws do not fix the day on which the election shall be held, or no election is held on the day fixed, the day for such election shall be designated by the Board of Directors; or, if they shall fail to fix the day, the holders of two-thirds of the outstanding stock may do so. Any vacancy in the board shall be filled by appointment by the remaining Directors, and any Director so appointed shall hold his place until the next election.

Corporations May Make Changes.

Section 21.—Any corporation formed hereunder may, with the approval of the Commissioner of Corporations, by the vote of the holders of two-thirds of the stock of such corporation, increase its capital stock to an amount in excess of the limit fixed in its original articles of incorporation, and no increase of the capital stock of such corporation other than or beyond the limit fixed in its articles shall be made, except in the manner herein provided.

Any corporation formed hereunder may, with the approval of the Commissioner of Corporations, by vote of the holders of two-thirds of the stock of such corporation, reduce its capital stock to an amount not less than the minimum required in its articles of association, provided that the amount of such reduced capital shall not be less than the aggregate amount of the debts and liabilities of such corporation.

Every corporation organized under this act may, with the written approval of the Commissioner of Corporations, change the nature of the inter-State or international trade or commerce conducted by it, as specified in its original or amended articles of association, change its name or the location of its principal office, create one or more classes of preferred stock, or make any other amendment, change, or alteration which might have been contained in the original articles of association authorized by this act. Such increase or decrease in the capital stock, or other change, shall be authorized in the manner following:

The Board of Directors shall, by vote of a majority of the whole number of Directors, pass a resolution declaring that such increase or decrease or change or alteration is advisable, and calling a meeting of the stockholders to take action thereon; the meeting shall be held upon such notice as the by-laws provide, and in the absence of such provisions, upon notice given to all the stockholders of record, personally or by mail addressed to them at their last known Post Office address, not less than fourteen days before each meeting.

If two-thirds in interest of each class of the stockholders having voting powers shall vote in favor of such increase, decrease, amendment, change, or alteration a certificate thereof shall be signed by the President or Vice President and Secretary or Assistant Secretary under the corporate seal, acknowledged or proved as in the case of deeds of real estate, and such certificate shall be presented to the Commissioner of Corporations, and if he shall approve the same it shall be filed in the Bureau of Corporations, and thereupon and in case of increase or decrease of stock, upon compliance with the other provisions of this act, applicable thereto, the Commissioner of Corporations shall issue his certificate to such increase, decrease, amendment, change, or alteration under his hand and his own seal, and such increase, decrease, amendment, change, or alteration in all courts and places.

Penalty for Improper Dividends.

Section 22—The Directors of a corporation formed hereunder shall not make dividends except from its surplus or net profits arising from the business of such corporation, nor shall they divide, withdraw, nor in any way pay the stockholders or any of them any part of the capital stock of such corporation, or reduce its capital stock except as authorized by law.

In case of any willful or negligent violation of the provisions of this section, the Directors under whose administration the same may have happened, except those who may have caused their dissent therefrom to be entered at large upon the minutes of such Directors at the time, or who not then being present, shall have caused their dissent therefrom to be so entered upon learning of such action, shall jointly and severally be liable at any time within six years after paying such dividends to the stockholders of such corporation, severally and respectively, to the full amount of any loss sustained by such stockholders, or, in case of insolvency, to the corporation or its receivers to the full amount of any loss sustained by the corporation, by reason of such withdrawal, division, or reduction.

Section 23.—Every corporation formed hereunder shall have power to borrow money and contract debts when necessary for the transaction of its business or the exercise of its corporate rights, privileges, or franchises, and it may issue and dispose of its obligations for any amount so borrowed, and may mortgage its property and franchises to secure the payment of such obligations or of any debt contracted for said purposes, provided that no mortgage of its property or franchises shall be valid unless authorized by the vote of the holders of not less than two-thirds of the entire outstanding capital stock of the corporation given at a meeting duly called, pursuant to its by-laws, on at least fourteen days' previous notice given personally or by writing, mailed to each stockholder at his last known address, and by publication at least once in each week for two successive weeks prior to such meeting in one or more newspapers published at the place of the principal offices of the corporation, or if no newspaper be published at such place, then at the nearest place thereto, and a duly certified statement of which facts, signed and sworn to by the President or Vice President and Treasurer or Secretary of the corporation, shall have been filed in the Bureau of Corporations prior to the issue of the bonds or other obligations secured by such mortgages.

Mortgages Not Subject to Attack.

Whenever any mortgage affecting the property or franchises of the corporation, executed pursuant to the provisions of this act, recites or represents in substance or effect that the execution of such mortgage has been duly consented to or authorized by such stockholders, said recital or representation of such mortgage, after public record thereof in the State or States in which the property of the mortgagee is situated, and filing in the Bureau of Corporations, shall be presumptive evidence that the execution of such mortgage was duly and sufficiently consented to, and authorized by stockholders as required by law.

If any such mortgage shall have been publicly recorded for more than one year in one or more of the counties in the State in which the mortgaged premises or any part thereof is situated, and the corporation shall have received value for bonds or either obligations actually issued and secured by such mortgage, such recital in the mortgage so recorded shall be sufficient evidence that the execution of said mortgage was duly authorized and consented to by said stockholders as required by law, and its validity shall not be impaired by reason of any defect or insufficiency in the consents, votes, or authorization of such stockholders, and such mortgage shall be valid and binding upon the corporation as security for all valid bonds issued or to be issued thereunder unless such mortgage be adjudged invalid in an action begun hereunder, as provided in this section.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section the invalidity of any such mortgage because of insufficiency of consent by stockholders may be adjudged in any action for such purpose begun within one year after the earliest date of record of such mortgage in any county in any State in which any of the mortgaged property is situated; provided that such action shall have been begun by or on behalf of the corporation by direction of the Board of Directors acting in their own discretion or upon the written request of the holders of not less than one-third of the capital stock of the corporation, and in any such action begun by or on behalf of the corporation the recitals in said mortgage shall be presumptive evidence only of the recitals therein above mentioned.

Whenever hereafter, in compliance with this act, the officers of any corporation formed hereunder shall have made and filed and recorded a certificate that the execution of a mortgage hereafter made by a corporation has been duly consented to by the stockholders, such certificate shall be conclusive evidence as to the truth thereof in favor of any and all persons who in good faith so receive or purchase for value any bond or obligation of such corporation issued under said mortgage.

Any corporation organized hereunder may guarantee the bonds of any other corporation engaged in the same general line of business, but only if such guarantee shall have been previously authorized by the vote of holders of not less than two-thirds of the capital stock given at a special meeting called for that purpose by a notice in writing specifying the time, place, and object of the meeting, and served upon each of the stockholders appearing as such upon the books of the corporation, personally or by mail, at his last known address at least fifteen days prior to such meeting, and a certificate of such fact under the hands of the President or Vice President and Treasurer or Secretary of the corporation filed in the Bureau of Corporations prior to the execution of such guarantee.

Rules for Voting of Stock.

Section 24. The holders of every share of capital stock of the par value of $100, and of every share of such stock without par value, unless otherwise provided in the articles or amended articles of association, shall be entitled to one vote at meetings of the stockholders of the corporations. Stockholders may vote in person or by proxy in writing, and every corporation may determine in its by-laws the manner of calling and conducting all stockholders' meetings; what number of stockholders shall attend there in person or by proxy, or what number of shares or stockholders shall be represented in such meeting in order to constitute a quorum, provided in no case shall more than a majority of shares or amount of interest be required to be represented at any meeting in order to constitute a quorum; and provided further that no proxy shall be valid for a period of more than eleven months from the date of its execution.

Sec. 25.—The Inspectors of Election of every corporation formed hereunder shall be appointed in the manner prescribed in the by-laws, but the Inspectors of the first election of Directors shall be appointed by the Board of Directors named in the articles of association. If any Inspector so named shall refuse to serve or neglect to attend at the meeting or his office become vacant, the meeting may appoint an Inspector in his place, unless the by-laws otherwise provide. The Inspectors appointed to act at any meeting of the stockholders shall be respectively sworn to faithfully perform the duties of Inspector at such meeting with strict impartiality, and recording to the best of their ability, and the oath so taken shall be subscribed by them, and immediately filed in the Bureau of Corporations, with a certificate of the result of the vote taken thereat.

Liability of Stockholders.

Section 26.—Every holder of capital stock in any corporation formed hereunder issued upon subscription payable in cash shall be personally liable to its creditors to an amount equal to the amount unpaid on such stock held by him for debts of the corporation contracted while such stock was held by him. The stokholders of every corporation formed hereunder shall jointly and severally be personally liable for all debts due and owing to any of its laborers, servants, and employes other than Directors for services performed by them for such corporation.

Service in Lawsuits.

Section 27—No civil suit shall be brought against any corporation organized hereunder by any original process or proceeding except in a court of the United States in the district in which the principal office is located or in a district in which it shall be found at the time of serving such process or commencing such proceeding. Every such corporation shall, by written power of attorney, appoint some person residing within every judicial district in which it maintains an office or regular agency for the transaction of its business, who shall be a citizen of the United States and a resident of such district, as its agent upon whom may be served all lawful process against said corporation, and who shall be authorized to enter an appearance on its behalf. A copy of such power of attorney, duly certified and authenticated, shall be filed with the clerk of the Circuit Court of the United States for such district, which copy, or a certified copy thereof, shall be legal evidence in all controversies arising under this act. If any such agent shall be removed, resign, or die, become insane, or otherwise incapable of acting, it shall be the duty of such company to appoint another agent in his place, as hereinbefore prescribed, and until such appointment shall have been made, or during the absence of any agent of such company from such district, service of process may be upon the clerk of the court wherein such suit is brought, with like effect as upon an agent appointed by the company. The officer executing such process upon such clerk shall immediately transmit a copy thereof by mail to the company and state such fact in his return. A judgment, decree, or order of the court entered or made after service of process as aforesaid shall be as valid and binding on such company as if served with process in said district.

Dissolution of Corporations.

Sec. 28—A corporation organized under this act may go into liquidation and be dissolved by vote of its shareholders owning two-thirds of its stock. Whenever a vote is taken to go into liquidation it shall be the duty of the Board of Directors to cause notice of this fact to be certified under the seal of the corporation by the Treasurer, and filed with the Bureau of Corporations, and public notice thereof to be given for a period of two months by publication in a newspaper of the town or county where such corporation has its principal place of business, or if no such newspaper is published in such town or county, then in a newspaper published at a place nearest thereto, to the effect that the corporation is closing up its affairs, and notifying its creditors to present their claims against the corporation for payment.

Section 29—A corporation organized hereunder may sell and transfer all of its property of any and every kind for a consideration payable wholly or in part in cash or wholly or in part in the capital stock of any other corporation organized hereunder, with the previous consent of the holders of not less than 80 per centum of each class of stock then outstanding given at a meeting called to consider the same, whereof notice shall be given in person or by mailing to all the stockholders not less than thirty days prior to such meeting, and by publication in newspaper published at the place of the principal office of the corporation at least once in each week for four consecutive weeks immediately preceding such meeting; provided that a sworn copy of the terms of such sale, accompanied by copies of any contracts or agreements entered into with respect thereto and the names and addresses of all parties interested therein, shall be filed in the Bureau of Corporations and in the office of the Secretary of the corporation at least thirty days prior to such meeting. A certified copy of the minutes of such meeting, together with proof of the notice required by this section, shall be filed in the Bureau of Corporations with all consistent speed thereafter, and the said sale and transfer shall not be valid without the written approval of the Commissioner of Corporations and shall not be given except upon proof that all creditors of the corporation are satisfied and that the terms of such sale and transfer are adequate and just to the stockholders.

Receivers Can be Appointed.

Section 30.—Whenever any corporation formed hereunder shall have failed to pay off any of its written obligations at the time and place as the same are payable, or an execution against its property shall have been returned unsatisfied, the Commissioner of Incorporations may appoint a special agent of whose appointment immediate notice shall be given to such corporation, who shall proceed forthwith to ascertain whether or not the said corporation is in such an unsound financial condition as to make it inexpedient that it should continue in business, and if upon such report made the Commissioner of Corporations is satisfied that the said corporation is either insolvent or of such unsound financial condition as to make its continuance in business contrary to the public welfare he may forthwith appoint a receiver of such corporation and require of him such bond or other security as he deems proper. Such receiver, under the direction of the Commissioner, shall take possession of the books, records, and assets of every description of such corporation, collect all debts and claims due to it, and upon the order of a court of competent jurisdiction may sell all property of the corporation or as much thereof as may be necessary to pay the debts of such corporation. The Commissioner shall upon appointing a receiver cause notice of such appointment, and require all persons having claims against such corporation to present the same in writing, duly verified, to the receiver within a time in such notice specified not less than thirty days from the date of the first publication of such notice, to be given by publication in one or more newspapers published at the place of the principal office of such corporation, or if none be published at such place, then at the nearest place thereto.

Sec. 31. From time to time the Commissioner shall make ratable dividends of the money so paid over to him by such receiver on all such claims as may have been proved to his satisfaction or adjudicated in a court of competent jurisdiction, and as the proceeds of said corporation are paid over to him shall make further dividends of all claims previously proved or adjudicated, and the remainder shall be paid over to the shareholders of the corporation or their legal representatives in proportion to the stock of such corporation held by them.

Appeal from Receiverships.

Section 32.—Whenever a corporation against which proceedings have been instituted, as in Section 30 of this act provided, denies that it is insolvent or in such unsound financial condition as to make its further continuance in business contrary to the public interest, it may at any time within ten days after it has been notified of the appointment of a receiver, as in said section provided, apply to the nearest Circuit or District Court of the United States to enjoin further proceedings in the premises, and such court after citing the Commissioner of Corporations to show cause why further proceedings should not be enjoined, and after the decision of the court or finding of a jury that such corporation is not insolvent or of such unsound financial condition as to render its further continuance in business contrary to the public interest, shall make an order enjoining the Commissioner of Corporations and any receiver acting under his direction from all further proceedings on account of such alleged insolvency or unsound condition. All expenses of any preliminary or other examination of the condition of such corporation shall be paid out of the assets of such corporation before the distribution of the proceeds thereof.

Section 33—No corporation formed hereunder shall be subject to any visitorial powers other than such as are authorized by this act or are vested in the courts of the United States.

Section 34—All corporations not organized and transacting business under this act are prohibited from using the words "National corporation" as a portion of the name or title of such corporation, and any violation of this prohibition committed from and after the passage of this act shall subject the party chargeable therewith to a penalty of $50 for each and every day during the continuance of such violation, to be recovered in an action by the United States in the district where the principal office of the corporation is situated.

Corporations formed hereunder may be adjudged bankrupts, either voluntary or involuntary, subject to the provisions of the National bankruptcy law.

Congress Can Repeal Charter.

Section 35.—The charter of every corporation formed hereunder shall be subject to alteration, suspension, and repeal in the discretion of the Congress, and the Congress may at pleasure dissolve any such corporation.

This act may be amended or repealed at the pleasure of Congress, and every corporation created under this act shall be bound by such amendment, but such amendment or repeal shall not take away or impair any remedy against such corporation or its officers for any liability which shall have been previously incurred. This act, and all amendments thereof, shall be part of the charter of every corporation formed hereunder except so far as the same are inapplicable and impropriate to the objects of such corporations.

Section 36.—Nothing herein contained shall prevent the shares in any corporation formed under this act from being included in the valuation of the personal property of the owner or holder of such shares in assessing taxes imposed by the authority of the State in which the principal office of such corporation is located. But no tax shall be imposed under State authority upon the franchise granted by this act to any corporation organized pursuant to its provisions.

The real and personal property of all such corporations shall, however, be subject to taxation for State, County, and municipal purposes in the State, Territory, or district where the same is located, but at no higher rate than other real and personal property in said State.

Section 37.—There shall be paid to the Commissioner of Corporations for the use of the United States the following fees:

Fees to the Government.

1. Upon the filing and approval of the original articles of association, an amount equal to one-twentieth of 1 per cent. of the total capital of such corporation authorized in its articles, and upon filing any certificate of increase of the capital stock, an amount equal to one-twentieth of 1 per cent. of the total amount of such increase.
2. In case a corporation is formed hereunder all or a part of whose capital stock is to have no par value, then there shall be paid, upon the filing of the original articles of association or of any certificate of increase, a tax equal to five-tenths of one mill for each aliquot part of the capital of the corporation represented by each of the shares not having a par value.
3. Upon the filing of a certificate of the execution of a mortgage and the issue of bonds, a fee equal to one half of one mill for each dollar of indebtedness authorized to be secured by such mortgage.
4. For every other report, certificate, or other statement required to be filed, the sum of $1.

SHANLEY ALIMONY STANDS.

Though His Former Wife Is Now Mrs. Bucknam, He Must Pay.

Papers filed with the County Clerk yesterday provide that James Roosevelt Shanley must pay his former wife, Adele Grace Shanley Bucknam, $40,000 a year for the rest of her life in spite of the fact that he made a separation agreement with her in 1906, that in the same year she obtained a divorce from him, and that she has since married another man. Shanley, too, has since married again. The intricacies of this matrimonial tangle are disclosed in a suit brought by John D. Lindsay of the law firm of Nicoll, Anable, Lindsay & Fuller as trustee of the former Mrs. Shanley, against Shanley, with her as a party to the suit, to recover $40,000 in interest alleged to be due under a separation agreement dated March 19, 1906, between the defendants, then husband and wife, and the plaintiff as trustee.

By this agreement it is alleged that Shanley stipulated to pay the trustee, for his wife's benefit, during her life or until the distribution of the estate of his father, Bernard M. Shanley, which is in trust, one-half of his net income under his father's will, not exceeding $40,000 each year.

On March 28, 1906, Mrs. Shanley brought a suit for divorce and received a decree on Oct. 21, 1906. On Dec. 20 of the same year, Shanley married again, though the papers do not give the name of his second wife. In January, 1907, he made his first payment of $40,000 to his former wife, and less than a month later—Feb. 9, 1907—the first Mrs. Shanley married Clifford Bucknam.

When January, 1908 came around Shanley refused to pay the second $40,000. She sued him through her trustee, John D. Lindsay, in February of that year, and Shanley, in his answer, set up ten separate defenses. Some of these were that the money was paid as alimony, and that it ceased on his former wife's remarriage; that it was his intention to transfer to her his right as a beneficiary of an express trust, which intention was a violation of the statute; that there was no consideration resting on him to pay her money after her remarriage; that if he was so bound by the agreement it was invalid, illegal, and against public policy.

The whole matter was referred to Morgan J. O'Brien as referee. He found for the plaintiff, and directed that a judgment of $40,000 for the year 1908, less certain sums agreed to, must be paid by Shanley.

PIANO BARGAINS

Often a customer, when being shown through our Exchange Department, will stop before some particular piano and ask "Is it new or second-hand?"

That indicates the EXCEPTIONALLY FINE CONDITION of our used pianos. Many of them are so nearly new that they would pass for new except to the expert.

Do you know of a single other house in New York where that is true?

We sell on easy payments and guarantee every piano that we sell.

SENATOR HILL HEADS FINANCE COMMITTEE

White Makes Him Successor to Allds—Friends of Cobb Are Disappointed.

DAVIS ON RULES COMMITTEE

Assignments in Assembly Also Are Announced—Anti-Hughes Men Again Control Important Places.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 12.—The contest for the Chairmanship of the Senate Finance Committee was settled when the Senate met this evening by the appointment of Senator Henry Wayland Hill of Erie to the place by Lieut. Gov. Horace White. The appointment was somewhat of a surprise. Friends of Senator George H. Cobb, the young and aggressive member of the upper house from the Jefferson-Oswego District, had been assured that the place would go to him when it became vacant through the election of Jotham P. Allds as President pro tem. of the Senate.

At the same time it was announced that Senator George Allen Davis, also of Erie, had been assigned to the place on the important Rules Committee left vacant through the death of Senator John Raines. This committee now will consist of Senators Allds, Davis, and Grady. Allds and Grady hold their places by virtue of being leaders of the majority and minority, respectively. In the case of Senator Davis and exception was made. Ordinarily the third place on this committee is given to the Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. Senator Davis is Chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the Senate.

It is a fact that both Senator Hill and Senator Davis have a seniority claim on the places awarded to them, and that Lieut. Gov. White, strictly speaking, followed precedent when he made the appointments. Senator Hill, at the last session, held the second place on the Senate Finance Committee. Senator Davis has more years of unbroken service in the upper house to his credit than any other member of the Senate majority.

Rumors of a Deal Heard.

For all that, the Capitol corridors became alive with gossip of a deal after the announcement had been made. One group had it that the preferment of the two Buffalo Senators was the price paid by the organization to bring Postmaster Fred Greiner of Buffalo, the Republican leader of Erie, who has been suspected of Hughes leanings, into line with the machine. Another group of gossippers remembered that William H. Hotchkiss, State Superintendent of Insurance, who recently has been investigating the affairs of the People's Mutual Life Insurance Association and League of Syracuse, in which the name of Lieut. Gov. White became involved, is connected with the organization in Erie County. Speaking of the committee announcements, Senator Allds, the new majority leader, said:

"The Lieutenant Governor himself made the changes, as he made up the list of committees last year. I prepared a list of changes which I favored and submitted it to the Lieutenant Governor. He did not adopt my suggestions. He himself served in the Senate ten years, and no doubt made the selections according to his personal feelings."

Other changes in Senate Committee necessitated by the death of Senators Raines, McCarren, and O'Neil were announced to-night by Lieut. Gov. White. To Senator Edgard T. Brackett of Saratoga the Chairmanship of the Codes Committee is given in place of Senator Hill, who takes charge of the Finance Committee. Senator Steven J. Stilwell of New York replaces Senator McCarren on the same committee, and Senator George L. Meade of Rochester is added to it.

Senator McCarren's place on the Judiciary Committee will be filled by Senator Howard R. Bayne of Richmond. Senator Thomas H. Cullen of Brooklyn will take the place of the late Kings County leader on the Cities Committee.

Senator Harden, who represents the old McCarren district in the Senate, is assigned to the Committees on Railroads and Commerce and Navigation. Senator Herbert P. Coates of Franklin, another new member, takes a position on the Judiciary, Internal Affairs, and Revision Committees. Senator Emerson of Warren retires from the Committee on Railroads and has a place on the Finance Committee. Senator Peacock of Herkimer is also assigned to the Finance Committee, retiring from the Forest, Fish, and Game Committee.

Assembly Appointments.

The assignments on standing committees of the Assembly, which were announced by Speaker Wadsworth when the lower house met this evening, include changes in the Chairmanship of eighteen committees, some of which are important. The changes were rendered necessary from the fact that with sixty-three new members nearly one-half of the personnel of the House is new.

The Chairmanship of the Cities Committee, which will be called upon to consider the proposed new charter for New York City, goes to James L. Whitley of Monroe, a member in the closest touch with the machine element in the House. Mr. Whitley was entitled to the place by virtue of seniority, having held the second place on the committee at the last session. Fred W. Hammond, Chairman last year, was not returned to the Assembly this year.

The Judiciary Committee, which will be called upon to deal with the Direct Nominations and Massachusetts Ballot bills, will be headed, as it was last year, by Jesse S. Phillips of Allegany, a strong opponent of the Governor's primary reforms. The membership of the committee is strongly anti-reform.

There have been few changes in the membership of the Committee on Gas, Electricity, and Water Supply, which last year killed off legislation recommended by Gov. Hughes to extend the supervision of the Public Service Commissions to telegraph and telephone companies and to strengthen the public utilities law generally. Assemblyman John R. Yale of Putnam, who for a number of years has been at the head of this committee, was reappointed by the Speaker.

Punishment was meted out to Assemblyman William M. Bennett of New York, who conducted the fight against the reelection of Ray B. Smith as Clerk of the Assembly. Mr. Bennett, though a third-year member, did not get any Chairmanship, while members of less service in the Assembly did. Perhaps to provide an outlet for the fighting proclivities of Mr. Bennett and of Assemblyman Lindon Bates, Jr., of the Twenty-ninth New York district, who made common cause with Mr. Bennett at the Republican Assembly caucus, assignments were given to both on the Committee on Gas, Electricity, and Water Supply, where they are destined to lead a forlorn hope when the committee comes to consider legislation affecting corporations, should they venture to assert themselves, for they will be heavily outnumbered by members whose friendliness to corporations in legislative matters is a matter of general comment at the Capitol.

Chanler Fares Well.

Of the Democrats former Lieut. Gov. Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, who this year is a member of the lower house from Dutchess County, fared very well for a new member. The Speaker assigned him to places on the Ways and Means and Judiciary Committees, both of which rank higher in importance than any of the regular working committees. On the former committee a place which ordinarily has gone to a Republican was given to the former Lieutenant Governor.

Assemblyman Robert S. Conklin of the Twenty-first New York District got the place on the Assembly Rules Committee which was held formerly by Beverly R. Robinson of New York. Mr. Robinson was not returned from his district. The Assembly Ways and Means Committee was increased this year by two members, making an aggregate of fifteen.

Majority Leader Merritt offered a resolution providing for the change which was passed unanimously at the night session.

Here is a list of the more important Chairmanships to which new men were assigned:

Cities—JAMES L. WHITLEY of Monroe.
Codes—JOSEPH M. FOWLER of Ulster.
Taxation and Retrenchment—FREDERICK J. GRAY of St. Lawrence.
Insurance—A. F. ALLEN of Chautauqua.
Banks—HARRISON C. GLORE of Kings.
Excise—SEYMOUR LOWMAN of Chemung.
Commerce and Navigation—W. G. MILLER of Nassau.
Internal Affairs—GEORGE H. WHITNEY of Saratoga.

WOULD LIMIT SALOONS.

Senator Brough's Bill Puts Maximum Number at One for 1,000 Persons.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 12.—A bill which if enacted will limit the number of saloons to one to every 1,000 of population was introduced to-night by Senator Brough of New York, who introduced last year the measure favored by the committee of fourteen.

The new bill penalizes the premises if there be two violations of the excise law. It also places the responsibility for the enforcement of the law upon the State Excise Department instead of the police force. Last year's provision legalizing Sunday liquor traffic in New York City within certain hours does not appear in the new measure.

WHITE SLAVE BILL PASSES.

House Acts on Measure Invoking Inter-state Commerce Power Against It.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Action looking toward the suppression of the "white slave" traffic in the United States was taken to-day, when the House passed a bill by the terms of which, if it is adopted by the Senate, it will be unlawful for any person to provide transportation from one State to another for any person connected with this traffic. The mere purchase of a ticket for a woman whereby she would be "enabled or assisted" to go from State to State under such conditions will render the purchaser liable to ten years' imprisonment, and a $5,000 fine. Alien women of this class are to be deported whenever they are discovered, and traffickers in them are to be excluded, deported, and punished.

"It is intended that this measure shall be drastic," declared Representative Bennet of New York, in charge of the measure and co-author of it. "This infamous 'white slave' traffic must be broken up, and the Immigration Committee believes the pending measure will survive every constitutional test to which it may be subjected."

Chairman Mann of the Committee on Inter-State and Foreign Commerce, who stated yesterday that he was not opposed to the bill, moved to recommit the measure, but the motion was lost by a vote of 86 to 174.

Whatever opposition there was to certain sections of the pending bill, few members seemed anxious to have themselves placed on record as voting against it, and only an oral vote was taken on its final passage. More than a dozen members availed themselves of the opportunity to denounce the "white slave" traffic while the measure was in debate.

The bill is the result of an investigation of traffic in alien women, made by the National Immigration Commission.

WHITE SLAVE STORY HEARSAY.

Turner Admits He Had No First-Hand Evidence—One Trafficker to Jail.

When George Kibbe Turner finished his testimony in the white slave investigation yesterday it was understood that he, like Prof. Jenks, had given the Grand Jury little more than a preliminary survey. It was said that he wrote his magazine article arraigning this city as a centre in the white slave traffic with no first hand evidence, and that he could give the investigators only the names of his informants. Assistant District Attorney Appleton will begin the presentation of specific cases to-day.

Mr. Whitman continues to express his determination to contribute all the assistance he can to the investigation started by Judge O'Sullivan, feeling that whether or not there be discovered in this city an organization of the traffic each separate conviction will help toward the discouragement of the practice. He summoned Inspector Hogan, Capt. Day of the Eldridge Street Station, Capt. Morris of the East Fifty-first Street Station, and Lieut. Ayres to his office yesterday to consult with them about such traffic.

In the Harlem Court yesterday Joseph Patterson of 246 West Houston Street was sentenced by Magistrate Butts to six months in the penitentiary on complaint of Julia Berber, 19 years old, who had been a manicurist in a Broadway hotel until Patterson drove her into the streets that she might bring him money.

She said he had beaten her into a state of fear and subjection, and that she would never have dared to come with her story to the police had not the two of them been arrested in a quarrel in which Detective Finn of the West 125th Street Station saw Patterson strike her.

SULLIVAN ON WHITE SLAVERY.

"Big Tim" Asks Senate at Albany to Order Investigation.

ALBANY, Jan. 12.—"Big Tim" Sullivan to-night called up his resolution which directs the Senate Judiciary Committee to investigate the white slave traffic in New York and report to the Senate on or before May 1. Senator Allds said that the same subject was being investigated by a special Grand Jury, and without reference to the merits of the resolution he believed the Senate should wait until the Grand Jury had concluded its work. He suggested that the resolution be referred to the Judiciary Committee.

"I only want to put the matter up to the Senate," said "Big Tim." "I never knew anything about this business until I read it in the papers. My district does not fear an investigation. And I want to say that you will find that no American of Irish descent will be found mixed up in it. My reason for calling up the resolution is to present the subject to the Senate and let it go at that."

Without objection the resolution was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Kings Republicans Lose 8,000.

According to the party enrollment figures in Kings County, given out yesterday by the Board of Elections, the Democratic Party there gained 400, while the Republican Party lost 8,000 in the last year. The enrollment is as follows: Democratic, 120,019; Republican, 87,206; Independence League, 5,771; Socialists, 2,654, and Prohibition, 511.

ASKS FOR CHANGES IN INSURANCE LAW

Hotchkiss Recommends That Prohibition of Rebating Be Extended to Fire Companies.

URGES CONTROL OF LLOYD'S

Business of Life Concerns Restored to Normal Volume—Proposes Limitation for Non-Resident Organizations.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 12.—An extensive scheme of legislation affecting fire insurance companies and casualty concerns is foreshadowed in the annual report of the Insurance Department, which was submitted to the Legislature at its session to-night by Supt. William H. Hotchkiss. One feature of the report is the recommendation that there be a period of "legislative peace" for the life insurance companies.

With regard to the life insurance business the report says that while there was for a time a considerable falling off in new writings as a result of the Armstrong law, enacted in 1906, normal conditions have been restored. Mr. Hotchkiss adds that the amendatory laws passed after the insurance investigation have had the salutory effect of bringing about a considerable saving in expense, a marked increase in assets, and a substantial addition to dividend participations.

Among recommendations made in the report in reference to the life insurance companies is the one that the limitation of new business which now is applied to domestic companies be extended to the non-resident concerns. He also recommends that life insurance companies be prohibited by law from issuing policies secured by deposits with the Insurance Department, and that provision be made to make the weekly premium payment system applicable at option on life policies for amounts not exceeding $3,000. Mr. Hotchkiss believes this would stimulate the demand for insurance among small wage earners.

Coupled with a demand that the Legislature provide for an increase in the examining force of the department, which now comprises thirty men, by seventeen or if possible twenty, is a statement that the department is far behind in the examination of fire and marine insurance companies. The department is responsible for the conduct of 200 New York companies and associations. The report shows that of this number fifty-three had not been examined in the last five years, and that from ten to twenty-three years have passed since eighteen of the concerns under the supervision of the department have had their affairs looked into.

One recommendation is that the Lloyd's associations now doing business in this State under licenses issued in 1892 be examined and definitely authorized to continue or prohibited from doing so. The report comments at some length on the scandals which have characterized this class of business during the last two decades.

With regard to fire insurance companies the suggestion is made that the provisions of law prohibiting rebating by life insurance agents, and giving the Superintendent discretion to refuse licenses, should be extended to fire insurance agents, and thus eradicate many of the evils recognized to exist in the fire insurance agency field. The report also discusses the general subject of the regulation of rates, and suggests that the State should begin to gather statistics, to the end that, if evils complained of in certain localities, due to the action of boards of fire underwriters, are found to exist, the State shall thus prepare itself to take over the supervision of fire insurance rates.

As to casualty companies, the report recommends that the uniform bill adopted at the recent convention of the Insurance Commissioners, which provides for standard clauses in the policies of such companies, and prohibits the use of other clauses which have been condemned by experience, be made a part of the insurance law of New York. The report also recommends amendments which will permit companies of this class to give a broader policy against accidents due to automobile collisions and to insure against property damage by horses and horse-drawn vehicles.

DELAYED LINER HEARD FROM.

Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm Making Headway Despite Broken Steering Gear.

The North German Lloyd liner Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm, which was disabled by an accident to her steering gear on Sunday, was reported yesterday at 1:30 A. M. as being 250 miles east of Cape Race.

Capt. E. Prehn sent this message to Gustav H. Schwab, American representative of the line: "Position at noon Tuesday, 47:50 north, 42:02 west. Day's run, 312 knots. All well."

Making an average of 300 miles a day the steamer should arrive here early Sunday morning. Until a survey of her damaged steering gear is made, it is impossible, the officials say, to determine whether she will be able to sail from here on Tuesday, as scheduled.

WRECKED ON A SPEED ORDER.

Engineer of Train That Killed Spencer Trask Instructed to Hurry.

Special to The New York Times.

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 12.—At the resumed inquest on Spencer Trask, the banker, who was killed in a wreck on the New York Central at Croton on Dec. 31, Eugene Flanagan, the engineer of the freight which ran into the Montreal express, testified that he received from Supt. F. T. Slack at Poughkeepsie this telegram:

> You have made very poor run with the train you have, considering its size and importance. What has been the cause of this poor time? Want you to try and do better, as your train is wanted in New York just as soon as possible. Second 62 is right behind you. F. T. S.

Second 62 was the Montreal express, which passed the freight later. Flanagan testified that in consequence of what was termed his "call down" he made the best speed he could and ran at about thirty miles an hour. The distance signal, he said, was set clear, and on account of the snow he did not see the express, which was standing still till he was within 300 feet of it. He applied his emergency brakes and reversed his engine, and was moving at only six miles an hour when the collision came. Flanagan said his train carried $1,000,000 worth of silk.

Bellew, the towerman, contradicted Flanagan in regard to the signal, asserting that it was set at "caution." He also disputed Fireman Knapp's testimony that the brakeman of the express train had gone back to flag the freight train.

FOR PUBLIC BATHS AT CONEY.

President Steers of Brooklyn Wants to Stop Overcharging There.

Borough President Steers of Brooklyn announced yesterday that he intended to put a stop to extortion by the bathhouse keepers at Coney Island. It is asserted that last Summer when there was a rush of bathers to the surf some of the keepers of the bathing places on the island raised the rate to a dollar a person, and crowded four bathers into each dressing room.

President Steers says that he will try to have the city build municipal bathhouses at Coney Island.

Transportation Advertising

380,929 agate lines of Railroad and Steamship advertising were published in The New York Times in 1909 as compared with 289,386 agate lines in 1908, a gain of 91,543 agate lines—a greater quantity of advertising and a greater gain than that of any other newspaper.

The supremacy of The New York Times as an advertising medium for transportation companies is due to its large circulation among those who have the means and who are accustomed to travel. It is purchased daily by more than 175,000 men and women, the most refined, cultured and prosperous clientele of any New York newspaper.

TALKS ON TEETH
BY
G. GORDON MARTIN, Inc.

What Are You Afraid Of?

Are you afraid to let us put a set of Martinolar teeth in your mouth?

Do you think it is a serious affair, and somewhat on the order of an operation?

Nonsense.

Get rid of that notion if you hold to it and come here prepared to pass a comfortable time. We don't bore or cut into the gums.

There is nothing to be afraid of, for it is practically a painless piece of work, and when it is done how much pleasure you will get out of the new teeth!

What a daily, hourly source of satisfaction will be yours, if you have been putting up with a partial plate, or one of those torturesome insanitary unscientific "bridges" that ruin good teeth and are useless to chew with in almost every case.

Martinolar teeth are built for business. They are put in the mouth in such a way as to distribute the work the teeth have to do, which is closely copying nature's plan.

All we require is that you have two or more teeth in the jaws.

With these to work from we supply all that are missing without the use of partial plates.

You can eat with them, talk with them, enunciate clearly, and will soon forget they are not natural teeth.

Will you put your time against ours, and allow us to make an examination of your mouth?

Free, of course, and no obligation to have work done unless you say the word.

Send for our free book if you cannot come at once. That will be a good start. The book will bring you to see us.

GAYNOR APPOINTS HERMAN ROBINSON

Labor Leader Is Chosen for License Commissioner at $5,000 a Year.

COL. SMITH REINSTATED

Mayor Insists That Justice Must Be Done in the Case at All Costs.

Mayor Gaynor yesterday appointed Herman Robinson, the labor leader, Commissioner of Licenses and instructed Park Commissioner Stover to reinstate Col. Clinton H. Smith as Assistant Secretary of the Park Board, from which place he was removed by Park Commissioner Smith just before he went out of office.

Mr. Robinson is one of the best known labor men in the city. In swearing him in the Mayor said:

"If all labor leaders had your silence, habit of thought and discretion, and always looked before they leaped it would be well for all of us."

Robinson succeeds John N. Bogart, who is also a labor man. The place pays $5,000 a year. Neither of them is identified with the Tammany organization, although both are Democrats, and Robinson has been a member of Tammany district clubs. Bogart has not stood well with the labor men of the city for some time, and several delegations, headed by William A. Coakley and Thomas J. Curtis, who were members of the Committee of One Hundred, had waited upon the Mayor to urge his displacement.

Robinson is one of the most popular labor leaders in the East. He is 46 years old and for several years has been general organizer of the American Federation of Labor in this district and the personal representative of Samuel Gompers in New York. He has been a delegate in the Central Federated Union for twenty years and its Financial Secretary since 1898.

In his letter to Commissioner Stover with reference to Col. Smith the Mayor said:

> Sir: Please take measures to reinstate Clinton H. Smith in his office of Secretary unless there is something that should be reported to me to the contrary, and his case can later on be calmly dealt with.
>
> That done in heat or haste is as a rule ill done. We must not only deal with people with justice, but also with the appearance of justice, the latter sometimes being as essential as the former.
>
> Very truly yours,
> W. J. GAYNOR, Mayor.

When Commissioner Smith made up his budget request for this year he asked the Board of Estimate to cut Col. Smith's salary from $4,000 to $2,000, contending that half of the amount had been paid to him as Secretary to the Commissioner and that this was superfluous in that he (the Commissioner) had his own secretary. The board overruled the Commissioner, however, and left the salary at $4,000.

When the budget went to the Aldermen the Commissioner again presented his request, and they made the cut. The Commissioner's secretary at the time was a brother of Percy Nagle, Tammany leader of the Thirtieth Assembly District. He afterward figured prominently in the investigation of the Commissioners of Accounts into the affairs of the Park Department. Then the Commissioner discharged Col. Smith at Christmastime.

When the Mayor shook hands with Col. Smith in the line that greeted him at City Hall on New Year's Day he said:

"So you are the man that has been in the Park Department for thirty years and discharged just before I came into office."

Turning to R. C. E. Brown, a member of the State Civil Service Commission, who followed Col. Smith in the line, the Mayor said:

"Here is something for us to look into."

As soon as Samuel Parsons, Jr., the landscape architect of the department, was placed in temporary charge after Commissioner Smith had resigned Col. Smith was temporarily reinstated. Now the Mayor is determined that the case shall be brought up on its merits and justice done.

Among the Mayor's callers yesterday were City Chamberlain Hyde, Water Commissioner Thompson, Commissioner Barry of the Department of Correction, and the "stockingless Duncans." The Duncans saw Secretary Adamson, but the Mayor was busy and they left without seeing him.

"We came to the City Hall," said the head of the family, "to see if there is no one in this town who might protect visitors from intrusion or insult from such organizations as the Children's Society. The Mayor was busy, and we did not see him. His secretary told us to write, but I am told that such letters seldom get attention."

As the trio proceeded toward the Subway they nearly created a riot in City Hall Park.

Ex-Controller Metz has been designated by the Mayor as New York's Commissioner to the American Exposition to be held in Berlin next Summer. He called yesterday to get his credentials. Mayor McClellan made the appointment some time ago, and it was only necessary for the new Mayor to confirm it.

Milk Inquiry Shifts to Albany.

Assistant District Attorney De Ford left town yesterday for Albany, where the investigation into the existence of a milk trust will continue to-day. In the Attorney General's office there, examination will be made into the part played by the up-State dealers. Mr. De Ford and Assistant District Attorney Stickney have attended one investigation for Mr. Whitman.

MRS. BELMONT'S CLUB OPENS.

She Announces the Beginning of Her Settlement House Endeavors.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont announced yesterday in a circular the opening of her suffrage settlement house at 84 East 111th Street. It is to be called the Harlem Club of the Political Equality Association, and visitors will be welcome. The Superintendent will be at the rooms every day from 8 to 6 and 8 to 10 P. M. to enroll members.

There are to be classes and clubs for men and women, debating and public speaking clubs, clubs for the study of the Government, the history of political parties, as well as woman suffrage. There will be classes for physical and voice culture, social and glee clubs. A concert will begin weekly. There is a complete civic and suffrage library, and there will be public lectures by prominent men and women, with afternoon clubs and classes for children. Rooms will be rented at a nominal sum to clubs interested in the study of woman suffrage.

The women at the suffrage headquarters denounce a statement made, they say, by frivolous men yesterday, that at a small fire in their 505 Fifth Avenue building the women suffragists were in a state of panic.

"There was nothing of the kind," said Mrs. Ida Husted Harper indignantly. "We heard there was a fire, in fact, some one said that woman suffrage was getting so hot that there had been spontaneous combustion, but there was no excitement of any kind. If there had been a serious fire we should not have been able to get out of the building, for the colored men who run the elevators deserted their posts. Mrs. Belmont walked down stairs to investigate and returned to say that the fire was confined to one floor, which was inundated with water. She then went back to her work. The rest of us had been working. There was no meeting going on here, as was stated, and no one was frightened."

NOTHING FOR MRS. M'CLELLAN

Father of ex-Mayor's Wife Left Her $100, but This Can't Be Paid.

The appraisal of the estate of John G. Heckscher, the father-in-law of ex-Mayor George B. McClellan and Egerton L. Winthrop, Jr., President of the Board of Education, filed yesterday in the Surrogates' Court, shows that his personal property when he died on July 4, 1908, amounted to $143,374. Prior to his death he transferred to his wife, Virginia Otis Heckscher, securities valued at $201,708. He left no real estate in this State.

Mr. Heckscher's will gives his two daughters by his first wife, Mary Travers Heckscher, bequests of $100 each. These daughters are Emmeline D. Winthrop and Georgiana L. McClellan.

After the provisions of the will have been carried out and a settlement made between three nephews and nieces, Mrs. Winthrop and Mrs. McClellan will not receive even 1 cent of these legacies. A suit was instituted by the United States Trust Company as executor against Mrs. Heckscher to recover for the estate the securities given to her. A settlement was effected before it came to trial by which several nephews and nieces—John G. Longer de Saulles, John C. Wilmerding, E. Coster Wilmerding, Matilda Van Rensselaer White, and Georgiana L. Wilmerding Phelps—accepted $15,000 each in lieu of bequests made them in the will.

Charles A. Heckscher, a brother, received by the will $17,975 and practically all the rest of the estate goes to Mrs. Heckscher. This includes a life interest in $100,000, a specific bequest of $50,000, and the residue.

Mr. Heckscher's library, which was famous for its collection of sporting books, he at first left to several public libraries in this city. By a codicil, however, he revoked the bequest and ordered it sold at auction. The appraisal shows that the library brought $23,624.

LAYMEN IN STATEN ISLAND.

Missionary Movement Meeting There, Many Business Men Attending.

The Laymen's Missionary Movement, which will have a dinner of 2,000 covers at the Hotel Astor to-morrow evening and a mass meeting at the Hippodrome on Sunday afternoon, invaded Staten Island yesterday, holding a meeting at Christ Church, New Brighton.

More than 500 Staten Island business men who are interested in foreign missions attended the meeting. William Jay Schieffelin, President of the Citizens' Union, and Dr. M. D. Eubank were the principal speakers. Mr. Schieffelin told the Staten Islanders that the Laymen's Movement was another evidence of the awakening of the National conscience.

"Those of us who are in the drug business can testify to the great benefit that has resulted from the enactment of the food and drug act three years ago," Mr. Schieffelin said. "The act required that all goods shall be truly labeled. The Laymen's Missionary Movement is a sort of spiritual honest labeling act. After it visits a city the Christian business men there are ashamed to admit that they are not supporters of foreign missions.

"World evangelization is being presented by the movement as a practical project. No practical business man can deny that the world will be benefited by increasing in it a spirit of peace and good will. All the different sects and churches, too, are becoming united in the movement. The movement thus is advancing two of the greatest desires of Jesus Christ—the spread of the Gospel and the unity of the Christian Church."

At a meeting this evening at Church House, 171st Street, near Third Avenue, Mornay Williams and Dr. S. M. Zwemer will speak.

WALDO ABOLISHES A FINE CITY STABLE

Learned on Inspection Tour That an Extravagant Equipment Was at His Disposal.

A VARIETY OF TURNOUTS

Brewster Brougham, Phaeton, Automobile, and Other Vehicles Now to be Sold at Public Auction.

Fire Commissioner Waldo discovered yesterday an elaborate private stable which has been maintained by the city for the personal convenience of the head of the department. He immediately ordered it abolished and the costly vehicles which it contained sold at public auction.

The new Commissioner was making a tour of inspection when the driver who was showing him about asked if he would not like to look over the Ninety-ninth Street stable.

"What is that?" asked the Commissioner.

"Why, the Commissioner's private stable," replied the driver.

"Yes, I guess we'd better take a look at it," said Waldo.

He was then driven to a four-story building in West Ninety-ninth Street, near Amsterdam Avenue, where he found that the three upper floors were utilized as a kind of veterinary hospital for sick and disabled horses, but on the ground floor he found an exhibit of turnouts about as complete as any millionaire's. There was a big Brewster, plush upholstered brougham, worth at least $2,500; a phaeton, which could not be bought for less than $2,000; a buggy, which could be driven single or double, worth at least $800; a Concord wagon with small wheels and single seat, such as sells for about $1,000; a sleigh worth at least $500, and an electric runabout automobile, more or less out of commission, which cost at least $800 when new. There were also six or seven sets of harness, worth from $100 to $400 each; a span of excellent chestnut horses, and two spare horses with a driver and three stablemen in charge.

As soon as the Commissioner got back to Headquarters he ordered the stable abolished. The stablemen will be transferred to useful places and the horses distributed in the department where they are needed. The harness will be sent to the Supply Bureau. The collection of vehicles will go under the hammer.

It is understood that the private stable had been maintained by the city through the administration of several Commissioners. It is remembered that when John H. O'Brien was first promoted from secretary to the Mayor to Fire Commissioner he was seen riding about in an electric runabout.

Commissioner Waldo said that he would follow the same policy in disposing of every superfluous thing in the department that he runs across.

It is expected that within a few days the new Commissioner will begin to wield his axe among the employes of the department. He has found a great many men in his office and its branches for whom there is little if anything to do, and he is determined to get rid of every man that is not actually needed.

Ex-Fire Commissioner Nicholas Hayes said last night that most of the luxurious vehicles in the private stable were originally the property of John Scannell, who was Fire Commissioner during the Van Wyc administration.

"They were Scannell's personal property," said ex-Fire Commissioner Hayes. "He bought them and paid for them, I believe, out of his own pocket. When he left the department he left the rigs in the stable and never claimed them; so they have always been used by the Fire Commissioners and their deputies ever since."

"Isn't it rather odd that ex-Fire Commissioner Scannell should have been so careless about expensive personal property if he paid for the carriages out of his own pocket?" ex-Fire Commissioner Hayes was asked.

"It wasn't an odd thing for a man lle Scannell to do," replied ex-Fire Commissioner Hayes. "I admit that one of the phaetons was bought during my administration. The one that I had used before was so ricety that I was afraid it would go down with me. So another was bought. It was paid for by the Fire Department. A brougham which was given to me was kept in the stables for a time. I took it away with me when I went out o foffice."

HARRIS HAS NOT RESIGNED.

President of the Burlington Road Denies Report of His Retirement.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—A report from Denver that President George B. Harris of the Burlington Railroad had resigned and would be succeeded by Darius Miller, now First Vice President of the road, was denied to-day by Mr. Harris and Mr. Miller.

"I have nothing to say about the rumor," said Mr. Harris, "except that I have not resigned."

"There is absolutely no truth in the report," said Mr. Miller. "The resignation of Vice President Willard a short time ago possibly inspired the report."

New Federal Grand Jury Sworn.

A new Federal Grand Jury was sworn in yesterday before Judge Hand in the United States Circuit Court. Its members are:

Elbert, insurance, 326 West Fifty-seventh Street; Charles Miles, secretary, 327 West Thirty-fourth Street; James J. Lombard, 47 East 128th Street; Willis P. Thomas, manager, 33 East Twenty-seventh Street; John D. Lange, 47 West Forty-second Street; James R. Thomas, real estate, 247 Sixth Avenue; Otto S. Wyler, manager, 44 Wall Street; Homer A. Holt, secretary, 40 Exchange Place; William H. Graham, retired, 131 West Thirty-fifth Street; Charles T. Galloway, builder, 646 Hudson Street; Clarence Hartman, furniture, 111 West 11th Street, and Charles H. Gibbs, broker, 17 Jay Street.

Striking Nursemaids Dropped.

As a result of the strike of the nursemaids of the Nursery and Child's Hospital at Lexington Avenue and Fifty-first Street, the offenders were formally dropped yesterday and two trained nurses who had expressed sympathy for them were dropped as well. Supt. Hunt said that twenty-six nursemaids were dismissed. One striker who appeared to ask for reinstatement was put to work. Miss Hunt said she had 100 children in the hospital, and, though handicapped in taking care of them, she expected to have a new force in a day or two.

GIRLS AS EXHIBITS IN A CLOAK TRIAL

Six Models Brought from St. Louis to Show What a Perfect Figure Should Be.

DISTRACTION FOR THE JURY

One Member Nearly Falls Off His Chair to Get a Better View of Assorted Sizes.

Six cloak models, each supposed to be a perfect specimen of feminine beauty for her stature, figure in the trial of a suit before Supreme Court Justice Gavegan. The presence of the models, all modishly attired and wearing expensive flowers, attracted a curious crowd to the court room yesterday afternoon.

The models will be called to the stand to-day by Frank E. Carstarphen, attorney for Thomas W. Garland, a St. Louis coat and suit maker, who is being sued by Isaac V. Plaut and Isaac Bamberg, New York jobbers, who allege that a consignment of coats and Eton jackets sent by Garland were unmerchantable; Plaut and Bamberg are suing to recover money advanced for the manufacture of the garments, which they returned to Garland. The garments were made for this Winter's trade.

The models range from a tall, Titian haired blonde down to a petite brunette, who was model for "misses' garments." The tall blonde was dressed in a tailor-made gown of DuBarry rose hue, trimmed with fur, and wore a brown fur turban. On her bosom—which Lawyer Carstarphen whispered was a "perfect thirty-six"—was a cluster of pale pink tea roses, with stems between thirty and forty inches long. The jury stopped listening to the testimony as she removed a fur coat chrysalis on her entrance into the court room.

The "misses' model" wore a severely cut blue suit which suggested boarding school, with a little Battenberg lace collar, just below which, in a little cup of bright green leaves, nestled a spray of lilies of the valley.

One of the "in-between" models was all in white. She had a big ermine muff which she dangled from her lap, and a great, fluffy ostrich plume rippled over her fur felt picture hat every time she nodded her golden head. A little juryman on the top bank of the jury box nearly fell out trying to get a better view of her.

The models came from St. Louis. Plaut and Bamberg have instructed their counsel to cross-examine the models on their specifications to serve as "manikins" for stylish garments, and piquant testimony as to the essentials of a stylish figure is expected to-day.

To checkmate King Winter

You can checkmate the furious old Winter King by sweeping old-fashioned heating methods off the boards, and replacing them by a modern heating outfit of

AMERICAN & IDEAL
RADIATORS BOILERS

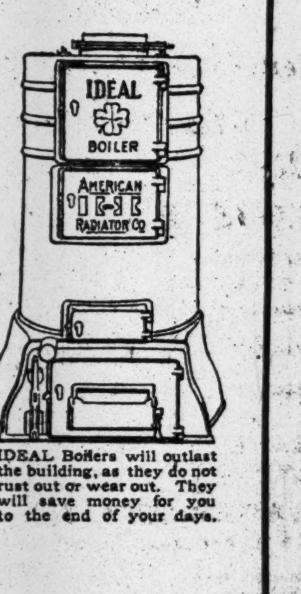
These up-to-date outfits will enable you to get rid of days that are checkered with varying room temperatures, ranging from overheated in spots to lukewarm and frigid in corners.

IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators for Hot-Water and Low-Pressure Steam heating have absolutely no equal, considered from the standpoint of fuel economy, perfect heat control, labor-saving, non-repairs, and durability equal to the life of the building.

ADVANTAGE 12: Where a poor quality of hard coal is employed, and particularly where soft coal or coke is used, the slicing-door of IDEAL Boilers will be found most useful. It is placed on a level with grate, and through the door a poker or slicing-bar may be run and the ashes or clinkers may be cleaned away from or dropped through the grates without too greatly agitating the hot coals above. This is a particularly economical feature in the moderate winter weather when the fire needs just a little agitation to keep the ashes from accumulating too thickly, so that a very little fire in the early morning or at night will take the chill off the rooms.

A No. 3-22 IDEAL Boiler and 400 ft. of 38-in. AMERICAN Radiators, costing the owner $210, were used to Hot-Water heat this cottage, at which price the goods can be bought of any reputable, competent Fitter. This did not include cost of labor, pipe, valves, freight, etc., which installation is extra and varies according to climatic and other conditions.

Find out how this heating can be put into your building now, at small expense, and no tearing up. Ask for catalog, "Ideal Heating Investments."



IDEAL Boilers will outlast the building, as they do not rust out or wear out. They will save money for you to the end of your days.

HEIRESS AND WAITER ON WAY BACK HOME

Miss De Janon and Cohen Start for Philadelphia in Care of Detectives.

GIRL STILL LOYAL TO MAN

Says She Will Stand by Him Whatever Happens—Police Try to Smuggle Them Out of Chicago.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Roberta De Janon, the Philadelphia heiress, and Frederick Cohen, the hotel waiter with whom she disappeared from her home, started this afternoon in the custody of Philadelphia detectives on the return trip to Philadelphia, where they will arrive to-morrow night. They boarded a train at the Union station at 3:15 o'clock. Miss De Janon had a drawing room in one end of a car all to herself, while Cohen was assigned to a berth at the other end.

Miss De Janon and Cohen both were smiling when they entered the car. They were smuggled to the station. The detectives had announced that they would not leave Chicago until to-morrow, but are believed to have received orders during the day instructing them to start earlier. They purchased railroad tickets secretly in the morning and went to the Harrison Street Station shortly after 2 o'clock. A carriage was hired and at 2:30 o'clock Miss De Janon and Cohen were put into it and a hurried run to the Union Station was made. After the station was reached Miss De Janon and Cohen were led into the baggage room and by a freight elevator were taken into the parcel room. There they remained a few minutes and then they stole out to the passenger platform and boarded the train.

Miss De Janon was reluctant to talk to-day of her escapade. She insisted that she would stand by Cohen no matter what happened.

Cohen, when taken to the Harrison Street Police Station to-day, met Miss De Janon for the first time since he was arrested. Cohen pinched her cheek and said:

"I see by the papers that you appear to think more of your dog than you do of me."

"That is untrue," replied Miss de Janon. "You know I don't."

"I suppose they will give me about five years," said Cohen, "but I don't care. I had the pleasure of making you happy for a while, anyway. When you get back home don't tell anything but the truth; that is all I can do. I guess everything will come out all right. I treated you like my own daughter."

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12. — "If any prosecution is begun against Cohen it must be by private counsel," said District Attorney Rotan to-day in denying the report that he would assume personal charge of the prosecution and initiate proceedings against the waiter. "It is true," said the District Attorney "that I have been consulted by legal representatives of Mr. Buist regarding the case, but I gave no opinion on its merits. My office will not take any part in the prosecution unless the case is acted on by a Magistrate and a true bill found by a Grand Jury. Then it will be treated like any other case."

STORROW ACCEPTS DEFEAT.

Will Not Ask Recount in Boston Unless Revised Returns Show Change.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—No recount of the vote for Mayor of Boston will be asked for on the part of the principal defeated candidate, James Storrow, if the revised official returns show the same plurality for ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald as was announced at the City Hall last night. In the face of the early evening returns following the election Mr. Storrow declared he would ask for a recount, as his figures showed but 191 plurality for the winner. To-night Mr. Storrow said he would not ask for a recount if Mr. Fitzgerald's lead of some 1,415 is maintained.

Recount papers have been taken out as a precaution, however, by the manager of Mr. Storrow's campaign and are being circulated. It is necessary to procure fifty signers in each of the twenty-five wards, and the papers must be filed by 5 o'clock Friday night.

The Councilmanic election will not go uncontested, as already four of the defeated candidates have taken out recount petition papers.

The newspapers, none of which supported Mr. Fitzgerald during the campaign, to-day showed a general disposition to avoid unfavorable criticism as to the result of the election, and expressed the hope that his administration might be free from the scandals which characterized his former term as Mayor.

Mississippi Deadlock Continues.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 12.—The thirteenth and fourteenth ballots of the Senatorial caucus showed little change. Vardaman had seventy-two votes on the fourteenth, and the caucus adjourned until to-morrow.

NEW GERRY SUPERINTENDENT

Walsh to Succeed Jenkins—Stillman Baker and M. L. Schiff New Directors.

Thomas D. Walsh was elected Superintendent of the New York Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children yesterday at the annual meeting of the society in its building at 297 Fourth Avenue. Mr. Walsh was employed by the society as a clerk in 1895. At 21 years of age he was made Chief Clerk, and later Assistant Secretary. He is now 33 years old.

J. Hampden Robb, a Director, was elected Vice President to fill the place of the late Darius O. Mills. George F. Baker was elected a Director in Mr. Robb's place. James Stillman was made a Director in place of the late Edward H. Harriman, and Mortimer L. Schiff in place of his father, Jacob H. Schiff, resigned. George G. Haven, Jr., was elected Secretary.

LITTLE BOYS AT PLAY SHOT BY A LUNATIC

stranger ran away up Edgecombe Avenue, Arthur Shibley thought.

Arthur Shibley was not killed instantly. The murderer had held his pistol a little on one side, and the bullet did not reach his heart. It glanced downward, passed through the boy's intestines, and out through his back. He fell down, screaming, and then tried to get up. He found he could rise, and did. He could not see a single person.

"Mother, mother, I'm shot!" he began calling.

Wounded Boy Staggers Home.

He straggled across a stretch of rough rocks to Lovers' Lane, and, leaving a red trail along that pathway, ran staggering up to Edgecombe Avenue, clasping both hands over his wound. There was now only a vacant lot and a street to cross before he got home. He limped on, still calling out as if his mother could hear him:

"Mother, mother, I'm shot; help me!"

He staggered into the front door of his home crying that out. It aroused Mary Koevacics, the janitress, who came rushing up from the basement. Three flights the little boy had to climb, and did it, falling against the door finally, still crying out. His mother, his grandmother, and his brothers and sisters ran to the door, and his mother grabbed him into her arms and raced with him to a bed.

"He shot Robbie, too, mother, and Robbie is still out there," the child told her.

Then came a rush of neighbors. A neighborhood doctor was called in, an ambulance came from the Washington Heights Hospital, and the boy was taken there under care of Dr. Smirnoff. On the way over he said to the doctor:

"The man shot Robbie, too, you know. I did not see him coming behind me, and so I guess he's dead. Is Robbie dead?"

His mother followed him to the hospital, and later came his father, Ameen Shibley, the druggist. The doctors operated on him at once, but it was said last night that he could hardly recover.

Meanwhile the janitress had been thinking of the other boy's mother. She hammered on the Lomas door and found out from a child that Mrs. Lomas was across the street visiting a neighbor. She ran over there as fast as she could and told what she knew. Together, she and the mother, went to the hillside to find Robbie.

Mother Finds Her Dead Son.

They didn't know exactly where to begin the search, but the more or less indistinct red trail left by Robbie's friend led them to the crest of the hill from which they had been coasting. The women couldn't see Robbie anywhere, and then the janitress saw the wavering red stain in the white snow. The two women fairly tumbled down the hillside to the first terrace. There, in a clump of bushes, they found Robbie's body by his sled, lying on his side, with his right arm over his face, as if he had gone to sleep.

The two women, between them, struggled with the body over to Lovers' Lane, up that to Edgecombe Avenue, and there Mrs. Lomas could go no further. She laid the body on the ground and knelt beside it, crying. Again an ambulance came from Washington Heights Hospital. The doctor said that death had been instant; that the bullet had gone through the heart, and that there was nothing to do except take the body to the West 152d Street Police Station. Mrs. Lomas swooned and had to be carried into the house of a neighbor. Three doctors were attending her last night.

It was nearly an hour after the shooting before the police of the West 152d Street Station learned what had happened. Then some twenty policemen were rushed to the scene. Half a hundred men from the neighborhood had been searching the park long before then, but all had started too late. Late last night no trace of the murderer had been found. The police could get no better description of him than Arthur Shibley had given.

The police believe that the man was a lunatic, and, possibly, that the two little boys in the excess of their animal spirits had maddened him by throwing snowballs at him. Even if he had that provocation, they could not explain his deed except by assuming that he was crazy.

F. G. Shibley, uncle of the wounded boy, said he had no suspicion of any Armenian vengeance plan. If the man had been moved by vengeance there would have been no reason for his first killing the little English boy, whose golden hair and red cheeks proclaimed him no Armenian. The neighbors think the police should look more closely after Highbridge Park, which is a huge playground for Washington Heights children.

COLUMBIA PREPARES REPORT ON CANCER

To Summarize Knowledge of the Disease Prior to Working with Crocker Fund.

NO RESEARCH UNTIL 1911

The $1,500,000 Bequest Won't Be Received by the University Before Then—New Building Needed.

The permanent fund established in Columbia University by the will of George Crocker, to be known as the Crocker Crocker Special Research Fund, has been estimated by the executors of Mr. Crocker's estate at $1,500,000.

It will probably be at least a year before the Trustees of the university come into possession of the fund. Consideration is now being given to the steps which should be taken to make the income of the fund perform with the highest efficiency the service contemplated by Mr. Crocker. Primarily, the income of the fund is to be used for cancer research. Later, should the progress of science make that use of the fund unnecessary, the income may be applied to medical research in any field.

At the present time, the chief centres of cancer research in the world are the Imperial Cancer Research Fund, in London; the Pasteur Institute, in Paris, and the laboratories under the direction of Dr. Ehrlich, in Frankfort-on-the-Main. At scores of other centres, chiefly hospitals and medical schools, more or less is being done, but with the Crocker Fund at its disposal, Columbia University expects to be able to make important contributions to the knowledge of this subject.

It is certain that the work of cancer research will be carried on both experimentally in laboratories and clinically in hospitals, and that there will be close co-operation between the scientists engaged in cancer research and the existing departments of pathology, clinical pathology, bacteriology, biological chemistry, and zoology. A thoroughly trained and competent scientist will be appointed to be Director of cancer research, and to him will be intrusted the organization and oversight of the details of the work. He will be provided with the best possible assistance, including men familiar with the work being done in the various cancer research laboratories abroad, and with all possible and needful apparatus. The clinical study of the disease will be carried on simultaneously, and satisfactory arrangements to that end are now being planned.

The most serious obstacle to rapid progress is likely to be the lack of a proper building for the cancer research laboratories. By the terms of Mr. Crocker's will neither the principal nor the income of his fund may be used for the erection of a building, but it is not doubted that funds for this necessary purpose will be speedily provided from some other source.

In anticipation of the work on cancer research the university has taken steps to have prepared a report, which will later be published, showing the exact facilities for cancer research now in existence and the extent and character of each undertaking and summarizing the literature on the subject of cancer. In particular the report will show what are the chief hypotheses as to the origin of cancer on which scientific men are working all over the world, and what progress has been made up to date either in establishing or in refuting these several theories. It is probable that this report will be completed and published before the close of the present academic year.

The clinical researches under the Crocker Fund will doubtless begin during next Winter, and the date at which the laboratory researches will be undertaken will depend entirely upon the provision of a suitable building.

EARLY TO BE BROUGHT HERE.

His Champion, Dr. Bulkley, Has Month to Prove Him No Leper.

John R. Early is to be brought to New York within the next few weeks in order to allow the committee of five appointed by the Medical Jurisprudence Society to examine him again. Although the committee has already reported that it believes Early a leper, the society has given Dr. L. Duncan Bulkley a month in which to offer additional proof to the contrary.

Dr. Bulkley has been invited by Dr. Reynold Webb Wilcox, one of the committee, to use his office in presenting additional facts concerning the Early case to the committee.

Through an error in identity Dr. Wilcox was mentioned in THE TIMES on Tuesday as having taken part in the discussion of the Early case before the Medical Jurisprudence Society on Monday night. Dr. Wilcox, though a member of the committee, took no part in the discussion with Dr. Bulkley.

CHURCH CASH FOR STRIKERS.

Episcopal Diocese to Take Up Collections for the Waistmakers.

The Associated Waist and Dress Manufacturers, refused again yesterday to try to arbitrate the differences between them and the strikers, though John Williams, State Commissioner of Labor, offered his bureau's aid.

Representatives of church organizations met yesterday afternoon in the Church of the Beloved Redeemer, Madison Avenue and Ninety-ninth Street, to consider the shirtwaist strike. Several speakers presented the strikers' side of the case. A collection was taken up for the girls, and it was decided to send out a notice to all the Episcopal churches in the Diocese of New York, asking that they take up a collection next Sunday for the strikers.

The Civic Forum, 23 West Forty-fourth Street, will devote its next meeting, on Jan. 21, to a presentation of the strike from the waistmakers' point of view.

Miss Elsoe La Grange Cole, a shirtwaist striker, renewed the attacks on the police and the Magistrates' courts which have been a feature of the shirtwaist strike, before the Society of Jewish Social Workers last night at 1,578 Lexington Avenue.

Miss Cole and Miss Rose Schneiderman had expected to debate with Isaac D. Hyman, President of the Manufacturers' Association, but Mr. Hyman sent a telegram of regret at the last moment.

Miss Schneiderman said there was no chivalry in industry, but only a survival of the fittest.

ARTISTS ACCLAIM CHASE.

Eulogize the Noted Portrait Painter as Their Master.

Surrounded by a retrospective exhibition of more than forty of his paintings of the last thirty years, William M. Chase, portrait painter and art teacher, was last night acclaimed a master and pioneer in the movement for dignity in American art by more than one hundred artists and friends at a dinner in his honor at the National Arts Club, 15 Gramercy Park.

At the conclusion of the speeches eulogistic of Mr. Chase and his work of thirty years for the advancement of art in America, an illuminated parchment testimonial, signed by each of the guests, was given to him.

John De Witt Warner, who presided at the dinner, said of Mr. Chase:

"We celebrate in him not only the true artist and patriotic American, but the optimist who has chosen out whatever is good and just and pure, and has established not a school but an art atmosphere in which every student has been encouraged to work out the highest ideals within him."

J. Carroll Beckwith, for thirty years a colleague and intimate friend of Mr. Chase, told of their early work after returning from Europe three decades ago. He said that Mr. Chase was "the most useful man in art that ever happened in America, and will to the end, and far beyond the end, be of greatest value to American art."

A. Augustus Healy, President of the Brooklyn Institute, paid tribute to him for his firm stand for his artistic convictions.

Alexander T. Van Laer, President of the Salmagundi Club, told how in the early days of Mr. Chase's career, when a wealthy customer had told him pompously that his time was worth at least $1,000 an hour, the artist had even then replied with dignity that his own was worth twice that sum. Mr. Van Laer concluded by saying:

The grammar's bad, but oh, my son,
I wish I'd did what Will Chase done.

The entire assembly rose to salute Mr. Chase as he replied briefly to the toast in his honor.

"I regret," he said, "that so many of our distinguished painters have chosen to work abroad instead of here, where they are most needed. There are not enough of our people who realize the importance of art, but they are learning gradually. It was not so long ago that men had to count a row of ugly brownstones residences before they could find where they lived. Even for the little change from this, we are indebted to a growing art sense.

"I regret, too, the tendency of artists to draw rather than paint, and the tendency toward sickly sentiment and the ubiquitous haste. We should learn from those early Italian painters to whom time and material interests mattered little and art was the sole concern."

Among those present were Royal Cortissoz, Fra Dana, Montagu Flagg, Miss Harriet Keith Forbes, J. William Fosdick, Charles Dana Gibson, Childe Hassam, Bayard Jones, J. Nilsen Laurvik, Leo Mielziner, Luis Mora, Edward D. Page, R. Hinton Perry, Miss Helen Sargent, Charles Schreyvogel, A. B. Wenzell, and J. Alden Weir.

What Our "Affiliated" Stores Mean---In China Particularly O'Neill Building—Basement.

We have talked of our Affiliated Stores—we have explained that, because of our affiliation, millions of dollars' worth of merchandise that we sell here in these two stores, is sold below the average market prices; but we have not given you, perhaps, as clear an example of what it means to your own pocketbook as we can give you in this China Sale.

Last summer our buyer of China was in Europe. Just before he went it became known throughout the business world—Europe as well as America—that the United Dry Goods Company, which is the affiliation to which these two stores belong, had become the most powerful retail organization in the world. So that when our buyer landed in Europe he found awaiting him there a reception never given to any American buyer before. Makers of China from Germany, from France, from Austria—all seeking to confine their entire output to this organization, or to make some arrangement whereby they could feel assured of a steady market.

The results of his arrangements there are beginning to reach us—and the following are good examples of what it means to you.

$14.98 and $15.98 Dinner Sets for $11
Austrian Dinner Sets, 100 beautifut pieces to a set, in beautiful decorations.

$18.50 Dinner Sets for $12.75
made up of 100 pieces of Austrian china, with the much desired and coveted soup tureen, in beautiful decorations—floral and gold.

$29.98 Dinner Sets for $22.50
102 pieces in beautiful border decorations, for which Austria is famous.

$41.50 Dinner Sets for $32.50
Austrian china, 102 pieces in open stock—green and gold border design—so that broken pieces can always be replaced.

$82.25 Dinner Sets for $59.75
made by Chas. Field Haviland—in open stock. 100 pieces to the set, in rose and daisy decorations, with gold edges.

$42.50 Dinner Sets for $22.50
101 pieces of Chas. Field Haviland china, in beautiful floral designs, touched here and there with gold.

So far as we know we have never before been able to sell these at less than $27, or about what other stores must pay for them. Under the new arrangement we can sell them for $22.50.

America Responds Just as Europe Does
Here Are $14.98 Dinner Sets for $7.75
100 pieces of American Porcelain in beautiful gold lace border design, with soup tureen included.

$4.50 Tea Sets for $3.75
American Porcelain, 56 pieces to a set, handsome natural floral decorations.
That's sharp evidence of what big quantities mean.

Heavy Reductions
That Are Most Opportune

It is sound business for us to scatter all remaining Outer Garments before the February thaws.

It is sound business for you to take quick advantage of the resulting economies.

Many women bought Cape or Coat or Wrap last October. Nearly four months of constant wear may not have wrought any real injury to the garment. For every practical purpose "it is as good as new." But there's an ideal service that no four-month-old garment can render.

The indefinable something that exists between mental and material things becomes active, and almost unconsciously you experience the desire for something fresh, something new, something that affords a change.

This spontaneous impulse far more than any actual need will influence hundreds of women to buy the following:

Semi-fitting and loose models, short, three-quarter and full lengths, made of broadcloths, cheviots, silks and velours—and beautiful styles in Evening Coats—pastel shades.

The reductions run like this:

CHARGES HIGH PRICES TO POOR FARMING

Brown, Central's President, Says We'll Soon Produce Less Than We Eat.

POINTS TO LOW ACRE YIELD

Far Under European Standard—Tells Boston Wages Must Increase in Fair Ratio to Cost of Living.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—"We must increase production per acre by more intelligent methods, or we must face the relentless certain day when we shall not produce food enough to supply our own necessities," said President William C. Brown of the New York Central Railroad in an address to-night before the New England Railroad Club. The wages of labor, he declared, must continue to advance in fair ratio with the steady increase in the cost of living.

Many representatives of New England railroad interests were gathered about the banquet tables at the Hotel Somerset. In addition to President Brown, Gov. Eben S. Draper was a principal guest and speaker.

President Brown's Speech.

Mr. Brown said in part:

"The most portentous cloud discernable upon the political or economic horizon at this time is the steady, relentless increase in price of everything that goes to make up the cost of living. With a succession of bountiful harvests the price of grain has steadily advanced until the prices of 1908-1909 show increases over those of 1898 as follows:

Corn, an increase of..........	111.2 per cent.
Oats, an increase of..........	85.1 per cent.
Wheat, an increase of.........	59.5 per cent.
Potatoes, an increase of......	70.5 per cent.
Hay, an increase of..........	49.7 per cent.

"With a normal increase and no disease to deplete our herds, values have increased marvelously. Notwithstanding the advent of the automobile, horses and mules show an increase in value of more than 160 per cent. Anthracite and bituminous coal have advanced 29 and 42 per cent., respectively; lard, 113 per cent.; pork, 82 per cent., and tallow, 55 per cent. During this time farm land in all parts of the West and Middle West has fully doubled in value.

"This unusual phenomenon of steadily rising values in the face of a long succession of bountiful crops is one of the most important, as well as interesting problems that confronts the political economist to-day. Economists agree that there is a direct relation between the quantity of gold that is the basis of value, and the general industrial condition. The gold production of the world for the year 1896 was approximately $202,251,600. For 1909 it was approximately $445,000,000, an increase of 120 per cent.

"The significance of these facts in their effect upon present and future values may be better comprehended when we recall the fact that gold is indestructible. In some form the gold that Columbus carried in the caravels is in existence somewhere to-day. The crop grown in 1908 has been almost consumed. The coal mined last year has been burned, but the gold produced year after year piles up, and as it accumulates it takes more gold to buy a bushel of wheat, a suit of clothes, a pound of beefsteak, a sack of flour, or any of the other necessities of life.

"For this reason the pay of labor has steadily advanced, and must continue to advance in some fair ratio with the increase in the cost of things that labor must buy. To put it in another way, wages must go up in about the same proportion that the purchasing power of the money the laborer earns goes down.

Production Not Keeping Pace.

"Another force is working for higher cost of living, more insistently, more powerfully, and with a sinister significance compared with which all others become negligible factors, and this is the alarming rapidity with which consumption of the products of the Nation's farms is overtaking production. Statistics show that the failure to increase the product of our farms in anything like the ratio of increase in consumption is exerting more than three times the effect upon the cost of living that the increase of gold is having.

"I doubt if any country in the world excels the United States in natural fertility of soil, or has a more favorable general climate; but with our careless, uninformed methods of seed selection, fertilization, and cultivation our farms produce an annual yield of less than fourteen bushels of wheat per acre, as compared with thirty-two in England, twenty-eight in Germany, thirty-four in The Netherlands, and twenty in France. Potatoes, with wheat and corn, are a food staple of the poor man. Germany, with an arable area of less than some of our largest States, produces more than seven times the number of bushels of potatoes that are produced in all the States.

"If the converging lines of production and consumption in the United States continue to approach each other as they have during the past ten years, before the middle of the decade upon which we have just entered has been reached the last vessel loaded with the agricultural products of this country will have left our shores, the exporting grain elevators in our seaboard cities will stand empty, and this great Nation, like those of the Old World, will be looking for a place to buy the necessaries of life.

"There is no alternative—we must increase production per acre by more intelligent methods or we must face the relentless, certain day when we shall not produce food enough to supply our own necessities.

"Is it possible to exaggerate, to magnify the importance of this subject? In every great national emergency from the day that hastily assembled farmers faced the organized army of Great Britain on yonder hill, Boston and New England have been the first to act.

"In this crisis, which, fully understood, is as grave as any this country has ever known, a lantern will again flash its message of warning and another Paul Revere will again sound the alarm—once more arousing the farmers to the danger which impends, and, as in all the years of the past the farmer has responded to the Nation's need, so now he will respond again!"

HIGH PRICE INQUIRY IN OHIO.

Governor Suggests That Laws of Congress May Be Responsible.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 12.—Gov. Harmon sent to the Legislature when it convened to-day his message concerning the high price of food stuffs and the advisability of a legislative investigation of the causes.

Gov. Harmon says:

> There have been rapid and continuous advances in price of the various articles which make up the needs of every household, and further advances are expected. The result is pinching and often privation everywhere, except among the relatively few whose incomes greatly exceed their living expenses, and even these are made less able and willing to help the poor and needy.
>
> There is a widespread belief that, among the causes of this, combinations and conspiracies to stifle competition and advance prices figure largely. This belief is apparently justified by the enormous differences between the prices paid to farmers, cattle raisers, and other producers, and those paid by consumers to the dealers from whom they directly receive their supplies. It is currently reported, too, on the statements of such dealers and other authority, that the prices at which they sell are fixed by those from whom they buy, with threats of cutting off further dealings if the prices so fixed are not maintained.
>
> I feel that this subject is one which should be promptly and thoroughly inquired into. If it be found that there are laws which put the people in the power of men who thrive by taking advantage of their necessities, or that there is a lack of proper laws to prevent such imposition or that existing laws to that end are not duly enforced, in either case the means of relief are in your power. Or, if the fault lies partly in the laws of Congress, your judgment as to their effect on the people of Ohio will have great weight.

The Governor concludes by recommending that a joint committee be appointed with all necessary powers for a thorough investigation.

Ex-Senator Accused of Abandonment.

Benjamin Schwartz, who says he is a former State Senator of Massachusetts, was arrested last night at 87 Reed Street on a warrant issued Jan. 5 in Boston by Police Justice Albert E. Clary, charging abandonment. Schwartz said he was 31 years old and a salesman. He had been staping at the Broadway Central Hotel.

LAWYER ACCUSED FROM THE BENCH

Justice Hendrick Charges One with Circulating a False Report About Him.

HE MUST ANSWER FOR IT

Court Denies "Editing, Altering, and Garbling" the Minutes of a Case as Trial Judge.

Justice Hendrick, in Special Term of the Supreme Court, startled a courtroom full of lawyers yesterday by announcing that Jacob Manheim of the firm of Manheim & Manheim and Harry A. Gordon, former managing clerk of that firm, had falsely insinuated that he as trial Judge "edited, altered, and garbled" the minutes of the case of Abraham Scheer against Herman Markowitz. Justice Hendrick charged Manheim and Gordon with having falsified the records in the case, and said that he would give them until Friday to reply to this charge.

The gravity of Justice Hendrick's accusation aroused all the attorneys in the room. Every chair was occupied by lawyers awaiting arguments on ninety-eight motions on the calendar, and little else was discussed by them in the corridors during the day.

Justice Hendrick's face was pale and tense and his voice husky with suppressed emotion as he took up the matter of certifying the record of the case, which has been appealed by Manheim to the Appellate Division. He set aside the verdict of the jury in behalf of Manheim's client. He announced that the statements in affidavits of Manheim and Gordon that he had edited the minutes in the case was an insult to the court.

"I did not intend any reflection on your Honor," said Gordon.

"This is not a personal matter," exclaimed Justice Hendrick. "It is a question of whether lawyers may falsify the records of this court. I want to give you a full opportunity to defend yourselves. The purpose and object of these insinuations were to deceive the Appellate Division and to lead to the impression that I altered, or edited, or suppressed a portion of the minutes, and I do not propose to let the matter rest here."

Justice Hendrick said that after threatening the stenographer of the trial with mandamus proceedings if he did not include in the minutes a remark made by the court after the case has closed, he had consented that this remark be added at the end of the minutes. Manheim and Gordon, he said, had replaced the last page with a sheet of paper from their own office on which the order of the remark was reversed, and it was made to appear a part of his decision.

Zueblin to Speak Here To-day.

Prof. Charles Zueblin will lecture on "Education and Science" in the Berkeley Theatre, 23 West Forty-fourth Street, this morning at 11 o'clock, under the auspices of The League for Political Education. This will be the first in a series of lectures on education.

AGAIN SEEKS KELLNER GIRL.

Father of Kidnapped Child Tries to Communicate with Her Abductors.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 12.—Negotiations for the return to her parents of Alma Kellner, the eight-year-old Louisville girl, who it is believed was kidnapped more than two months ago, were reopened in this city to-day.

Several weeks ago an advertisement in a local paper asked the kidnappers to name their price for returning the child. Nothing resulted from this. To-day appeared another advertisement asking that the kidnappers send to the child's father, as proof of good faith, a sample of the girl's dress and a specimen of her handwriting, giving the name of her school teacher.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 12.—Frank Fehr, a brewer, who is a relative of the Kellners, admitted to-day that he had received a letter asking for ransom for Alma Kellner, and believes that it is from the same person who wrote previously demanding a ransom. He said Mr. Kellner was willing to guarantee to the kidnappers immunity from prosecution by him if the child is returned.

SUFFRAGIST IS TEN DAYS OLD.

Greenwich Club Admits Young Son of Officer to Life Membership.

Special to The New York Times.

GREENWICH, Conn., Jan. 12.—In conferring a life membership upon Richard Bennett Talcott, the ten-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Talcott, to-day the Greenwich Equal Franchise League, composed of New York and Greenwich women, opened its membership to masculine suffragists.

The matter of admitting men has been discussed for some time by the members. It is understood that Julian Street, the author, whose wife is a member; William Barrie Bracken, a New York lawyer; William Westenberg, a musician, and others have already applied for membership and will be voted in.

Richard Talcott has the honor of being the youngest suffragist in the country. Mrs. Talcott is an officer of the club, and Richard is the first baby born to any member since the organization of the club last August.

NO ACTION ON WATER TUNNEL.

State Board Adjourns at the Request of Board of Estimate.

The State Board of Water Supply held its first meeting in this city yesterday to consider the plan for a deep tunnel distribution system for the water from the Catskill Aqueduct, which was approved by the outgoing Board of Estimate just before it went out of office.

Health Commissioner Lederle, who resigned from the board to take office under Mayor Gaynor, was present. Assistant Corporation Counsel Stover, who was appointed Third Deputy Police Commissioner when Mayor McClellan ousted Gen. Bingham, represented the city.

A large number of people who wished to object to the plan were present, but the board adjourned to Feb. 10, having been requested to delay action on the matter by the new Board of Estimate, which wishes to take it up.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE AMERICAN SUGAR REFINING COMPANY

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE AMERICAN SUGAR REFINING COMPANY TO THE STOCKHOLDERS.

The Directors herewith submit their report for the year 1909. While the assets and business of your company are the property of its stockholders, yet your Directors recognize the legitimate interest which the public has in a business organization which deals to a large extent in a necessity of life. A further motive for this report is found in the fact that it seems to be the only method by which this company can correct the wide-spread misrepresentation and unjust criticism to which it has been subjected. A business corporation can have no asset more valuable than the good-will of the public, and that good-will can best be gained by explaining to the public the nature of any existing misapprehension as to its character and operations.

I. Ownership of the Company.

It is commonly supposed that the shares of your company are owned by a comparatively few residents of New York City. The fact is that the average holding of stock by any individual is less than fifty shares. The majority of the stock of your company is held in New England, and its value and stability as an investment is best evidenced by the fact that your shares are largely held by executors, administrators, trustees and other fiduciaries. Its stable value as an investment is also attested by the fact that there have been no substantial changes in the stockholders for a very long period. The number of our stockholders of common and preferred stock is 18,484.

In view of the preponderant holding of stock by New England shareholders, you will be asked to increase the Board of Directors by two members, and for these positions the names of Mr. Edwin F. Atkins and Mr. Samuel Carr, both of Boston, and both well and favorably known in business circles, will be submitted for your approval. Another vacancy in the Board has been created by the declination of Mr. Charles H. Senff to serve another term, and to fill his place a number of influential stockholders have suggested the selection of Mr. E. S. Marston, the President of the Farmers' Loan & Trust Company, of New York, one of our oldest and most conservative financial institutions. Among other changes, it may be noted that your Board has selected James M. Beck, formerly Assistant Attorney-General of the United States, as the new General Counsel for your Company.

II. This Company not a Monopoly.

Another misapprehension, to which it seems advisable to call attention, is the common belief that your company exercises a monopoly in the sugar trade. When in 1894 the Supreme Court of the United States authoritatively decided in United States vs. Knight, et al., 156 U. S., 1, that your company was not a monopoly, under the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, this company had a much larger percentage of such trade, but, with the intense and ever increasing competition which has since prevailed, the figures of Messrs. Willett & Gray, the recognized sugar statisticians, show that your company does not now refine more than 43.5 per cent. of the sugar consumed in this country, and this notwithstanding the fact that the meltings of your company have been well maintained.

There are in the United States three essentially different classes of establishments producing sugar; firstly, the refineries which draw their raw sugar almost entirely from foreign countries and the dependencies of the United States; secondly, the beet sugar factories, which make white granulated sugar directly from beets; and, thirdly, the factories of Louisiana and the South, which extract sugar from cane grown locally. Your company is not interested in any way whatever in this third class of establishments. Of the 21 cane sugar refineries, with an estimated maximum capacity of daily meltings of 33,000,000 pounds, your company operates 7 refineries and has an interest (in each case less than a majority) in 4 refineries, and it has no interest whatever in 10 refineries. Between these independent refineries and those operated by your company, the competition is continuous and severe. While the number of your refineries in operation is less than at times in the company's history, due to the consolidation of some refining plants, yet the increased capacity of our other refineries has caused a substantial increase in the actual capacity of your cane refineries. This increased capacity, however, cannot at present be fully utilized, as the total capacity of all the refineries of the United States is much in excess of consumption. The consumption for the year 1909 shows approximately an increase of 2.25% over the previous year. The meltings of the American Sugar Refining Company show an approximate increase of 1,17% over 1908.

Of the 64 factories which produce sugar from beets, with an estimated aggregate daily capacity of 47,700 tons of beets and a period of operation of from 75 to 100 days each year, your company is interested in 33 factories, with a daily slicing capacity of about 26,500 tons, and has no interest in 31 factories.

III. Tariff Duties on Sugar.

There also exists a widespread belief, which, however, is a mistaken one, that the refining of sugar derives a large and excessive benefit from protective duties.

All the raw and refined sugar imported into the United States from foreign countries is subject to duty. In this manner the Government derives a very large revenue, and incidentally the domestic cane and beet industry is benefited. This Company alone has paid to the Government in duties on importations in fourteen years the large sum of $335,000,000.

Inasmuch, however, as the relative duty on raw and refined sugar is so adjusted as to leave to the refiner a margin of protection of only seven and one-half cents per 100 pounds of refined sugar, or, barely more than 1/16 cent per pound, it is evident that contrary to the general impression, the protection to the refining industry is exceedingly small.

The duty paid on raw sugar imported into this country is substantially refunded by the Government on any equivalent quantity of refined sugar produced therefrom which is exported. A misunderstanding in regard to this has given rise to unfavorable criticism, as the company appears to sell sugar for export at a price lower than that charged the domestic consumer. This is not the case. The company receives substantially the same price for its product whether sold abroad or at home. Granulated is now quoted for export at 3.10 cents against a domestic price of 4.90 cents per pound. This difference is caused by the refund by the Government of the larger part of the duty previously paid upon the raw sugar, to encourage the exportation of a product manufactured in this country, and this refund is in pursuance of the recognized public policy of encouraging the exportation of products produced by American labor and capital.

This company has no interests whatever, either directly or indirectly, in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, the Philippine Islands or in any foreign country; it does not share in the advantages that owners of sugar plantations in these countries may have in sending sugar to this market.

We express no opinion as to whether it is sound public policy to stimulate the production of beet sugar and of domestic cane sugar by the present duties. These questions of policy are for the determination of Congress, and the only purpose of this reference to the fiscal duties relative to your business is to emphasize the fact that its prosperity does not depend upon high protective duties, and that the margin between the duty on the raw material and the duty on the refined sugar is so slight, being as previously stated, only seven and one-half cents per 100 pounds, that it has no appreciable effect in artificially enhancing the price of the refined product by the exclusion of foreign importations.

IV. Relative Cost of Sugar.

At a time when the cost of nearly all the necessities of life is steadily and persistently advancing and manufacturing expenses generally are materially growing, it is with much satisfaction that your attention is called to the price of granulated sugar, which has remained very nearly stationary during the past ten years, and is actually less to-day than in 1900, such changes as have occurred being in a slightly downward direction. There has, moreover, been no increase in the margin between the price of raw and refined sugars, which has remained on average at about 87 cents per 100 pounds. It is thus noteworthy that the entire refining business is done at an expense of a fraction of a cent per pound. This fraction includes not only the cost of refining, but the losses involved in the refining process, and in transportation, the wear and tear and depreciation on the expensive machinery used, the cost of the packages in which the sugar is delivered to the market, and finally, the refiner's profits. Few, if any, necessaries of life, are sold at such a slight margin of profit and few can show with increased cost of materials and labor during the last decade, a reduced price. This is a striking illustration of the truth, to which public attention has recently been forcefully directed, that the employment of large capital in the economical production of a commodity often results in a distinct benefit to the consumer.

The figures appended have been compiled from Willett & Gray's Weekly Statistical Trade Journal, and give in detail the average prices of raw sugar and of granulated sugar in New York for the past ten years in cents per pound, together with the difference in price between raw and refined sugar.

Year	Raw 96° Polarization	Average	Refined Granulated	Average	Differ.	Avr.
	Cents		Cents
1900	4.566	3.969	5.320	4.847	.754	.878
1901	4.047		5.050		1.003
1902	3.542		4.455		.913
1903	3.720		4.638		.918
1904	3.974		4.772		.798
1905	4.278	3.960	5.256	4.82	.978	.868
1906	3.686		4.515		.829
1907	3.756		4.649		.893
1908	4.073		4.957		.884
1909	4.007		4.765		.758

For purposes of comparison the years covered have been divided into two periods of five years each, and average prices calculated for each of these periods.

The difference in the margin between raw and refined sugars, as shown above, has been thus slightly less on average during the past five years than during the previous corresponding period.

The American Sugar Refining Company has no agreement, direct or implied, in regard to the fixing of prices or the regulation of the production of refined sugar. The industry in general contends with a competition of the keenest and fiercest character. Its corporate status has had the direct sanction of the highest tribunal in the land, the Supreme Court of the United States.

V. Litigation Against the Company.

No extended or adequate reference can be made in this report or at this time to the litigation against your company and some of its employees, for the reason that these matters are still the subject of judical investigation. In April last the Board, through its Secretary, communicated to you a statement signed by the counsel for the company, giving the reasons why this company had settled a claim, which had been made against it by the United States Government by reason of certain fraudulent underweighing of sugar at one of your several refineries. Your Board has endeavored in every way to facilitate the investigations of the Government. Without the formality of a subpœna, the officers of this company, with the knowledge and approval of the Board, have put in the possession of the special counsel for the Government, all books, documents, letters and minutes of whatever kind, that such special counsel desired, and have given them the freest and fullest access to the offices of your company and the freest and fullest opportunity to interrogate any and all employees.

No attempt whatever has been made to shield any one and your Board has no reason to believe and does not believe that any executive officer or director of this Company had any knowledge of or participation in this fraudulent underweighing.

Another litigated case, which has been the subject of much inaccurate and unjust comment, is the suit brought against this company by the Receiver of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company, growing out of a transaction known as the Segal loan. As it has also been made the subject matter of legal proceedings by the Government against this company and some of its directors, any adequate statement of the true facts of the case at this time might be misconstrued and is therefore best omitted. It is sufficient to say that the Supreme Court of the United States, when called upon to consider the legality of the acquisition by this company of four sugar refineries in the City of Philadelphia, held that the interstate commerce law did not apply, and it was therefore at all times assumed by this company and its directors and officers at the time of the Segal loan, and still is the opinion of the counsel, who have represented the company in the litigation, that the short time loan, which was made to Segal upon the security of a controlling interest in one refinery, was not a violation of any law.

In the suit brought by the Receiver of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company against your company the United States District Judge, who tried the case at first, sustained the position of this company in this respect. The Circuit Court of Appeals, however, upon the averments made by the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company in its complaint, felt constrained to hold otherwise. In this decision and in the subsequent American Tobacco case, that court gave a much wider interpretation to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law than any that had theretofore been given. Its soundness is now under review in the Supreme Court of the United States, on an appeal in the Tobacco case and that court will soon finally determine the question. On the trial of the case against your company following the reversal of Judge Holt's decision by the Circuit Court of Appeals, a proposition was made to settle the plaintiff's claim for less than one-fifteenth of the entire claim, and under the advice of the very eminent counsel, who represented this company, it has given its assent to such settlement, which has now been carried to final consummation. The litigation is therefore ended.

VI. Condition of Refineries.

The general physical condition of your refineries is excellent.

The company's new refinery at Chalmette, La., which has been in progress of construction for several years, commenced its operations last May and has a refining capacity of 3,000,000 pounds daily. It is equipped with the latest labor saving machinery and, as a consequence, it is expected that sugar can be refined at this refinery more cheaply than at any other in this country. Extensive improvements are in progress at the company's Boston refinery, which will lessen the risk from fire, result in greater capacity and permit of more economy in operation. These improvements in Boston have involved during the current year the expenditure of about $400,000. Additions to the facilities for storing and handling sugar have been made in Jersey City. Radical improvements are also in progress in this refinery, in connection with the boiler house and power systems. During the year the Philadelphia refinery has benefited considerably from the improvements made in 1908 at a cost of approximately $200,000. A new electric power system and other electrical equipment have recently been added, and these expenditures have aggregated about $100,000. Much work has also been done in the Havemeyers & Elder Refinery to produce more economical results, and upon this work satisfactory progress can be reported.

A very valuable asset of the American Sugar Refining Company is the Brooklyn Cooperage Company. It has factories in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, New Orleans, and Port Chalmette, La., with reserve factories and reserve stock as precautions against fire. It now owns in New York State 40,000 acres of timber land with stumpage rights on 60,000 more acres. In Pennsylvania it controls timber on about 30,000 acres. In Arkansas it owns 70,000 acres and in Missouri, 90,000 acres. It owns and operates 9 stave and heading mills and incidentally operates 80 miles of railroads in order to get its timber to the mills and thence to the factories. The condition of this company is most excellent and largely adds to the efficient and economical handling of sugar.

It gives your Board great satisfaction to state that the technical operations of the cane refineries and the beet sugar factories are showing better results than at any time in the history of the company.

Your Directors fully recognize that the continued and permanent success of your company must depend upon its ability to make the best refined sugar as economically as any of its competitors, and to sell it to the consumer upon fair and reasonable terms.

We have disposed of our interest in the coffee business, as well as our interest in some other agencies of distribution.

VII. Financial Condition.

Until a full statement of our financial condition can be prepared, the directors wish to assure the stockholders that the year has been a prosperous one. The dividends have been fully earned.

The company's financial report for 1909, giving the results of the year's business and a statement of assets and liabilitiees as of December 31st, 1909, is being prepared and will be sent to the stockholdres at the usual time.

The directors are greatly gratified to have received proxies for over 640,000 shares, which is the largest number the management has ever received in the history of the company.

VIII. List of Refineries.

The American Sugar Refining Company operates the following cane refineries:

Standard Refinery, Boston;
Havemeyers & Elder, New York;
Matthiessen & Wiechers, Jersey City;
Spreckels Refinery, Philadelphia;
Chalmette Refinery, New Orleans.

The company also owns and holds in reserve in readiness to start in case of the destruction of any of the active refineries by fire, or in case of an excessive temporary demand for refined sugar:

The Franklin Refinery, Philadelphia;
The Louisiana Refinery, New Orleans;

The company also owns one-quarter of the capital stock of the National Sugar Refining Company, and one-half interest in the Western Sugar Refining Company of San Francisco.

The beet sugar companies in which the American Sugar Refining Company is interested are the following:

Alameda Sugar Co., California;
Spreckels Sugar Co., California;
Utah-Idaho Sugar Co., Utah;
Amalgamated Sugar Co., Utah;
Lewiston Sugar Co., Utah;
Great Western Sugar Co., Colorado;
Michigan Sugar Co., Michigan;
Iowa Sugar Co., Iowa;
Carver County Sugar Co., Minnesota;
Menominee River Sugar Co., Michigan;
Continental Sugar Co., Ohio.

By order of the Board,

C. R. Heike,
Secretary.

Be The Cook with a Reputation

There is no disputing that all foods have a more delicious flavor and are more delicate in texture when made with

Carnation Milk

(EVAPORATED—STERILIZED)

This is because of it's richness, purity and dependable quality. When milkmen sell "cream," the milk you buy is not likely to be "whole milk." You use the "top" for cereals and coffee and cook with the "remainder."

Use Carnation—better than the best you can buy from farmer or milkman, because it is the pure milk of healthy cows fed on sweet, juicy, green grass the year around. It is whole milk with most of the water taken out. The uniform climate of the north Pacific coast makes better milk. Cook with it; the cost is less than most "fresh" milk and you will win a reputation for being an extra fine cook.

"Carnation Milk—the Modern Milkman"

MUFFINS.—One pint flour, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 full teaspoons baking powder. Dilute enough Carnation Milk with equal amount of water to make a batter when added. Salt to taste. Pour into hot muffin tin which has been well buttered, and bake in a quick oven. Try with a broom straw. If straw comes out dry they are done.

NICARAGUAN REBELS REPORTED VICTORS

Said to Have Defeated Government Forces in Battle at Acoyapa.

DETAILS NOT OBTAINABLE

Gen. Chamorro Had Telegraphed That 3,000 Men with Rapid-Fire Guns Were Moving on Entrenchments.

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, Jan. 12.—Rumors reached here to-day of a battle at Acoyapa, in which the Government forces were defeated by the insurgents.

No details of the fighting are obtainable.

BLUEFIELDS, Nicaragua, Jan. 12.—Gen. Chamorro telegraphs under date of Monday that a decisive battle will be fought at Acoyapa. At that time 3,000 provisionals, with twenty cannon and eight rapid-fire guns, had been concentrated and were moving on the Government forces intrenched at that place.

Earlier reports that Gen. Mena had occupied Acoyapa unopposed were erroneous and grew out of the fact that an advance guard of 400 provisionals reconnoitred in that vicinity. They did not enter the town. The recent official statements, based on messages from Granada to the effect that there were no insurgent troops in the State of Chontales, within which Acoyapa is situated, appear to have been promulgated in order to deceive the enemy into believing that the provisionals were inactive. The correspondents who left for the front to-day were informed that the expected battle would probably not take place for a week or ten days.

Chamorro's message came as a surprise to those who are thoroughly informed of the situation. There is high authority for the statement that Chamorro expected to march unopposed to Managua.

The movements of the troops culminating in their concentration before Acoyapa began three weeks ago, immediately after the battle of Recreo. Gen. Mena, with 1,000 men, proceeded up the Rama River. Gens. Masis and Correo struck into the west, following the Mico River, while Gen. Chamorro moved up the Siquia River. Both sides of these rivers were scouted as the troops proceeded. Gen. Chamorro emerged at the town of Lamanga, while Masis and Correo made their way to La Libertad. This manoeuvre, with that of Gen. Mena, accomplished the object of ascertaining that the country afforded hundreds of heads of cattle. Gen. Chamorro recently telegraphed that he needed no food supplies from Bluefields as ample subsistence was obtainable along the line of march.

Good roads lead from La Libertad and Lamanga to Acoyapa, and thence to Managua. They traverse generally a grazing country, affording good footing in the dry season. It is a three days' march only from Acoyapa to Managua. Knowledge as to the strength of the enemy is not had here, or at least is not admitted by those who might know.

KAISER DECORATES WOODFORD

Receives Hudson-Fulton Medal and Accompanying Address.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—Emperor William gave an audience to-day to Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, President of the Hudson-Fulton Celebration Commission, and conferred on him the Crown Order of the First Class.

The occasion was the presentation to the Government of the German Empire of an official gold medal commemorating that event. The accompanying address said:

> The ties which unite our two nations are deep rooted and of long standing. We cannot forget that while our tongues speak another language our blood comes ultimately from that great Germanic font which has fertilized so vast a field of the world's civilization.
>
> In many ways, by more direct transfusion, we have been strengthened from the same source. From the days of our infant colonies, when the sturdy German emigrants settled in peaceful industry upon the banks of the Hudson and Mohawk Rivers, through our struggle for National independence in which our Washington had the invaluable help of Frederick the Great's aid de camp, Baron von Steuben, down to the present time when about one-fourth of the population of New York City is of German nativity or parentage, our debt to your people has steadily increased.
>
> With a population so varied as ours we may truly say that our State, as well as our Nation, has many Fatherlands, among which the German Fatherland will always be cherished warmly in our affections and will always hold a high place in our respect.

The Emperor expressed great pleasure at receiving the medal and said he had heard from Grand Admiral von Köster how well the German vessels had been received by the commission and the American people. He added:

"I sincerely hope the Hudson-Fulton Celebration has formed a new link in the chain uniting our two kindred nations, which already are bound together by so many strong ties."

The Foreign Office has sent Gen. Woodford an invitation to attend the coronation and order festival at Court on Jan. 16, and he will be invited also to the annual schleppencour on Jan. 20, when he will be presented to the Empress. He will remain in Berlin for the first court ball of the season.

OCEAN FARES ARE RAISED.

Third-Class Rates to This Side Advanced $1.25.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 12.—Several of the Atlantic steamship companies issued notices to-day of an advance of $1.25 on third-class fare to the United States and Canada.

It is believed that this advance is connected with a readjustment of pooling arrangements with the Continental lines.

The representatives of the big transatlantic lines here say that this is a time of readjustment in rates. This readjustment extends to cabin as well as steerage rates. Last week a 5 per cent. advance in cabin fare was announced from England.

Notes of Foreign Affairs.

LISBON, Jan 12.—The Government denied to-day that a conspiracy against the life of King Manuel had been discovered.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The vessel wrecked between Sheep Island and the mainland off Antrim, northeast coast of Ireland, yesterday proves to have been a trawler. The crew was saved.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Earl of Crewe, Secretary of State for the Colonies, has notified the British Cotton-Growing Association officially that the Government has decided to grant $50 000 annually for three years in aid of experimental work in the industry.

ST. MALO, France, Jan. 12.—Four thousand members of the crews of the 140 schooners which fish annually on the Newfoundland banks are at loggerheads with the masters and to-day were preparing to strike.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 12.—Gov. Colton's message, which was presented to the Legislature to-day, recommends extension of the public school system and highway construction and reform in the management of the prisons, asylums for the insane, and the leper colony.

SOUTHAMPTON, Jan. 12.—Lord Balfour of Burleigh, Sir Daniel Morris, and the other members of the royal commission on reciprocal trade relations between Canada and the West Indies sailed for New York on the steamer Oceanic to-day.

Max L. Young Ill of Bright's Disease.

Max L. Young, President of the Young Hat Company, is critically ill at his home, 43 West Seventy-fifth Street, with Bright's disease. Mr. Young has been confined to his bed for the last two months, with two physicians, Drs. Freidenberg and Mosler, in constant attendance. Recently his illness took a dangerous turn, and last night he was not expected to recover.

PEARY WRITES OF COOK.

Tells How He Guarded His Rival's Stores and Aided Franke.

For the first time in his "Story of the Discovery of the North Pole," now appearing in Hampton's Magazine, Commander Robert E. Peary mentions the name of his late lamented rival. In the forthcoming February installment he says:

> At Etah, Rudolph Franke, who had come north with Dr. Cook in 1907, came to me and asked permission to go home on the Erik. He showed me a letter from Dr. Cook directing him to go home this season on a whaler. An examination by Dr. Goodsell, my surgeon, showed that the man had incipient scurvy, and that he was in a serious mental state, so I had no alternative but to give him passage home on the Erik. Boatswain Murphy, whom I was to leave at Etah, was a thoroughly reliable man, and I gave him instructions to prevent the Eskimos from looting the supplies and equipment left there by Dr. Cook, and to be prepared to render Dr. Cook any assistance he might require when he returned, as I had no doubt he would as soon as the ice froze over Smith Sound (presumably in January) so as to enable him to cross to Anoratok from Ellesmere Land, where I have no doubt he then was.

No news was received yesterday that might disclose Dr. Cook's hiding place.

McCLELLAN OFF FOR EUROPE.

Accompanied by Mrs. McClellan, He Plans to Take "a Good, Long Rest."

Going abroad for a rest, after the cares of office, ex-Mayor McClellan sailed yesterday on the steamship Adriatic. He will do mountain climbing in Switzerland, returning to this side in the Fall in time to weigh his chances in the Gubernatorial campaign. Mrs. McClellan accompanies him.

"I went out of politics on Dec. 31," Mr. McClellan said as he was going abroad. "I served six years in the Mayor's office and fifteen years in Congress and what I need now and what I am going to get is a good, long rest. I have not decided when I shall return. Indeed, my plans at present do not extend very far after my landing in Europe. It all depends on how I feel. Judging by my feelings now I will be gone a good, long time. I will spend some time in the Alps, as I very much enjoy mountain climbing."

The suite occupied by Mr. and Mrs. McClellan contained many floral gifts. Among those at the pier to say good bye were Egerton L. Winthrop, Jr., Mr. McClellan's brother-in-law and President of the Board of Education; W. B. Crowell, Assistant Corporation Counsel; Tom Hassett, Secretary of the Board of Water Supply, and Hugh Hastings, former member of the Tax Board.

SEEKING LIGHT ON POTASH.

Government Doubtful Whether Trade Restriction Amounts to Export Tax.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—It appears that the object of the State Department in pressing on the German Government at this time the inquiry as to its purpose in framing legislation restricting the potash trade with the United States is primarily to ascertain whether the proposed action is equivalent to the imposition of an export tax. Should this be found to be the case it would be necessary to apply the maximum tariff rates to all German imports.

The original German plan provided for an export tax pure and simple to protect the German agrarian interests, but as soon as it was seen that this would involve the application of the penalty of 25 per cent. additional duty on German goods sent to the United States recourse was had to the scheme of prohibiting the sale of German potash outside of Germany at a lower price than was charged in that country. In some quarters it has been held that this is equivalent to the imposition of an export tax, but the State Department had not decided the point.

Incidentally the department objects to any attempt to interfere with contracts already made for the delivery of potash to American contractors, such as the limitation of such contracts to two years. Some of the contracts run for periods as long as five years. It is believed that no serious difficulty will be experienced in reaching an agreement on this point.

NO PROOF AGAINST AMERICAN.

Case of James A. Cook Referred to Mexican Procurator of Justice.

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Jan. 12.—The time having expired for the preliminary investigation of the case against James A. Cook, an American, accused of complicity in the robbery of a freight train under his charge as conductor, the third Judge of the Criminal Court, Francisco Z. Palafox, has ordered the case referred to the jurisdiction of the Procurator of Justice.

Cook has been in jail since August. It is said that the investigation so far has failed to show that Cook had any knowledge of the robbery.

At the instance of the railway labor unions in the United States the State Department recently urged on Mexico a prompt trial for Cook, or his admission to bail.

OUTBREAK FEARED IN MACAO.

Rupture Between Chinese and Portuguese Peasants Is Possible.

HONGKONG, Jan. 12.—The Portugese Governor of Macao has received an anonymous communication containing a threat to burn his palace. A rupture between the Chinese and Portugese peasants at Heungshan at the north of Macao Island is possible.

The Portugese cruisers in the vicinity of the island have been reinforced.

'DEAF LILLY' BEATEN TO DEATH

She Was Called "Pride of the Stevedores" Once.

"Deaf Lilly" was found dead yesterday lying half under her bed in the little furnished room at the top floor of a lodging house kept by Mrs. Jeanette Borrine, a Frenchwoman, at 84 Carmine Street. She had been beaten to death, and the police are looking for her husband, known in his own circle as "Billy the Gink," because somebody once knocked out his right eye.

In the grayhaired, middle-aged woman whose shrunken neck and face were lined with wrinkles, probably only Policeman John Sullivan, of all the men in the Macdougal Street Station, would have recognized the woman who was the beautiful wife of "Big Barney" in the days when every one in McGurk's "Suicide Hall" would push their tables back to the wall while the couple waltzed down the middle. Sullivan used to have a post along the Bowery.

"The pride of the Stevedores" was the title that "Deaf Lilly" earned in her prime, but that was fifteen or twenty years ago. One day when "Big Barney" disappeared, his young wife was missed from her accustomed haunts. When she came back she simply said "she had been away," but every one knew she had been to Blackwell's Island. Without "Big Barney" to care for her the woman "went away" again and again, until finally she was scarcely admitted to the places where she had once reigned as queen.

When she applied to Mrs. Borrine on last Saturday for a room, the Frenchwoman, who had known her years ago, gave her lodging, but it was only two days later that Mrs. Borrine decided she would have to get rid of "Deaf Lilly" and her husband, for on Monday night Maggie Whalen, who had a room opposite that of the couple, told the Frenchwoman:

"Lilly took an awful beating to-night. I could hear Billy walloping her."

All was quiet in the room on Tuesday, however, so Mrs. Borrine did not interfere. Yesterday, though, she began to worry at Lilly's non-appearance, and then she went to her room.

"Billy the Gink" is well known to the police, and they say they'll catch him.

HE GREW UP ON A VOYAGE.

Skipper Tells How He Sailed as a Boy and Landed as a Man.

A skipper with a sense of humor is Capt. L. R. Dickinson, Commodore of the Royal Mail Steam Packet fleet and commander of the new liner Avon. There was a dinner and an inspection of the new vessel yesterday, and in his talk Capt. Dickinson told of funny experiences in the early days of his seagoing.

"My first ship," said the skipper, "was the Sierra Nevada, and we sailed from England to San Francisco. I started on that voyage a boy, and by the time port was reached I was a man. She was known as a steamship and had a screw. It could be hoisted on deck. There was an engineer and three firemen. When it became calm we dropped the screw over and crawled along. Then when the wind came up we pulled up the propellor, hoisted sail, and the engineer and the firemen went to bed. Most of the time we sailed. We were 114 days getting to San Francisco."

The Avon is an 11,500-ton steamship built in Belfast, and the largest steamship ever sent to Bermuda and the West Indies. She is probably the finest and certainly one of the best. All her cabins are above decks. She was constructed with a view of passenger carrying in the tropics. There are gymnasiums, electric appliances, a swimming pool, dark room for photographers, a veranda on the promenade deck, and every device for safety and comfort to be found on the steamships crossing the North Atlantic. She will stop at Bermuda, Jamaica, Colon, Trinidad, La Guayra, and many other ports, sailing on Saturday.

The Apt Arrangement of Fine Furniture

THE ARRANGEMENT of one of the corners of the well furnished room or the adjustment of some deep-bowed window recess may ofttimes serve for the display of taste and selective faculty of the highest order.

But in order that this discriminating sagacity may adequately manifest itself there must be offered in the first place, opportunity for a free and untrammelled choice of the component parts of the attractive picture.

Such an opportunity is only to be found in an Establishment such as ours.

Twelve galleries are here filled with examples of fine furniture, each separate piece distinguished by those qualities which elevate sincere craftsmanship to companionship with the Arts.

THE BOSTON EXPERIMENT.

There was a double aim in the election system tried for the first time in Boston on Tuesday. First, it was intended that nominations should be free from the dictation of party machines and party bosses and that the sentiment and opinion of citizens should determine the choice of nominees. Second, it was intended that each citizen, having to vote only for Mayor and members of the City Council, in whom, especially in the former, very great powers are centred, should be able easily and intelligently to express his own preferences at the polls. Both these aims it is extremely desirable to accomplish, and the method devised to attain them was the fruit of much careful study.

The system, at its first trial, failed almost absolutely. With reference to the Mayor, whose office is by far the most important, and in which the concentration of power and responsibility was suited to make the choice of the voters clear and practical, the failure was complete. The mode of nomination worked well as far as the choice of a good reform candidate was concerned. No better man in point of character, ability, experience, and proved fitness for the duties of the place could have been found than Mr. STORROW, and none who would seem surer to draw the votes of sensible and right-minded men. On the other hand it was shown plainly that the new mode of nomination could be worked with entire certainty and ease by the machine politicians and no more undesirable candidate, none more thoroughly proved to be unfit in every essential regard, was ever turned out by the convention system than Mr. FITZGERALD. Clearly the reform system is no protection against the naming of bad candidates, whatever it may do in rendering easier the naming of good ones to oppose the bad.

But when nominations were made and the system was tested as to the actual selection between the candidates, it was found that the real power of the business politicians had not seriously been impaired. Mr. FITZGERALD, despite a very bad record, which was fully disclosed and discussed by the newspapers of Boston, not one of which supported him, was elected. It is true that his plurality is small, and that it might probably have been changed had Mr. HIBBARD, the Republican, withdrawn, but on the theory of the authors of the reform system Mr. STORROW should have had a large majority over all the others, and that remains true, even though the recount he is to demand may result in his finally getting the office. There is a non-committal criticism of a doubtful book attributed to LAMB: "For those that like this kind of book it is just the kind of book they would like." That really seems to fit the case of Boston. The city has the kind of Mayor the plurality of its voters wish, and if the verdict of the polls is reversed on a recount, the city still has almost a majority for a very bad Mayor. Nor must it be forgotten that there was in Boston a formidable and not creditable amount of the silence that gives assent. Only 84 per cent. of the total registered vote was cast—95,000 out of a registration of 112,000. The percentage of those who might have registered was, of course, very much smaller, probably not over 70 per cent. Such indifference is a positive and important element in the result and strongly emphasizes the inference that Boston got what Boston wished, and, in the slang phrase, "got it bad."

The result of the election cannot be said to discredit the principle of the "short ballot," the principle of enabling the voters easily to express their wishes, without confusion. If their wishes happen to be in the wrong direction no contrivance can be found that will defeat them, and, in respect for democracy, none should be sought. But the elaborate contrivance for nominations certainly is discredited. The trained politicians have not the slightest difficulty in working it to suit their purposes. It will, of course, be contended that so good a candidate as Mr. STORROW could not have been got in the old way, and there is some force in that contention. But there remains the opposing consideration that a candidate chosen in the old way, if not so superlatively good, might, with the party machinery behind him, have stood a better chance. We should say that there is nothing now for the reformers to do but to watch the Fitzgerald administration as closely as possible and prepare for the possibility of securing his "recall" two years hence.

MOTOR CARS AND ROADS.

"The vehicles should be made to fit the roads, not the roads to fit the vehicles," is the essential principle of the recommendation to the Legislature, published this morning, on which the State Highways Commission would specially tax automobiles for the repair of the highways. It is true, as the Commission states, that motor cars rapidly wear out the macadam roads, and that they are run by owners many of whom —not all, by any means—are wealthy. But can such a tax be justly laid until, at least, the methods of constructing roadbeds are radically altered?

Time and again it has been pointed out that the old macadam pavement is the worst possible form of construction to meet the modern demands of highway traffic. Roads should be adapted to new conditions of use, yet the same surfaces that formerly solidified under the impact of horse-drawn tires are presented to tires that have no downward impact, but a backward thrust that must, of necessity, disintegrate and scatter their material in dust clouds over adjacent fields. Of course, that is all wrong, and it is a nuisance. The State persists in building roads without bituminous or asphaltic dressings that offer the maximum of resistance to such wear, and it proposes to penalize by a discriminatory tax the vehicles that produce it. The tax, which is to be collected in registration fees, will be a popular one, but it distinctly tends to retard reform in highway construction.

THE MANCHURIAN PROBLEM.

Full faith and credit should not be impartially extended to all the dispatches, from the capitals of the Powers interested, about Secretary KNOX's proposed neutralization of the Manchurian railways. In fact these news advices cannot all be admitted within the pale of belief, for some are in flat contradiction of others.

The assurance was given some days ago that China was prepared to accept the plan by which the interests of Russia and Japan in the railways of Manchuria would be transferred to an international syndicate of capitalists. But yesterday a dispatch from Shanghai stated that the Russian and Japanese Ministers at Peking had been officially advised that the Chinese Government will not agree to the proposal of Secretary KNOX. This dispatch should, doubtless, be accepted subject to later contradiction, particularly as it is sent from Shanghai. Not all the news that comes out of Shanghai should be accepted with childish credulity. Tokio has given evidence of some excitement. The outgivings from that capital have had the uniform quality of opposition to Mr. KNOX's plan. But these Tokio opinions, it is to be noted, are those of the press, whose views, it is very well known, are much influenced by considerations of domestic party politics that are past our understanding. It is worth while to note further that the Japanese Government thus far is silent.

France, it is well understood, would be likely to consult the wishes of her ally, Russia, and to follow the lead of St. Petersburg. That is the tenor of advices from Paris. From Berlin comes the information that the German Government agrees to the proposal of Secretary KNOX "in the same sense that Great Britain has approved it." This means that Germany accepts the principle of the "open door" and equal commercial rights in Manchuria. It has been assumed from the beginning that England would look with favor upon the plan, provided it were not unacceptable to her Eastern ally, Japan.

The conflicting statements of the press dispatches may very well have left in the public mind the impression that the Secretary of State published his neutralization plan to the world without taking the precaution to sound the Governments of the various Powers interested. That would have been a mistake and a misfortune, as the rejection of the plan or the failure of the chief Powers in interest to agree about it would be an unpleasant incident in our diplomacy. Most significant, therefore, is the dispatch from St. Petersburg, published in yesterday's newspapers, containing extracts from a secret memorandum submitted to the Cabinet by the Minister of Finance, M. KOKOVSOFF, before his departure for the Far East. This memorandum contains in outline and in substance a plan of neutralization which would accomplish what Secretary KNOX aims at. "The most satisfactory issue of the difficult relations between Russia and China," said the Russian Minister of Finance, "would be the transfer of the administration of the East Chinese Railroad to a special international organization, each nation taking over a part of her invested capital, and a corresponding share of the guaranteed revenues." Nothing is said in this memorandum about Japan's railroad interests in Manchuria, but we must assume that that, also, would be transferred to the international syndicate, otherwise Russia would hardly dispose of her portion. The practical identity of this plan with that of Mr. KNOX suggests that our Secretary of State some time ago submitted his proposal to the St. Petersburg Government, and that the publication of this memorandum is the method adopted of indicating that it has been hospitably received.

In default of more exact and official information it is impossible to predict the fate of Mr. KNOX's proposal—its ultimate fate. Certainly it is too early to conclude that it has failed of acceptance. Anybody can see that it has the virtue of accomplishing its avowed purpose, the maintenance of the "open door," and of commercial rights and opportunities impartially accorded to the Western Powers and to Japan as well. If that is what the Powers want, if that be the object and motive of their Far Eastern policy, the rejection of Mr. KNOX's plan, unless some better one were put forward, would be hardly intelligible.

THE HOUSE OF GOVERNORS.

14.—Not a Roosevelt Conference.

The first conference of all the Governors at the White House in 1908 was summoned to "boom" the Rooseveltian policy of conservation. It was avowedly a Federal movement, planned to enlist State aid in strengthening a central policy. The "House of Governors" which is to be addressed by President TAFT next week is quite different in its origin, purposes, and ultimate effect. The States can, indeed, aid materially the centralizing tendency of the National Government. This was Mr. ROOSEVELT's purpose. But, while the Roosevelt conference was sitting, THE TIMES published an interview with Mr. WILLIAM GEORGE JORDAN, suggesting that the Governors might do a praiseworthy thing to get together by themselves and confer strictly upon the common interests of the States. Immediately thereafter the Governors did hold an adjourned meeting; they appointed a committee, of which Gov. WILLSON of Kentucky was made the Chairman, empowering it to call a conference of the Governors independently of Mr. ROOSEVELT.

The meeting of the "House of Governors" at Washington next week to discuss uniform legislation by the States is the direct result of that adjourned meeting. That its purposes are not of the centralizing character is shown by Chairman WILLSON's letter to Mr. JORDAN of Feb. 5, 1909, in which the Kentucky Governor said:

> I think your suggestion is the only rational one. I believe it is impracticable to amend the Constitution unless some great event like the war compels it, and that really it is best not to transfer much more power from State to Federal Government, and that there ought to be some action of the State Legislatures providing for coöperation among the States and providing for the expenses of the Governors in attending the conferences and suggesting the outlines of matters upon which they could confer in accordance with your plan.

Thus Chairman WILLSON adopted and heartily approved Mr. JORDAN's plan for the House of Governors, to be convened yearly by the express sanction of the State Legislatures. But independently of any one Governor's approval or disapproval of it, the plan is coming to fulfillment. It offers the only possible solution of a multiplicity of problems that the Federal Government cannot solve, and that the States may not cope with separately. Unlike his predecessor, we believe, President TAFT appreciates this fact.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION'S REPORT.

The report of the State Public Service Commission for the district which includes this city shows interesting parallels with the reports of the Inter-State Commerce Commission. Both bodies wish their functions to be enlarged, both have gratifying success in dealing with the corporations in their care, both have produced heightened efficiency in public utilities, and both have their troubles with the courts. It may not be surprising that duties so similar should produce results so similar, but there is a distinct suggestion that there is a line past which neither the State nor the Federal limitation of the activities of capital can be extended without compensating disadvantages.

The Commission says that minor complaints are remedied by the companies upon the matters being called to their attention by simple informal correspondence. Informal complaints numbered 1,335, and all but seventy-three have been disposed of. In 318 complaints regarding illuminating companies there was only one appeal. "Upon the Manhattan surface lines, for example, as to which service orders have been issued, a comparison of service rendered before and after the orders shows an increase varying from 11 per cent. to 57 per cent." The riding public should be correspondingly grateful.

The Commission supplies an interesting comparison of financial results for the entire transportation system in the city according to realized profits, capitalization being eliminated. In 1909 the revenue per car mile was 26.8 cents, an increase of 0.7 cent. Apparently the companies prospered under compulsion for their good, as well as the good of the farepayers. But expenses increased faster than fares, rising from 14.1 cents per car mile in 1907 to 16 cents in 1909. Thus net revenue per car mile fell from 12 cents to 10.8 cents. A decrease of a cent and a few mills is trifling, but a decrease of 10 per cent. in the rate of profits on a business done so closely, and largely under conditions of bankruptcy, is a serious matter, especially when the sufferers have no option.

It is good news that "early in the year" the Commission hopes to open bids for 37.77 miles of rapid transit lines. The Commission is displeased that the State courts regard its rate-making functions as quasi judicial, and therefore subject to judicial review. In its opinion, these functions are legislative "and should go into effect the same as an enactment of the Legislature." The law is, therefore, "devitalized," and the Commissioners would vitalize it in several respects. They would like power to order "reasonable joint rates, including transfers." They would like to have power also to make terms for the granting of franchises, instead of merely certifying to their necessity and convenience. Their argument is that it is desirable that franchises should be both in public interest and uniform throughout the State. Yet there is something to be said in favor of the government of a city fixing the terms of a franchise to be exercised within the city. Obviously a State corporation may operate a city railway under both the State's grant of corporate powers and a city's grant of a street franchise, and there is an apparent inconvenience in a State body fixing a municipal franchise. The Commission also wishes enlarged powers of regulating stock watering, "for it is easy for the companies to bring within the four legal purposes sums that never should be capitalized." The report is creditable to the Commissioners, with reserve merely regarding contentious topics, about which they may be right, but as to which even they are not likely to win a victory without a time of storm and stress.

GERMAN POTASH.

The second section of the Tariff act of 1909, under which notice is reported to have been served on Germany in connection with the potash trade, is the one relating to the maximum and minimum rates. There seems to be some misapprehension as to this section. It is frequently referred to as requiring the President to make proclamation when the maximum rates are to be applied. As a matter of fact, the maximum rates go into effect on the 31st of March unless the President by proclamation declares that the minimum rates are in force. Again, it is often stated that the maximum rates are 25 per cent. higher than the minimum. They are in reality the minimum rates with 25 per cent. ad valorem added. For example, the average duty on imported woolen goods, much of which came from Germany, in 1908 was, in round numbers, 90 per cent. Under the maximum rates it would be 115 per cent. On the other hand, the average duty on German toys was 35 per cent. Under the maximum rates it would be 60 per cent. The goods least heavily taxed and most readily imported under the minimum rates would suffer most under the maximum rates.

The application of the maximum rates, on account of the recently proposed legislation as to potash, is based on the provision of Section 2 of the Tariff act, which permits the minimum rates only when a foreign country "pays no export bounty or imposes no export duty or prohibition upon the exportation of any article to the United States which unduly discriminates against the United States or the products thereof." The German Government is part owner of the potash mines, and has proposed to place all the mines under imperial control with prices to be fixed by the Government. Whether this is a "prohibition" "unduly discriminating against the United States" is a question as to which opinions may differ, but if our Government holds that it is and acts on it, there is no appeal. The notice served by our Government is probably only one move in the adjustment of the complicated situation presented by the tariffs of the two countries.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

A Misuse of the Aeroplane. As a show the "aviation meet" out in Los Angeles promises to be as successful—that is to say as profitable—as its promoters hoped. The performers are repeating all the feats that startled the world when they were done as something new at Rheims, and if no fatal accidents occur to disturb the equanimity of the spectators no harm will have been done.

When reading the daily dispatches from Los Angeles, however, one gets the impression that flying of this particular sort is a rather futile business, interesting and amusing rather than important—not at all the thing that is really going to advance the art of aerial navigation. The contestants are constantly tempted to win unthinking applause by recklessly taking desperate chances, and the more that people are astonished by the performance of dangerous "stunts" the less of appreciation will they have for the sane and comparatively safe sort of flying that means something for the future of aviation.

The WRIGHTS are fully justified in avoiding exhibitions of this kind. The aeroplane is an invention with possibilities of too much moment to be thus used without a certain impropriety or without a certain loss of dignity for all participating in or promoting the exhibitions.

None the Less, the Buses Are Needed. Ex-Park Commissioner HENRY SMITH has called our attention to the fact that for his exclusion of buses from Riverside Park there were reasons in addition to the one most discussed at the time—his disinclination so to trim the shade trees that the buses could pass safely under their lowest branches.

At the very bottom of the case lies an ordinance of the Park Board, covering the whole of Greater New York and restricting the height of vehicles used in parks and parkways. This ordinance, the object of which was to keep within reasonable limits the size of sightseeing automobiles, happened also to affect the buses. The company operating them, utilizing the law which enabled it, after securing the consent of the State Board of Railroad Commissioners, to extend its routes without obtaining that of the local authorities, had filed several such extensions, one of them including Riverside Drive. A taxpayer, acting from motives unstated, thereupon notified Commissioner SMITH that the company had no valid franchise for running its buses in the Drive, and that it was his duty to exclude them. The Commissioner submitted the question to the Corporation Counsel, and that official, after considering it, informed him that under a decision of the Appellate Division the Drive was a park, not a street, the limiting ordinance a reasonable regulation, and the extension certificate inoperative and void; that hence it was the duty of the Park Department "to prevent this company operating its stage lines over the parks under your jurisdiction."

We have willingly presented these facts, but they seem rather to prove that a way was found legally to exclude the buses from the Drive than that the exclusion was necessary, desirable, or right from the standpoint of public interest. Unfortunately, certain private interests were involved in the matter—those of the company that wanted to run the buses being opposed to those of some of the near-by residents with a liking for seclusion and to those of the owners of vehicles carrying people to the Drive for a much larger fare than the bus company proposed to charge. Commissioner SMITH's only aim, we know, was to protect the parks from encroachment, and rarely, indeed, can efforts to that end be too vigorous, but in this instance the need of better and cheaper transportation facilities was and is obvious.

This Child Was Not Maltreated. At the risk—which does not much trouble us—of furthering the desire of a distinctly absurd person to get free advertising we want to express with some emphasis the opinion that Magistrate HERBERT's dismissal of the charge against the man DUNCAN was fully justified by the facts in the case. The boy whose supposed sufferings from the cold led to DUNCAN's arrest was oddly, rather than inadequately or improperly, dressed, and there was nothing in his physical condition to indicate that his life or his health had been endangered. And that was really the one question at issue in court.

As a witness for what may be called the prosecution a doctor testified that the garb of ancient Greece is not warm enough for this climate, and that dreadful consequences are likely to follow its adoption, but that is an assumption which the appearance and contentment of little MENALKAS proved to be fallacious. He may have been cold, as the policeman who "rescued" him declared, but he was not on that account necessarily in peril, and the assorted diseases from which it was the avowed purpose to save him are as a matter of fact usually if not invariably caused by treatment just the reverse of that which this boy was getting.

That is not to say that everybody, young and old, ought to wear a costume which even in ancient Greece was worn only by a little group of aristocrats with no more arduous labors to perform than to pose in statuesque attitudes for the admiration or envy of a public very differently dressed. For good and sufficient reasons that garb is as little known in Athens to-day as it is in New York, for while it unquestionably has certain hygienic and aesthetic advantages over modern habiliments, in other ways the conditions of modern life make it impracticable and ridiculous. Still, anybody who chooses to don it has a perfect right to do so, and its suitability for children whose parents' taste—or interest—runs that way is to be judged by its observed effects. That is how the Magistrate judged it, and thereby he showed his good sense.

Incidentally, the part played in the case by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children should not be misunderstood. It had nothing to do with causing the arrest of the boy's relatives, and in taking charge of him it only performed a duty imposed by law.

Policemen Should Be Models. It is hardly enough to lay down the rule that policemen who get drunk or without justification use their clubs on their fellow-citizens should be treated exactly as if they did not wear a uniform. They deserve to be treated with as much more of rigor and severity as their responsibilities and powers are greater than those of their unsegregated neighbors. Representing the law, misconduct on their part is a peculiarly grave offense, and it should be punished accordingly.

Of course, discretion should be used in judging police transgressions, for, with the qualities that make a policeman useful as the direct embodiment of the law's physical strength, inevitably go other qualities in themselves undesirable. After due allowance has been made for this fact, however, the policeman can still be justly held to a specially stern reckoning when he falls into the errors he is paid and has sworn to repress, and it is intolerable that he should break the peace instead of preserving it.

Lactic Bacilli in Tablets.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In your edition of last Tuesday morning, the 11th inst., you printed a communication on "The Lactic Acid Fad," signed "Anti-Humbug," in which the writer reveals really remarkable ignorance of a great subject and advances propositions that are so incorrect and misleading that I feel impelled to request that you will permit me to reply to him.

Anti-Humbug states:

(a) Prof. Metchnikoff believes that the daily use of certain lactic ferments will prolong life, but he has not asserted that these ferments can satisfactorily be made into tablets that will keep for weeks or longer. Such tablets, however, are being extensively advertised by a Michigan institution, &c.

(b) If anybody will think for a moment the idea will occur to him that dried lactic acid bacilli are not likely to be in a state of active vitality, and that tablets, powder, and dry preparations will rarely make satisfactory "Yaghourti," because little nascent lactic acid is produced in situ.

(c) Nobody has yet ascertained with certainty that the beneficent bacilli in the much advertised tablets are always alive and vigorous.

When "Anti-Humbug" states that Metchnikoff has not asserted that lactic bacilli may be implanted in a tablet and remain viable for a long time he shows an ignorance of Prof. Metchnikoff's writings and of the subject in general which render his communication utterly unworthy of consideration as a contribution to a discussion of the value of lactic ferments.

In response to point (b) of "Anti-Humbug's" communication, I need only state what everybody who has given any study to bacteriology knows—that germ life, pathogenic or non-pathogenic, exists everywhere in a dry state, and, while not active, is still viable and needs but a proper medium in which to develop. Bacteria have been known to live for years in a dry form. Yeast cells for twelve years.

A research as to the viability or life of the lactic bacilli recommended by Metchnikoff in tablet form was recently conducted by Drs. Benjamin White and Oswald Avery at the Hoagland Laboratory in Brooklyn. Their paper was recently published in the Centralblatt fuer Bakteriologie, Berlin. In it they make the following statement of fact as a result of their inquiry, which extended over sixteen months: "In a dry condition the vitality is greater than in milk. Whey and milk cultures desiccated over sulphuric acid in a vacuum were found to be still viable after a lapse of four months."

"Anti-Humbug" is quite correct in the statements he makes in reference to the unreliability of many of the lactic tablets now on the market; and he deserves credit for calling this to public attention. Every doctor who recommends a lactic bacillary tablet owes it to his patient first to assure himself that the product he recommends is what it is claimed to be by the producer.

THE MILK TRUST.

Its "Swing Around" Within a Radius of 300 Miles Is Profitable.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

At the Attorney General's inquiry into the affairs of the Milk Trust on Friday last a wholesale milk buyer from Middletown, Orange County, a member of the Milk Exchange, was asked: "How about the farmer producers—what have they got to say about the price they shall receive for their milk?" He replied:

> The farmers have nothing to say.

An intelligent farmer of the County of Orange, when shown this bit of testimony and asked if that was the case, said it was a candid and truthful admission. Asked if he could give any reason for such a state of affairs, he said:

> This monopoly of the milk trade and its control by a few rich corporations is a simple problem and easily solved if the proper authorities want to put a stop to the continued extortion practiced upon the producers and the consumers. It is a combination between the railroads and the dealers—a question of freight rates. It is the key to the whole situation.
>
> Milk is carried to the New York market by the railroads under what is known as the zone rate, as follows: The first zone, 100 miles, 26 cents per can; the next zone, 200 miles, 29 cents per can; the next zone, 300 miles, 32 cents per can, and as much further as they want to go at the same price. There is also a rebate; or, perhaps more correctly stated, a rate 12½ per cent. less for carload lots. Just stop and consider what a vast territory this 300-mile zone embraces, for that is about the limit that milk can be transported and delivered in good condition about the City of New York and meet with the requirements of the Health authorities.
>
> Place yourself at the City Hall in New York and swing around within a radius of 300 miles. You will observe that it takes in all of New England, with the exception of the State of Maine. It embraces nearly all of the State of New York, a large part of the State of Pennsylvania, and the whole of the State of New Jersey. The large dealers, the Bordens and others, know that the price of any commodity is governed by what the surplus is worth. This zone and carload rate gives the dealer an unlimited territory and supply of milk. It gives him a surplus whereby he rules the market, and his cost of transportation from different distances is so nearly equal that it makes little difference to him from where it comes. With their cheese and butter factories and the large condenseries they readily take care of all the surplus, and declare all milk worth what the surplus is worth manufactured into butter, cheese, and condensed products.
>
> Hence the milk combination is enabled to buy of the producer at from 2 cents to 4 cents per quart, or on an average about 3 cents the year around, and sell at a profit of 200 and 300 per cent.
>
> Then, again, think of the enormous price charged for the transportation of this article. At certain periods of the year the freight, including ferry charges, is nearly 25 per cent. of the price paid the producer for his product, and it is never at any season of the year less than 20 per cent. This, of course, comes out of the producer and the consumer. The railroads like this zone rate of freight, and the dealers are pleased with it, for by means of it they can control the market at both ends. I am not conversant with the rates on other classes of perishable products, but I will venture the assertion, without fear of contradiction, that for the distance hauled the freight paid on milk is greater than that on any other perishable product.
>
> By this zone rate the dealers who have control of the market are thus enabled to supply exactly each day just what the market will consume. In other words, they sell out their entire stock clean every day for practically cash. At the present time a quart of milk laid down on Manhattan Island costs the dealer about 5 cents. He delivers it for 9 cents—an increase of 80 per cent. over cost, out of which he can secure expense and a profit. Pretty good business, isn't it?

MR. RHINELANDER EXPLAINS.

Prefers Teaching Ministers to Active Work in Trinity Parish.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Your issue of this date contains what purports to be an authorized statement of my reasons for refusing my election as Vicar of Trinity Chapel, in New York. This statement entirely misrepresents the facts. The impression thus given is so exactly contrary to the truth that I am relying on your sense of fairness to find space for its correction.

The call to Trinity Chapel made a strong appeal to me, not only because of its very great opportunities for parish work—as great, I believe, as those in any other district in the city—but even more because it offered me the privilege of working under Dr. Manning, the rector, whose wisdom, devotion, and courage have won my highest admiration. From my first acquaintance with him, and as I have followed his course in his difficult and responsible administration, my confidence in his whole policy and method has steadily increased. So far from avoiding a share in his great work, nothing could seem to me more desirable or honorable than to be asked to help him. The fact that I asked for, and by his kindness and that of the Vestry was granted, nearly three months for consideration shows of itself how hard it was for me to decline the offer so generously made.

What I chiefly care for is that this point should be made clear. Of my motives in declining there is no need to speak. I might, however, add that we who elect to teach in theological schools rather than work in parishes do so for the sake of the parish ministry, for which we are training men, and I can imagine no greater or more favorable opportunity for the exercise of ministry than is to be found in Trinity Parish under its present management. Sincerely yours,

PHILIP M. RHINELANDER.

Documents for Distribution.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The House of Representatives is about to order the distribution of a number of accumulated documents. The majority of these have little value, but among them are some for which request is frequently made by people in New York. It may interest your readers to know that by writing to their respective Representative in Congress they can secure a copy of Mr. Perkins's resolution, which contains a list of these documents.

I know that all of us would be glad to attempt to fill any request for documents the titles of which appear in the list.

HER CHEAP DINNER.

She found the price of meat so high
She didn't even stop to spy;
Quoth she, "I'll be overhasty,
But think up something cheap and tasty."

Then with a smile upon her face
She hied her to the grocer's place;
Ten cents for corn of this year's canning!
'Twas wonderful, her clever planning!

That night corn fritters sat in state
Upon her board, and quite elate
She got her husband interested
In re the dime she had invested.

But—well—men are so obtuse,
To try and please them is no use.
Her husband, sans a single stutter,
Remarked, "Say, what's the price of butter?"

And then he figured up the corn
And eggs and butter that had gone
Into those fritters and the batter
And ended with, "Why, what's the matter?"

Of course she'd fainted. 'Twas a shock!
She might have had a Plymouth Rock!
In fact a quail or two were lost her
In what those cheap corn fritters cost her!

THE SERVICE BOARD SEEKS MORE POWER

Asks Legislature to Establish Purpose of the Law Which Courts Make Ineffective.

WANTS LITIGATION CHECKED

Unable to Reach Fundamental Evils Because of Restrictions of Its Authority in Legal Decisions.

The first section of the annual report of the Public Service Commission to the Legislature for the year 1909, made public here yesterday, contains recommendations for legislation extending and defining the powers of the commission. These include not only such matters as the extension of the powers of the commission over express companies, and the specific grant of authority to handle joint rate cases, such as local transfers between surface street railways, but the question of how far the acts of the commission shall be reviewable in the courts.

This latter topic, with one relating to the definition of the commission's powers in the event of stock watering, is the most important subject touched upon in the report. The commission takes the position that, since it is in effect an arm of the Legislature, its acts should be reviewable only as the acts of the Legislature are reviewable. This involves the question whether certiorari proceedings, based upon the record of an investigation by the commission, shall be expressly prohibited by the statute, and appeal limited to the institution of an action in which the issue shall be gone into de novo.

Orders of Commission Ineffective.

In this connection the report of the commission says:

> It seems to have been the intention of the law that the commission should be an administrative body, with power to prescribe rates and facilities in accordance with a rule laid down for guidance in each case. For instance, rates should be just and reasonable; service and facilities should be safe, adequate, and in all respects just and reasonable. This commission considered that when it made a careful inquiry into the facts of each case and gave a fair hearing to all interested parties its conclusion embodied in an order should go into effect the same as an enactment of the Legislature. The State courts have declared, however, contrary to the holding of the United States Supreme Court, that the words employed in the act make the commission a judicial or quasi-judicial body in respect to rates, and it would seem to follow in respect to service and facilities.
>
> Accordingly, the courts have declared that the propriety of an order of the commission in these respects can be considered and decided by the courts, which thus become substituted for the commission, just as if the acts of the Legislature could be reviewed by the courts and set aside because the record of evidence was not sufficient to support or validate a statute. The result is that orders of the commission which are contested do not go into effect at once, but can be kept in litigation for a long time, their efficacy thus being made to depend, not upon their correctness, but upon a written record of evidence.

Chairman Willcox of the commission was in Albany yesterday conferring with Gov. Hughes, and in his absence none of the members would discuss this phase of the report for publication. It was learned, however, that the commission feels that the review of its orders in certiorari proceedings has led to serious interference with its ability to serve the public.

The Commissioners are convinced that their duties are administrative, rather than judicial, and that they ought to be free to form their conclusions upon whatever investigation they choose to make, aside from the written record. It is contended in this connection that the proposed change will not affect a proper appeal to the courts from any of its orders, but will simply require, in such instances, that both sides must submit their cases on the facts and let the court decide from the production of original evidence, pro and con, whether the order of the commission to which exception is taken be justified.

Wants Its Position Defined.

The commission also wants the law amended so as to give it power in franchise cases to determine not only the matter of public convenience and necessity, but the terms of the franchise itself, in their relation to the interests of the State. This, and the recommendation that its power over the issuance of securities be defined so as to get around the recent decision of the Court of Appeals in the Delaware & Hudson mortgage case, comprise the two recommendations of the report next in order of importance to that regarding the court review. Relating to these matters, the commission says:

> The public service commissions law requires that, before construction or operation of a railroad under a franchise can begin, the approval and permission of the commission must be granted. It is of the greatest importance that franchise terms should be harmonious in the cities of the State, and that extravagant and perpetual rights should not be granted to public service corporations. The courts have held that the commission is limited to a consideration of the present convenience and necessity of a railroad, quite regardless of franchise terms, which may be considered by the commission as hostile to the public interests. The result is that the public service law does no more than the railroad law, which has for many years required the State Railroad Board to pass on the question of public convenience and necessity.

Unable to Touch Bottom Evils.

> One of the main purposes of the law was supposed to be the prevention of stock-watering. The courts have held, however, that the words used in the section relating to this subject only require the commission to determine whether stock and bonds sought to be issued come within one of the four purposes stated in the section; i. e., the acquisition of property, construction of its facilities, improvement and maintenance of its service, or the discharge or refunding of its obligations. The result is that this construction of the words used in the act deprives the commissions of power to stop stock-watering, for it is easy for the companies to bring within the four legal purposes sums that never should be capitalized, as, for instance, expenses of operation, taxes, replacements, or even dividends.
>
> Powers in the commissions to regulate rates and service, to prevent construction under franchises that do not safeguard the public welfare, and to prevent stock-watering, have been considered the main advantages of the new law. Without them the commissions can hardly touch fundamental evils. It is highly desirable that the essential purposes of the law be reëstablished.

The commission recommends the amendment of the railroad law in several particulars for the purpose of harmonizing obsolete provisions that now produce confusion as to the power of the commission to deal with grade crossing and other controversies.

The report tells of the action of the commission toward improvement of service on traction lines of the city, and states that "the service rendered by transportation companies is now better than ever before in proportion to the physical conditions and the volume of travel."

Postmaster E. D. Morgan issued a statement yesterday covering the money-order business transacted through the New York Post Office in 1909. The statement showed that $46,213,316 was paid out here on domestic money orders and that domestic orders were issued for $12,350,755. Money orders calling for $71,295,004 were certified to foreign countries, as against $9,207,639 certified from foreign countries.

The number of transactions increased 10.47 per cent. over 1908, and the amount of money handled increased 10.73 per cent. The total revenue from all money-order operations was $3,417,625 and the profit on bills of exchange purchased during the year $269,060.31.

PLAGIARISM PROFITS TO REAL AUTHOR

So Rules the Court in the Case of "The Heir to the Hoorah," Play Like Unto a Story.

DECISION FOR MRS. DAM

Husband's Theme Used in the Paul Armstrong Play, Court Says, and La Shelle Company Must Pay Her.

A decision of interest to authors was handed down yesterday by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. Writers whose copyrighted stories are appropriated without their consent by successful playwrights are entitled to all the profits of the plays, the court holds. The decision was in the suit which Henry J. W. Dam, a writer, who has since died, brought four years ago against the Kirk La Shelle Theatrical Company, when it was producing "The Heir to the Hoorah" all over the country with great success.

Mr. Dam wrote a short story called "The Transmogrification of Dan" some years ago. It was about a prospector, who discovers a rich mine. Becoming wealthy he marries into society and lets himself be bullied and despised by his wife and mother-in-law, until his son is born. Then he recovers his self-respect and dignity through the responsibilities of fatherhood. Mr. Dam sold it for $85 to the Smart Set, which copyrighted and printed it. At a theatre several years later, Mr. Dam declared, he was considerably surprised to recognize his little eight-page story in Paul Armstrong's successful play, "The Heir to the Hoorah." Mr. Dam got the Smart Set to assign him its interest in the copyright. Then he started suit against the Kirk La Shelle Company.

Andrew Gilhooley of 5 Beekman Street, Mr. Dam's lawyer, contended that when a playwright dramatizes a copyrighted story without the consent of the author all the profits realized from the play should be awarded to the author, even though the dramatist may have incorporated additional matter.

After Mr. Dam's death the suit was carried on by his widow, Dorothy Dorr, the actress. Oddly enough, Mr. Dam wrote his story, which was founded on the inspiration of fatherhood, not long after the birth of his own son.

In its decision yesterday the United States Circuit Court of Appeals holds that the infringement of the copyright consisted of the use of the theme of the story, the change produced in the character of a husband by becoming a father.

"A playwright," says the court, "who appropriates the theme of another's story cannot, in our opinion, escape the charge of infringement by adding to or slightly varying its incidents even if none of the language of the story is used in the play.

"In our opinion, the playwright deliberately appropriated the story and dramatized it."

As to compensation for the infringement, the court says in substance that, to adjudge all the play's profits to the author of the story, who took no financial risks in producing the play, seems at first unjust, but the author of a story could not prove how much he was damaged or how much of the profits he deserved. Neither could he follow the theatrical company all over the country, seeking relief through injunctions. Making the theatrical company accountable for all the profits was the only way to keep copyrighted but undramatized books and stories from being appropriated. The complainant was entitled to recover the whole profits from the play.

TAFT AT ACTORS' FUND FAIR.

President Accepts Invitation to Make the Opening Address.

President Taft has accepted an invitation to attend and make the opening address at the Actors' Fund fair, to be held during the week of May 9 at the Seventy-first Regiment Armory. The invitation was extended by Charles Burnham, general manager of the fair, and by Daniel Frohman, President of the Actors' Fund of America.

Mr. Burnham said last night that President Taft's acceptance had been positive. He expressed his hearty sympathy with the object of the fair and of the Actors' Fund of America. President Taft has always taken a deep interest in the theatre and has been a frequent attendant. Mrs. Taft, too, is very fond of the theatre.

Reception to ex-Justice Patterson.

A reception will be tendered by the Bar Association to ex-Presiding Justice Edward Patterson of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of the First Department, who retired on account of the age limit on Jan. 1. The date of the reception has not yet been fixed by the committee of the association, but it will occur some time this month. The reception will be held in the library of the association building, in West Forty-fourth Street. The committee having the matter in charge is Joseph H. Choate, John E. Parsons, William G. Choate, Elihu Root, John L. Cadwalader, ex-Presidents of the association, and Christian N. Bovee.

HOME AIDS TO BEAUTY.

COMPLEXION BEAUTIFIER—A fine complexion beautifier that will soften and whiten the skin and take away that oily, sallow, coarse look, is made by dissolving four ounces of spurmax in a half-pint of hot water and adding two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. Applied to the face, neck and arms, this lotion wonderfully improves the appearance. It is much better than face powder, as it does not show on the face or rub off so easily. It gives the skin a pink, healthy and youthful appearance. Spurmax lotion is inexpensive, and there is nothing better for removing and preventing freckles, cold sores and chapping of the skin. You can buy spurmax and glycerine at any drug store.

DELIGHTFUL SHAMPOO—Soap and many high-priced, ready-prepared shampoos are dangerous to use on the hair, as they contain alkali, which takes the life out of the hair and leaves it dry, dull and brittle, and often causes it to become streaky. A reliable, refreshing shampoo is made by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. It lathers abundantly, cleans the hair and scalp thoroughly, removes dandruff, and stops itching of the scalp. This shampoo dries quickly and leaves the hair bright, soft and fluffy. You can get a canthrox shampoo at almost any hair-dresser's or you can buy canthrox from your druggist and shampoo with it at home.

HAIR TONIC—Dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, with split ends are caused by the presence of germs. A good quinine hair tonic that will kill the germs, remove dandruff permanently and restore the hair and scalp to a healthy condition can be made by dissolving an ounce of quinzoin in one-half pint alcohol, then adding one-half pint cold water. Rub this tonic into the scalp twice a week. It will prove very refreshing, invigorating and make the hair soft and glossy, and encourage an abundant growth of hair. It is fine for winter use, as it dries quickly.

FACE CREAM—An excellent complexion cream that contains no oils or fats to encourage a growth of hair can be made by dissolving an ounce of almozin in one-half pint cold water and adding two teaspoonfuls glycerine. Stir briskly and let stand over night. There is nothing better for taking out of the pores of the skin the oil and dirt which soap and water will not remove. It makes a harsh, dry skin moist, soft and velvety, with regular applications, and is excellent for massaging, to remove and prevent wrinkles, freckles and blackheads. It is splendid for making large pores in the skin smaller, and fine for rough, chapped face and hands during the cold weather.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Mrs. James B. Haggin will give a large dinner this evening at her residence on Fifth Avenue.

Mrs. Henry Siegel entertained yesterday with a luncheon of fourteen covers at her residence for Mrs. Cosmo Bordon-Lennox of London.

MISS BOULTON WEDS.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Boulton a Bride in Grace Episcopal Church.

There was a large and fashionable attendance yesterday afternoon at the wedding of Newbold Lawrence Herrick, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Herrick, to Miss Pauline E. Boulton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Boulton of 40 Fifth Avenue, which took place in Grace Protestant Episcopal Church, Broadway and Tenth Street.

The Rev. Henry Lubeck, rector of the Church of Zion and St. Timothy, officiated at the ceremony, which was accompanied by a choral service by the church choir. Mr. Boulton gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown was of white satin covered with duchess and point lace and she wore a long court train. The tulle veil was fastened with orange blossoms and an ivory-bound prayer book was carried in place of the usual bridal bouquet.

Miss Marion Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Stevenson, was Miss Boulton's maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a gown of yellow satin embroidered in gold and large hat of yellow tulle edged with cloth of gold and trimmed with yellow roses. Miss Stevenson carried a sheaf of deep red roses tied with ribbons of yellow gauze.

Ethelbert I. Low was Mr. Herrick's best man and the ushers were Cornelius W. Wickersham, Noel and Paul Herrick, Harold E. Herrick, James W. Walsh, Francis Murray, Gardner B. Perry, William B. Boulton, Jr., and Howard Boulton.

There was a reception following the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boulton.

JAY GOULD NOT ENGAGED.

Report He Was to Wed Miss Wiborg Denied by Both Families.

The reported engagement of Miss Olga Wiborg, an heiress, and Jay Gould, the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Gould, was denied yesterday by Miss Wiborg's father and by the Goulds. It was said at the Gould residence last evening that Jay Gould was not engaged to any one. Mr. Wiborg is a member of the firm of Ault & Wiborg, a lithograph establishment at Pearl and Elm Streets.

George J. Gould, who was said to be seriously ill, is only suffering from a cold.

Mrs. Frank Gould Denies Engagement.

Mrs. Frank Gould emphatically denied yesterday evening the report of her engagement to Ralph Thomas, nephew of Washington B. Thomas of the Sugar Trust. Mrs. Gould received a divorce from Frank Gould several months ago after a temporary separation. Mr. Gould has since been sued by Miss Bessie de Voie, an actress. Mrs. Gould, who lives at 540 Park Avenue, has two little daughters, who, by the order of the court, divide their time between the parents.

Cook-Tracy Wedding Plans.

Preparations have been completed for the wedding of Miss Grace Bigelow Tracy, granddaughter of John Bigelow, and a daughter of Mrs. Charles Edward Tracy, to Thomas G. Cook of Baltimore, which is to be held on the afternoon of Thursday, Jan. 20, in St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Hugh Birckhead, rector, assisted by the Rev. Herbert Shipman of the Church of the Heavenly Rest. There will be a reception following at the residence of Mr. Bigelow, 21 Gramercy Park. Miss Tracy will have her sister, Miss Anne B. Tracy, for maid of honor, and her bridesmaids will be the Misses Muriel Morris, Anne Gardiner, Elinor Lee, Charlotte Harding, Jane Bigelow, and Miss Margaret Sloane.

Dr. Henry W. Cook will be his brother's best man, and the ushers chosen are Charles A. Lindley, Alfred Macy, and F. Gordon Bacon of New York; Otto Tod Mallery of Philadelphia, and John Marlborough, Jr., and Edwin W. Poe of Baltimore.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Cook will make their home in New York.

Mrs. A. D. B. Pratt's Dinner Dance.

Mrs. Alexander D. B. Pratt (Miss Beatrice Benjamin) gave a small dinner dance yesterday evening at the residence of her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Evarts Benjamin. There were fifty dinner guests, who were joined after dinner by additional friends of Mrs. Pratt.

Among those invited were Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. P. H. B. Frelinghuysen, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff, Mr. and Mrs. Paulding Fosdick, Mr. and Mrs. William Mayfield Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Morris, Miss Catherine Hamersley, Miss Virginia Alexandre, Miss Laura Livingston, Miss Beatrice Flagg, Miss Marjorie Gould, Miss Catherine McCook, Miss Evelyn Witherbee, Miss Frances Alexandre, Anthony Drexel, Phoenix Ingraham, Marshall Kernochan, Lydig Hoyt, F. Burrall Hoffman, Jr., Frederick de Rham, Harry Oelrichs, and Bayard Hoppin.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Marie Tempest, who begins a road tour on Jan. 24 in "Penelope," will return to New York in the Spring to appear at the Actors' Fund benefit before she returns to London. At the benefit she will sing several of her old songs.

Mayor Gaynor and a party of friends attended the performance of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" at Maxine Elliott's Theatre last night, occupying a stage box. This was said to be the first time Mayor Gaynor has attended the theatre in seven years.

At the Irving Place Theatre to-night the first performance of a two-act operetta, "Die Foerster Christ'l," ("Christ'l, the Forester's Daughter,") will be given.

Charles Frohman is negotiating with Sir Charles Wyndham and Mary Moore for an annual American engagement of the English players for a period of five years. The plan is to have them present a new play and one of their old successes each year.

Marguerite Clarke, the star of "The King of Cadonia," will offer a new musical number every two weeks during the run of the piece at Daly's Theatre.

Edna May Spooner, after a season in the South, has returned to New York and will open for a Spring season at the Bijou Theatre, Brooklyn, after a short rest.

MUSIC NOTES.

Oscar Hammerstein announced last evening that his opera comique company would make a seven weeks' tour of near-by cities, having completed its tour in Canada. It will be heard in Detroit, Cleveland, Rochester, New Haven, Hartford, Buffalo, and other cities, playing in the Shubert theatres.

"Il Maestro di Cappella" and "Don Pasquale" were given again at The New Theatre yesterday afternoon. In the former appeared Miss Rita Fornia and Mr. Pini-Corsi. In the latter Mme. de Pasquale and Messrs. Bonci and Scotti appeared.

HIGHER SHOE PRICES PLANNED BY MAKERS

Vegetarians and Automobiles Are Responsible for It, Says President Hanan.

LONGWORTH DEFENDS TARIFF

But Would Like to See Free Lumber, Iron Ore, and Coal—Hailed as the "Ohio Kid."

At the sixth annual dinner of the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' Association at the Hotel Astor last night Congressman Nicholas Longworth of Ohio discussed the Payne Tariff bill. He was enthusiastically cheered, especially when John H. Hanan, President of the association, referred to him as "the kid from Ohio." Three cheers were given for Theodore Roosevelt, three for President Taft, and three for "the kid." Nearly 300 interested in the shoe and leather trade were present and speeches were also made by Herbert S. Houston, the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, William H. McElroy, and Col. H. Anthony Dyer.

In his annual report to the association, President Hanan said that in all probability the price of boots and shoes would soon be increased. Vegetarians and others who have become anti-meat eaters in the hope of punishing the Meat Trust, and automobiles, he said, were mainly responsible.

"Cost of materials to shoe manufacturers have increased to the highest point in years," said President Hanan, "and there is prospect of further increase, while the trade conditions are such as to seriously handicap the manufacturer in securing higher prices for his product. There are a multitude of reasons for the increase of cost of leather. For the trimming of automobiles with leather in 1909 the hides of 500,000 cattle were used.

"There are also natural limitations in the supply of leather; decrease in the use of meats as food and the substitution of cereals and vegetables for food have reduced the supply of hides, and the cost has increased about 10 per cent. for shoe materials during the last year."

"I offer no excuse for my vote on the ground that I voted for a bad bill," said Mr. Longworth, in speaking of the Payne tariff bill, "but I defend it on the ground that the Payne law is a far better law than the Dingley law which it succeeded. I believe that I may fairly call myself a Republican of the progressive type. I know that I am as sincere and firm a believer, in those policies of progressive republicanism which are generally termed the Roosevelt policies, as any man in either house of Congress, whether he voted for or against the Payne bill. I would not give a cent for any man who did not vote upon the measure in accordance with his honest convictions, and I believe that every vote on the Tariff bill was so cast

"I have become more and more convinced that the protective principle is at the very foundation of the industrial prosperity of the people of my State and of the whole country. I am not of that school of protectionists, however, who believe that it is right to place a duty so high that it can afford a wall behind which, through monopoly or combination, any persons may stand to exact unfair and excessive profits from the consuming public. I do not worship any tariff schedule as a fetish, nor do I believe that any duty, merely because of its existence for a long number of years, has acquired a prescriptive right to live forever."

Mr. Longworth said he was convinced that the retention of a duty on hides threatened the very life of a great American industry. If the duty had been left, he said, the packers would have had practical control of the entire American supply and the independents would have been forced to buy their hides abroad and would have had to pay 15 per cent. duty upon every hide they bought.

The result of the Payne law, said Mr. Longworth, has been to decrease the duties on more than $5,000,000,000 worth of articles used in the daily life of the American people and to increase the duties on only about $270,000,000 worth of articles used for their consumption. Personally, he said, he wished the law had gone farther and placed on the free list besides oil the "three great basic materials of our National wealth—lumber, iron ore, and coal.

"We promised," he said, "that with the Payne law renewed prosperity would come to the country, and it has come. But with the great revival of business and industry there has also come an increase in the price of some of the necessaries of life. This is a serious thing, and we are going to try and find out just what are the causes of it."

If the price of boots and shoes went up, as he had heard, Mr. Longworth thought the manufacturers present wouldn't blame the Payne tariff.

"The expenses of living, even in the peaceful shades of Brooklyn," said Dr. Cadman amid general laughter, "have been climbing steadily up. Even the dead are no longer exempt."

Dr. Cadman had something to say about the vulgar and unnecessary extravagance of the wealthy who wasted their money in $50 and $100 dinners and Oriental luxury.

"The real need of America," he said, "is not a strong man in the White House, but a strong man in your homes."

MME. MAZARIN AS CARMEN.

Gives a Dramatic and Realistic Portrayal at the Manhattan.

Since Mr. Hammerstein opened his preliminary season of opera in September two singers have been seen and heard in the title part of "Carmen," Miss Sylva and Mme. Cavalieri. Last night a third Carmen was added to the list, that of Mme. Mazarin.

Miss Sylva's conception of the part was typically an opera comique one. Mme. Cavalieri's conception was gay and unalluring and succeeded in carrying with it little conviction. Mme. Mazarin's is dramatic and realistic, an extremely forceful conception. Various portrayers of this Spanish gypsy in the past have brought out the sordid details which may be associated with a character of this sort. Mme. Mazarin did not overdo this side of Carmen's nature, but, nevertheless, she emphasized it. Her Carmen is an interesting figure and on a higher plane vocally than her Aïda, the only other part in which she has yet been heard here.

Mme. Walter-Villa's Micaela is a charming operatic portrait. So much cannot be said for Mr. Lucas's Don Jose. Mr. Laskin was quite inadequate as the Toreador. Mr. de la Fuente conducted. The audience was of good size and seemed to be pleased with the evening's affair. The spoken dialogue version of the opera which Mr. Hammerstein introduced to his patrons during the preliminary season was again presented.

"Girl in the Taxi" Produced.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 12.—"The Girl in the Taxi," a comedy adapted from the French, was produced for the first time in America by Al H. Woods at the Grand Opera House to-night.

The cast contained Adele Ritchie, Jessie Millward, Frederick Bond, John Glendinning, Carter De Haven, Jeanette Bageard, Max Freeman, and Morgan Coman. The play will open its Chicago engagement at the Cort Theatre next week.

LONDON SEES "CAPT. KIDD."

Seymour Hicks's Musical Comedy Made from Davis's "The Dictator."

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Richard Harding Davis's play, "The Dictator," turned into a musical comedy by Seymour Hicks, was produced to-night at Wyndham's Theatre under the title of "Captain Kidd." So far as the story is concerned, "Captain Kidd" follows the lines of "The Dictator" pretty closely, and to-night's production thus has a better plot than most English musical comedies, but this is the utmost that can be said in its favor.

The lyrics are usually inept, the music is noisily unmelodious, and the costumes are glaringly inharmonious. However, two such London favorites as Seymour Hicks and Ellaline Terriss head the cast and the comedy may achieve a measure of success.

'GERMANIA' AT METROPOLITAN

Franchetti's Opera to be Presented with Mme. Destinn and Caruso.

Franchetti's "Germania" will receive its first American presentation one week from Saturday afternoon at the Metropolitan Opera House. Mr. Toscanini will conduct the performance, and in the cast will be Mme. Destinn, and Messrs. Caruso, Amato, and Didur.

On Monday evening "Tannhäuser" will be sung, and on this occasion Mr. Slezak will sing the title rôle for the first time here. The cast includes Mmes. Gadski and Fremstad and Messrs. Hinckley and Whitehill. On Tuesday a special performance of "Manon" will be given for the benefit of the French Hospital. The cast includes Miss Farrar and Messrs. Clement and Scotti. On Wednesday evening Mme. Nordica and Messrs. Jörn and Soomer are announced to appear in "Lohengrin." On Thursday evening "Madama Butterfly," with Miss Farrar and Messrs. Martin and Scotti, will be given On Friday "Orfeo," with Mmes. Homer, Gadski, Gluck, and Sparkes. Saturday evening "Faust," with Mme. Nordica and Messrs. Bonci, Gilly, and Didur.

At the New Theatre "Czaar und Zimmermann" will be given at the Thursday matinee and "Fra Diavolo" on Friday evening.

To-morrow night Mme. Noria will be heard as Marguerite in "Faust," instead of Mme. Nordica, who had been announced.

Otto Goritz has just received the golden medal of art and science from the Duke of Saxe-Altenburg.

"TOSCA" GIVEN AGAIN.

Mme. Fremstad Makes Her Second Appearance as the Heroine.

"Tosca" was given again at the Metropolitan Opera House last evening with Mme. Fremstad, Mr. Martin, and Mr. Amato in the chief parts. All had been heard before in them. It was Mme. Fremstad's second appearance in the opera which is this season the object of so much misplaced longing on the part of so many prima donnas. Nothing that Mme. Fremstad undertakes is without the stamp of the versatile and accomplished artist, and this impersonation has many strong qualities, most in evidence on the purely dramatic side, for there are certain passages in the music that lie ill for her voice, and that she can compass only with more or less of effort. She moved in the part with something more of freedom and certainty, naturally, than she did at her first attempt; but it is not at all likely that Tosca will ever be one of her most distinguished achievements.

Mr. Martin and Mr. Amato both do excellent things in this work. Mr. Tango conducted with much power and dramatic energy; sometimes too much, but it was a better performance than some of those that he had previously directed. The audience was rather a small one.

MISS VAN DEN HEUVEL DEAD.

Great-Granddaughter of Robert Morris, Signer of Declaration of Independence.

Miss Charlotte Augusta Van Den Heuvel, who is said to have been the last lineal descendant of Robert Morris, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, is dead at her residence, 106 East Twelfth Street, in her eighty-sixth year.

Miss Van Den Heuvel's father was the late Charles Apthorp Van Den Heuvel, who died in 1833. Her mother died in the Van Den Heuvel home in East Twelfth Street in 1885. Miss Van Den Heuvel was a great-granddaughter of Robert Morris. Her mother was a daughter of Thomas Morris, a son of the signer of the Declaration of Independence.

In the Van Den Heuvel home the furniture is of patterns of a hundred years ago.

Miss Van Den Heuvel is said to have been related to the late John Jacob Astor. She was a member of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, East Twelfth Street and Second Avenue.

JUDGE JOHN C. REED DEAD.

Noted Lawyer and Author Was Leader in "Ku Klux Clan."

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Jan. 12.—Judge John Calvin Reed of Atlanta, Ga., noted as a lawyer, author, and scholar, died here to-day, aged 73. He saw service throughout the civil war, in the Eighth Georgia Volunteers. He was an active leader in the "Ku Klux Klan."

John Calvin Reed was born at Appling, Ga. After being graduated from Princeton University in the Class of 1854, he studied law privately and was admitted to the bar three years later. At the outbreak of the civil war he enlisted in the Confederate Army and participated in several of the most important campaigns of the war. He was slightly wounded at the battle of Gettysburg, and when he returned to the front received other injuries which kept him in a hospital until a few months before the close of the war. He returned to his native State, holding several important political offices. He retired from active work in 1907, settling at Montgomery, Ala. He wrote several books, which are highly regarded by law scholars.

RUFUS N. RHODES DEAD.

Editor of Birmingham News and a Director of The Associated Press.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 12.—Rufus Napoleon Rhodes, President and editor of The Birmingham News, a Director of the Associated Press, and President of the Southern Publishers' Association, died to-day after a lengthy illness of Bright's disease and arterial trouble.

Mr. Rhodes was born at Pascagoula, Miss., on June 5, 1856. He was educated at the high school in his native city, afterward attending Stewart College and the Southwestern Presbyterian University at Clarksville, Tenn. After being graduated from the latter university, in 1873, Mr. Rhodes entered the law office of James E. Bailey of Clarksville, Tenn. Mr. Rhodes was admitted to the Tennessee bar in 1875 and after two years of successful practice was elected City Attorney of Clarksville. He served for four years, when he resigned to become a candidate for the lower house of the Tennessee Legislature. He was elected, but was defeated for a nomination for a second term. Mr. Rhodes then went to Chicago, where he practiced his profession for four years.

Mr. Rhodes went to Birmingham, Ala., in 1888 and founded The Birmingham News, with which paper he had been connected up to the time of his death. He had been prominent in the public life of Birmingham and the State of Alabama. He served as the delegate at large from Alabama to the Democratic National Conventions in 1892 and 1904.

Besides being a Director of The Associated Press Mr. Rhodes also served as Second Vice President of that organization. He took a great interest in the National Guard organization of Alabama and for the services which he performed in the interests of that organization was made a Brigadier General. He married Miss Margaret Smith of Clarksville, Tenn., in 1882.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—President Taft to-day sent a telegram of condolence to the widow of Rufus N. Rhodes, late editor of The Birmingham News. During his visit to Birmingham last Fall, President Taft called in Mr. Rhodes, who, at that time, had been taken with the illness which resulted in his death.

CHARLES HEAD FALLS DEAD.

Wealthy New York Broker Was ex-President of Boston Stock Exchange.

Charles Head, senior member of the Stock Exchange firm of Charles Head & Co., and ex-President of the Boston Stock Exchange, dropped dead of apoplexy in his office on the first floor of the Mills Building, 17 Broad Street, a few minutes after 10 o'clock yesterday morning. There was difficulty in getting a physician, and finally an ambulance call was sent to St. Gregory's Hospital.

When Mr. Head arrived he seemed to be in good health. As he picked up a handful of letters he was seen to drop them, clutch at his heart, and then fall from his chair on to the floor. He was picked up and carried into a private office. When the ambulance arrived Dr. Clarkson said Mr. Head had died instantly.

Mr. Head had been a sufferer from heart trouble for several years. His wife's death last Spring further tended to impair his health. He was in his sixty-first year.

He had been senior member of the firm since 1877. Prior to that the firm was known as Hill, Head & Co. The present firm is one of the old-time Stock Exchange houses. Mr. Head was not an active trader himself, as he was not a member of the Exchange. The floor business of the firm was done by the board members, William G. Borland and Dexter Blagden. The other members of the firm are James S. McCobb, James Sullivan, and Charles C. West.

The firm is mainly a Boston house, and Mr. Head had been prominent in Boston financial circles for several years. He was also well known socially there. The firm deals largely in mining stocks, particularly Canadian mines, and maintains a direct wire to Cobalt. They have branch offices in Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Ontario, and Providence, R. I.

The body was taken to the home of Mr. Head's sister, Mrs. Henry E. Howland, in this city. The funeral will be held from his Boston residence. Mr. Head left two daughters, Mrs. William A. Russell, a widow, and Mrs. Phillip Stockton, who is the wife of the President of the City Trust Company of Boston. Mr. Head was said to be worth about 2,000,000.

James Hannay, Canadian Historian, Dead.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 12.—James Hannay, one of the foremost historians in Canada, was found dead to-day in his room in the Pugsley Building. Paralysis was the cause of death. James Hannay, LL. D., was born in 1860. For many years he was the editor of The St. John Telegraph, and for a time was connected with The Brooklyn Eagle. It was as a historian that Dr. Hannay was better known.

If You Are Deaf—
You Need Remain So No Longer

Think of having sound magnified 400 per cent. That's what the Acousticon will do. But seldom is its full strength required.

No surer aid for defective ears exists. In ninety-nine cases out of every hundred it positively restores the lost sense. Where it fails is where the auditory nerve is entirely destroyed—a rare happening.

As the optician fits the eyes, we fit the ears of the individual. Precisely the same delicate care is used. And as lenses clear the eyesight, so the Acousticon clarifies sound to the ears.

Nor has this splendid invention a single objectionable feature. It is unannoying, and inconspicuous.

And the Acousticon's effects are positive and immediate. Science has never done more to assist nature.

These are actual, provable facts. Moreover, you must prove them to yourself before you can own an Acousticon.

ENTERPRISE

Few enterprises are free from the element of uncertainty.

Success is largely a matter of reducing that element to a minimum.

Yet few men enjoy as much latitude as an owner of New York real estate.

No perils inhere in New York building enterprises.

Behind every improvement is an array of economic facts and figures of such strength and magnitude as beggars description.

In no city on earth can property be improved under better auspices.

FRED EAMES NEW BILLIARD CHAMPION

Bostonian Wrests Three-Cushion Title from Alfredo De Oro, the Cuban.

FINAL SCORE 150 TO 137

De Oro, After Playing Poorly Two Previous Evenings, Comes Along with a Rush, but Fails to Win.

Fred Eames of Boston last night won the three-cushion billiard championship of the world from Alfredo De Oro of Cuba, the final score of the three nights' play at McGraw's Billiard Academy giving the Bostonian a total of 150 to 137 for his opponent. It was the big lead which Eames established in the play of the first two nights which was responsible for his winning the honor, for, on the basis of the scoring last evening, the Cuban was by all odds the better. While Eames was running out his concluding fifty points, De Oro gathered together 76 and nearly overhauled his rival.

During the play of the first two nights Eames was the steadier of the two, and De Oro was plainly off his game. The reverse was the case last evening, De Oro playing in even better form than is his custom. Difficult carroms were executed with ease, and the confidence which he displayed did much to make Eames unsteady despite his big lead at the start of play. The match extended for ninety-one innings, and the high run was made by De Oro, with a 5, and Eames made a best inning of 4.

What little betting there was last night made Eames the favorite, although there were many who still pinned their faith to the Cuban, basing their confidence on the fact that he had evidently been off his game in the play of the first two strings of 50. How well they were justified in their belief is shown by the score, which gives Eames an advantage of only 13 points.

Eames was the first at the table last night, and he failed to complete a carrom on his opening. De Oro also missed, but the Cuban went to the front in the next inning, when he clustered 2. This was the beginning of defeat for Eames in the night's play, and from this point on De Oro gradually drew up on his opponent, the new champion playing desperately to hold his advantage long enough to pull out a final victory. When De Oro had gathered in 76 points Eames completed his string of 50, and with it went the championship, possession of the Jordan-Lambert Trophy, and a side bet of $500.

"Pop" Anson Takes Billiard Game.

The three-cushion carrom billiard game between "Pop" Anson of Chicago and J. Dankelman yesterday afternoon at Doyle's Academy, Broadway and Forty-second Street, resulted in a victory for Anson by a score of 40 to 26 in 61 innings. The high run of 5 was made by Anson.

Boyd Wins Amateur Billiards.

F. A. Boyd, playing 215 points against 200 for G. D. Baxter in the amateur billiard handicap at the Knickerbocker Billiard Academy, Brooklyn, last night, ran out his string of 215 while Baxter was accumulating 137 points.

FOOTBALL PLAYER MISSING.

Michigan's Deposed Captain Disappeared from Detroit Jan. 4.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 12.—Considerable comment has been occasioned by the report that Joy Miller, University of Michigan football player, has been missing since Jan. 4. He left Detroit ostensibly to go to Ann Arbor to reply to the charges that resulted in his election as football Captain being repudiated on the ground that he had not been a regular student during the football season.

Miller's father, James G. Miller, said to-day that criticism and football injuries had possibly unsettled the young man's mind temporarily. Mr. Miller senior said he had made every effort to locate his son, but without success.

Middies to Play Army Nov. 26.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 12.—Six games of football have been definitely decided upon for the Naval Academy team for the season of 1910, including the annual contests with the Military Academy, which will take place on Nov. 26 on Franklin Field, Philadelphia. The games which will be played at Annapolis and which have already been arranged are: Oct. 1, St. John's; 8, Rutgers; 15, Washington and Jefferson. Nov. 5, Lehigh; '19, New York University.

The latter is a new opponent of the midshipmen. Games with Princeton and the University of Chicago may also be arranged.

Moore Wins Ten-Mile Race.

S. Moore captured the feature event, a ten-mile race, of the annual indoor games of the Father Matthew T. A. B. Society of Newark at the First Regiment Armory, Newark, last night. There were fully twenty starters in the event, and the majority of these were well bunched for the first five miles, but after this point was reached Moore opened up a gap on the remainder of the field. J. Hayes and J. Crowley, a brother of Jim Crowley of the Irish-American Club, forced Moore all the way and when the latter crossed the tape he was only a few yards ahead of the duo.

The Xavier Athletic Club of New York landed all three prizes in the 300-yard run, E. Coyle getting the first honors and M. Ryan of the Irish-American Athletic Club landed the gold medal in the mile handicap. The summaries:

70-Yard Dash, Handicap, Open.—Won by J. McMasters, Acorn A. C., (10 feet;) C. Steinert, New York A. C., (6 feet,) second; J. Ryan, South Paterson A. C., (4 feet,) third. Time—0:08 2-5.

70-Yard Dash, Handicap, Slosed to Regiment.—Won by E. Ritter, Company L, (5 feet;) I Conder, Company B, (scratch,) second; S. Meeker, Company B, (4 feet,) third. Time—0:08 2-5.

Half-Mile Run, Handicap.—Won by C. Sinclair, St. Mary's T. A. B., (42 yards;) E. Gilman, Dominican Lyceum, (30 yards,) second; E. McLoughlin, Loughlin Lyceum, (25 yards,) third. Time—1:55 1-5.

Running High Jump, Handicap.—Won by S. J. Mulligan, Grace A. C., (4 inches,) actual jump 5 feet 6 inches; R. S. Mills, Newark High School, (6 inches,) actual jump 5 feet, second; C. B. Clark, Xavier A. C., (6 inches,) actual jump 4 feet 6 inches, third.

300-Yard Dash, Handicap, Open.—Won by E. Coyle, Xavier A. C., (12 yards;) H. Holy, Xavier A. C., (14 yards,) second; H. Hyland, Xavier A. C., (scratch,) third. Time—0:31.

One-Mile Run, Handicap.—Won by M. Ryan, Irish-American A. C., (80 yards;) W. Strobach, Elizabeth Y. M. C. A., (80 yards,) second; V. Clark, Newark Institute, (80 yards,) third. Time—4:30 2-5.

Medley Relay Race, Handicap.—Won by South Paterson A. C., (132 yards:) Xavier A. C., (65 yards,) second; Brooklyn Central Y. M. C. A., (154 yards,) third. Time—7:47 3-5.

Ten-Mile Scratch Race.—Won by S. Moore, Knickerbocker A. C.; J. Hayes, Company E, First Regiment, second; T. Brady, Newark T. A. B., third. Time—59:26.

Yachtsmen Go in for Aeronautics.

That the Thousand Islands Yacht Club is going in for flying in the air as well as on the surface of the water is evidenced by the fact made known yesterday that they will exhibit to-night, at their banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria, a new aeroplane, all ready for flight, besides nine models of various types of flying machines. It will also be announced at the dinner that the club has ordered twenty high-power motor boats of the same model and design, to be used in racing on the St. Lawrence next Summer. Races will be held twice a week for cups of small value, and during the latter part of July the big race will be run in which the Chippewa Bay Yacht Club is preparing to enter with a $20,000 motor boat. Twenty members of the yacht club have formed an Aero Club.

Princeton Downs C. C. N. Y.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 12.—In a rough contest the Princeton basket ball team defeated the College of the City of New York five here to-night by the score of 24 to 23. The game was hotly contested throughout, and the score was several times tied. The playing of both sides, however, was not of a very high calibre, and more aggressiveness than skill in play was displayed. White, Heath, and F. C. Hughes were the individual stars for Princeton, while Hess and Kahlar drew the applause for the College of the City of New York. Veder, the Tiger Captain, did not play, owing to an injury received in a previous game. The line-up:

Princeton, 24.	Positions.	C. C. N. Y., 23.
C. White	Forward	Kaufmann
Goursehler, Heath	Forward	Kahlar
Hughes	Centre	Hess
Warner	Guard	Perlman
F. C. Hughes	Guard	Freeman

Goals from field—White, (4,) Heath, (2,) B. Hughes, F. C. Hughes, Kaufmann, (Gourschler,) Kahlar, (4,) Hess. Goals from fouls—Heath, (8,) Perlman, (9.) Referee—P. P. Carney, Philadelphia. Time of halves—Twenty minutes.

Yale Freshmen Beaten Easily.

Stuyvesant High School defeated Yale Freshmen in a fast basket ball game last evening at the City College Gymnasium by the score of 41 to 25. Although the score was rather one-sided, the game was full of thrilling moments, and the large crowd that crowded the galleries and main floor were kept on their feet throughout the game. Friedland and Dowling were the cause of Yale's defeat, as these two lads were the backbone of the entire game.

In the preliminary games Public School 62 Seniors defeated the Stuyvesant Midgets in a game that required an extra session to decide the winner, by the score of 21 to 14. The line-up:

Yale, (25.)	Positions.	Stuyvesant, (41.)
J. Reilly Osborne,	Left forward	Friedland
E. Reilly	Right forward	Jacobson
Bromeisler	Centre	Long
Rudell, Welton	Left guard	Dowling
Coates	Right guard	Hoops

Goals from field—Reilly, (6,) Osborne, (3,) E. Reilly, (3,) Friedland, (8,) Jacobson, (4,) Dowling, (4,) Long, Hoops. Goals from foul—Friedland, (4,) Osborne. Referee—W. Stillman. Umpire—J. Head, Swarthmore. Time of halves—Twenty minutes.

Columbia Grammar School Wins.

In a game marked by considerable roughness Columbia Grammar School yesterday defeated Cutler School, on the former's court, by a score of 47 to 16. Williams, Cohn, and Hawks of the winning five, made sensational field goals, Cohn caging 13. The line-up:

Columbia.	Position.	Cutler.
Hawks	Centre	Cobden
Williams	Right forward	McKinley
Steindler	Right guard	Flint

Goals from field—Cohn, (13,) Williams, (5,) Steindler, Hawks, (2,) Fish, (3,) McKinley, and Cobden. Goals from fouls—Williams, (5,) Welsh, (6.) Referee—Mr. Cerussi of Columbia. Umpire—Mr. Higgins. Timekeeper—Mr. Weingarten.

Kingsley School Beat Eureka A. C.

Kingsley School beat the Ureka A. C. basket ball team in the former's court at Essex Fells, N. J., yesterday by the score of 36 to 28.

Groff School Wins Close Game.

Groff School basket ball team defeated the Hackley School team at Tarrytown yesterday by the score of 22 to 20.

Miller Re-elected Fencing Captain.

C. B. Miller, '10, was re-elected Captain of the Columbia fencing team yesterday. At the annual meeting of the fencing association the following officers were elected: President, S. Pitt, '12, S.; Vice President, C. B. Miller, '10. Welles Riley, '11, Secretary-Treasurer, was re-elected.

Sharkey A. C. Reopens with Bouts.

The Sharkey Athletic Club, at Columbus Avenue and Sixty-fifth Street, reopened last evening, the main bout being a ten-round go between Young Tommy Murphy and Kid Ghetto. Murphy had a shade the better of the mill. A good-sized crowd saw the bouts, and for the first five rounds Murphy jabbed Ghetto with a straight left. Then Ghetto got busy with his left in the sixth, and both boys were very tired in the seventh. They slugged hard in the ninth. There were three fast preliminary bouts.

Bank Clerks' Baseball League.

The bank clerks in the financial district are to have a regular organized baseball league this season, and will contest for a silver cup which has been presenteded by Vice President Frev of the Corn Exchange Bank. The movement started among the members of the Chase Bank Club, and the institutions so far represented besides the Chase National Bank, are the Chemical National Bank, the Gallatin National Bank, the Irving National Exchange Bank, the Corn Exchange Bank, and the Knickerbocker Trust Company.

TO HEAR SHEPPARD CASE.

M. A. L. Committee Will Examine Witnesses in Philadelphia To-night.

The first move by the Military Athletic League to ferret out the charges made against Melvin W. Sheppard and W. J. Hayes when they were suspended by the Military Athletic League of Philadelphia for failing to compete in an event in which they were entered at games in Philadelphia recently will take place to-night when a committee appointed from the governing body of the Military Athletic League will examine witnesses in the case at Philadelphia. The sub-committee which will leave for Philadelphia this afternoon to consider the matter is made up of Major Turpin of the Thirteenth Regiment, Lieut. Col. Garcia of the Fourteenth Regiment, Major Fleming, staff officer of the Coast Artillery, and Capt. Huen of the Seventy-first Regiment.

The officers appointed to investigate the case will make a report of their findings to the main body at a meeting here probably the first of the week, and then it will be known what the fate of the two athletes will be.

The Military Athletic League is affiliated with the Amateur Athletic Union, and in case of suspension the matter will be reported to the A. A. U. and it will, according to its agreement with the Military Athletic League, be forced to suspend the two men also.

Major Turpin, one of the committee, said yesterday: "This is a serious matter, and we are going to thrash it to the fullest extent. We hope to finish our work in Philadelphia by Thursday night, and we will then report to the main committee here for final action. Neither Sheppard nor Hayes will be called to Philadelphia, but they will receive a hearing in this city."

Columbia Riflemen's Dates.

The schedule of the Columbia University rifle team, which was announced yesterday, gives the impression that the local college marksmen will have to make some long trips in the next few months, for the list of contests begins with the University of Louisiana and ends with the University of Nevada. All eight meets, however, will be under the National Rifle Association, which provides that each college shall do its shooting on its own range and forward the results by telegraph to the association in Washington, which will tabulate the results and announce the winners. The Columbia team will shoot at the range of the Ninth Regiment Armory in this city. Major F. A. Welles of the Third Regiment will act as supervisor and umpire. The schedule:

Jan. 13, University of Louisiana; 20 Cornell University Rifle Club; 27, University of Idaho; Feb. 10, George Washington; 24, United States College of Veterinary Surgeons; March 3, Delaware College; 10, University of Nevada.

Palace Show a Big Success.

The Automobile Show held by the American Motor Car Manufacturers at the Grand Central Palace last week was one of the most successful ever held in this country. This fact came out yesterday when Chairman R. E. Olds of the Show Committee made his report to the association. A dividend of 72 per cent. on the amount paid for space was declared to the Importers' Automobile Salon and the Motor and Accessory Manufacturers, who were interested in the show with the organization of makers. The resignation of Alfred Reeves as general manager was accepted with regrets.

It was voted by the association to present R. E. Olds, Chairman of the 1910 Show Committee, a suitable token in appreciation of his leadership in connection with the show, which closed at the Grand Central Palace last Friday night.

National Riflemen Meet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Robert Bacon, American Ambassador to France, was elected a benefactor and Secretary of the Navy Meyer a patron and both honorary Directors for life of the National Rifle Association of America at the annual meeting here to-night of the organization. Secretary of War Dickinson and Lieut. Gen. John C. Bates, U. S. A., retired, also were elected honorary life Directors. Last year a deficit in the revenues of the association was made good by Secretary Meyer, and this year by Mr. Bacon. The report of the Secretary showed that there are now affiliated with the association 32 State organizations, 87 regiments, 53 separate military establishments, 81 civilian rifle clubs, 18 college, and 56 schoolboy clubs.

Ketchel Would Fight Burns.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 12.—Stanley Ketchel has sent a cable message to Hugh McIntosh, the fight promoter, that he is willing to meet Tommy Burns in Australia. The match probably will be made and the fight take place in Sydney about Easter. Bob Fitzsimmons will train Ketchel.

Trouble Ahead for Big Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—John L. Herget, Chairman of the Police Committee of the new Board of Supervisors, but better known to the sporting public as "Young Mitchell," announced to-day he would not grant a permit for the Jeffries-Johnson fight unless the match is directed by a local man.

Navy Track and Field Schedule.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 12.—The Naval Academy schedule of intercollegiate field and track meets was issued to-day, showing contests with four other institutions, and in addition an interclass meet, which this season is placed at the end instead of at the beginning of the schedule. The schedule follows: April 23, Princeton; 30, Carlisle. May 7, Columbia; 14, Lafayette; 21, interclass.

NEW SKATING ASSOCIATION.

States That Another Ruling Body in the East Will Be Formed.

According to one E. B. Goate a new amateur skating association will be formed in the next few days to control the sport in this section of the country, and when organized it will be known as the Eastern Skating Association. Louis Rubenstein, President of the International Skating Union, will leave Canada for New York this evening, and on his arrival will consult with Fred Tucker, Jr., and David Slayback on the lines to be followed in organizing the association. The union is affiliated with the Amateur Athletic Association, and all skaters are warned against competing in any races in Greater New York with the exception of the following, which are sanctioned: Jan. 15, Saratoga Park Rink, Brooklyn; Jan. 22, Verona Lake, New Jersey; Jan. 23, Saratoga Park Rink, Brooklyn; Jan. 24, St. Nicholas Rink. Entries for one or all of these race meets can be made with C. J. Bowie of St. Nicholas Rink. Mr. Rubenstein has consented to act as referee at the race meet on Saturday at Saratoga Park.

Boston Nationals' Spring Trip.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—Plans for the Spring trip of the Boston National League baseball team were announced by President John S. C. Dovey to-day on his return to this city. President Dovey will leave Cincinnati on March 14 for Augusta, Ga., with the Western members of his team, while Manager Fred Lake will start from here with the Eastern aggregation, so as to arrive at Augusta about the same time. The club will have two weeks at the training camp at Augusta. Fewer Spring exhibition game will be played this season, only five having been scheduled thus far.

Boston Releases Roy Thomas.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—Roy Thomas, left fielder of the Boston National baseball team, has been unconditionally released. He will coach the baseball team of Pennsylvania University next Spring.

Breitenstein to Become Umpire.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 12.—Theodore Breitenstein, former St. Louis and Cincinnati pitcher, who has been playing in the Southern League for seven years, will retire to enter the field as an umpire. He has been promised a position on President Kavanaugh's staff.

Pitcher Staley Dies at Battle Creek.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 12.—Harry Staley of Springfield, formerly a pitcher with Boston, St. Louis, Pittsburg, and other National League teams, died in Battle Creek, Mich., to-day following an operation. He was 44 years old.

Road Drivers Hold Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Road Drivers' Association of New York was held at the Hotel Cadillac last night. Succeeding the reading of the reports of the Secretary and Treasurer, the meeting proceeded to the election of officers for the coming year. The nominees of the Nominating Committee were in all but one case elected without a contest. The exception was the running of J. J. Corkery as an independent candidate for Second Vice President against George H. Huber, the committee's nominee. The latter won, and the election was then made unanimous by Mr. Corkery's request.

The officers for 1910 are: President—Joseph F. Gibbons; First Vice President—William J. Clark; Second Vice President—George H. Huber; Third Vice President—E. J. La Place, and Secretary and Treasurer—Dr. Joseph Semon.

The report telegraphed from Detroit that the Grand Circuit Racing Association had given a sanction to the New York Road Drivers' Association for a meet at Brighton Beach track was denied by Secretary Semon. He said that it was to the New York Driving Club that the sanction had been given.

Overwhelmed!

We said at the start that the cut-out chassis of the Chalmers-Detroit was to be one of the greatest exhibits at the Garden Show and advised every one to come early so they would not have to look over the other fellow's head. The Saturday night reception proved we were right.

We realized then, that with only one cut-out chassis, all the people who desired to see the inside workings of this wonderful car would not be able to do so satisfactorily.

To insure that every one would have an opportunity to see this great educational exhibit, we telephoned the factory at Detroit to send to New York by express the cut-out chassis which had been prepared for exhibit at Chicago. This chassis arrived yesterday, and is now on display.

We regret that we did not have both chassis here in the first place, but are still compelled to say:

"COME EARLY, OR YOU WILL HAVE TO LOOK OVER THE OTHER FELLOW'S HEAD."

Of course there is a complete display of all models of the

AEROPLANE HORN VISITS AUTO SHOW

Its Day of Usefulness Has Not Come Yet, but It Is Ready for Service.

BRISK DAY FOR SALESMEN

Present Supply of Cars of Agents Exhibiting at the Garden Nearly Exhausted by Eager Purchasers.

Something really novel made its appearance at the automobile show at Madison Square Garden yesterday. It was an aeroplane horn pitched to several different keys, and with a screech that can be heard a long distance. While enthusiastic motorists believe that the aeroplane horn at this time is a little ahead of its time, it attracted much attention. It is similar to an electric auto horn, and may be attached to the bottom of the plane and operated by means of a belt driven from a gear in the side of the horn to the flywheel of the motor. Light weight chains of aeroplane motors are also on exhibition.

It was another big day at the automobile show, and the throngs who attended taxed the capacity of the building during the day and evening. The retail business was brisk, and numerous sales were reported. One of the officials said yesterday that he believed that fully 50 per cent. of the makers at the show have already disposed of their present supply. Many of the representatives refuse to promise shipments before March 1. The show is proving to be a great educator, and people who never rode in a car perambulate up and down the aisles talking automobile as glibly as the man who has two or three cars in his garage. The show emphasizes the fact that makers this season are endeavoring to put forth the best material and construction and produce a car which is more complete in detail than ever before.

Among the new models it is noticed that there is no great difference in the size of wheels. Only one car in the show has 42-inch wheels, and there are a few which are 38, but the tendency seems to keep to the wheels of 42 inches.

Interest in the motor cycle exhibit in the basement is keener than ever. The products of the members of the Motor Cycle Manufacturers' Association are grouped in and around both ends of the "Tunnel" and as far back as the Fourth Avenue end of the Garden, and for real genuine enthusiasm the visitor must visit the basement. The commercial vehicle display in the basement of the Garden is proving decidedly attractive to the merchants of this and other cities, and much business is being transacted. Certain merchants have made several visits to the commercial vehicle department with the purpose of securing data as to the relative merits and cost of maintenance of horse-drawn and motor-driven vehicles. Almost all of the commercial vehicles are double chain driven, and this year seem to possess increased power. Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, has spent several hours at the show during the past few days. While taking full cognizance of the gasoline cars, he paid particular attention to the electrics. What interested him as much as any one other thing was the lighting system for motor vehicles, which is accomplished by attaching a dynamotor or generator to the fly wheel, which recharges the batteries and furnishes sufficient power for the lighting of the lamps.

NOTES OF THE GARDEN SHOW.

A 1910 model of the new Rambler was put to a remarkably severe test of endurance during the past week. E. J. Wall of the New England branch of Thomas B. Jeffery & Co. left Boston the day before Christmas in a Rambler demonstrator to spend the holidays at his home in Hartford, Conn., and the return trip was made under the most trying circumstances. Leaving Hartford Wednesday morning, he was told that no car had gone through to Boston since the storm, and it seemed almost impossible to make the trip over the road under existing conditions. Nevertheless the attempt was made. The strain on the car as well as on the driver, was unusually severe, but aside from tire trouble, caused largely by broken chains, no car trouble of any kind was experienced.

Since the opening of the automobile exhibition in Madison Square Garden, the question has frequently been asked why George B. Selden, being the father of them all, the Selden exhibit should be placed on the elevated platform, instead of on the main floor. General Manager Salmons of the Selden Motor Vehicle Company made this simple explanation: The space for exhibits was divided off in accordance with the amount each manufacturer has paid in royalties to the association. The Selden Motor Vehicle Company is comparatively new in the field, and, of course, takes its place in the Garden under the established rule.

Two of the most notable new models at the Madison Square Garden Automobile Show are the 4-30 Riverside and the 6-60 Dreadnought, shown by Palmer & Singer. The Riverside is a two-seated runabout fully inclosed. The dash is continued far up, making a very strong wind shield, and the steering tube follows the line of the dash at an extreme angle. The body is molded aluminium, and the levers are outside, the body being curved in to permit easy operation of the car. The runabout has but one door, on the left-hand side. The back of the car is finished in true torpedo lines, with gasoline tank behind the seat, tire carriers, and locker room at the back. The car is in red, weighs about 2,600 pounds, and is an ideal car for a doctor. The Dreadnought suggests in its lines the power and swiftness of its namesake. It has a victoria top, and is finished in pigskin.

Important improvements and additions have been made to the Detroit electric line for 1910, which has been increased in number to nine models by the addition of four models on the roadster chassis. The wheel base of two victoria models and the two and four passenger broughams has been lengthened to 80 inches, to secure even better riding qualities, but the most notable change is the entire rearrangement of the power plant. The motor is dropped below the floor of the car, which results in eliminating motor noise inside the body, lowering the centre of gravity and permitting equipment with an effectual emergency countershaft brake. With this new brake, the Detroit now has an equipment of five separate and distinct brakes—the usual set of foot brakes to the hubs, the countershaft brake, and the motor brake. This is the only electric car equipped with a countershaft brake, which, in operation, is decidedly unique, and is said to be wonderfully efficient, and is further characterized as one of the greatest improvements made in the electric vehicle industry.

One of the particularly interesting features at the Cadillac exhibit is the demonstration of the use of test tools which made it possible to so perfectly standardize the essentially accurate parts of the car so that there will not be the variation of the one-thousandth part of an inch in size, and which enables the user to renew any part of his car and have the part fit without the slightest altering—not requiring the use of even emery cloth. As an example, the testing of the size of the cylinder bore is demonstrated. After the cylinder is bored and ground, two test gauges are brought into use. One gauge measures exactly 4.250 inches in diameter, and is marked "Go." The other measures 4.252 inches in diameter and is marked, "Not Go." The cylinders must be so perfect in diameter and roundness that the gauge marked "Go" must enter it, and the gauge marked "Not Go" must not enter it.

The largest automobile order ever given by a dealer was placed yesterday by Carl H. Page with Hugh Chalmers. Although the 1910 season is not nearly over, Mr. Page and Mr. Chalmers made their contract covering the 1911 season. This calls for the delivery to Mr. Page of 800 Chalmers-Detroit "30's," and 200 Chalmers-Detroit "40's." The total net business, exclusive of equipment, is $1,730,000. "We have not seen the Chalmers-Detroit 1911 models yet," said Mr. Page, "but I have confidence in Mr. Chalmers, and I am perfectly willing to sign the biggest contract ever made by an automobile dealer with a manufacturer, and to put up my deposit on the cars. I know that when Mr. Chalmers says the 1911 models will be right, that they will be right. That is enough for me to know about them." Carl Page and Percy Owen have been selling motor cars in New York City for eleven years, and the records show that they have sold more cars than any other two men in the world.

Last evening at the Hotel Astor the Packard Motor Car Company gave its fourth annual dinner to Packard dealers attending the automobile show in Madison Square Garden. The dinner was given in the small ball room, and was informal in character, story telling taking the place of the usual set speeches. After the dinner courses had been served the room was darkened and the next hour devoted to a recital of a motoring story named "On the Road to Anywhere." H. B. Joy, President of the Packard Motor Car Company, presided.

INTERCLUB YACHT RACING.

Commodore Thompson Suggests Each Club Build Racer of Q Class.

The annual meeting of the Bensonhurst Yacht Club was held last night at the Hotel Clarendon, Brooklyn, and was attended by about half the club's membership. Following the reports of officers and standing committees for the past year, the ticket named by the Nominating Committee was enthusiastically elected without a dissenting vote.

The officials for 1910 are: Commodore, Frederic Thompson; Vice Commodore, Samuel Cochrane; Rear Commodore, R. G. Le Sauvage; Secretary, W. W. W. Roberts; Treasurer, A. H. Hawkins, and Measurer, Alfred Mackay. The standing committees of 1909 hold over practically in their entirety and without change.

Commodore-elect Thompson made a neat speech of acceptance and immediately jumped into the thick and spirit of things by announcing that he proposed to inaugurate a new race among the yacht clubs of the metropolitan district, and intimated that he would be the donor of the trophy that was to be offered in that contest.

In order to promote interclub racing and put it, Commodore Thompson said, on the sound basis of intercollegiate sports, he hoped to have every club build a boat of the Q Class, not to exceed from $1,500 to $2,000 in cost. According to his plans these should be boats of one design.

The conditions of the race were to be that these boats were not to be sailed by any member of the syndicate which built them, but by a crew selected or elected at large from the club that had such a boat constructed. In this way there would be an absolute and unfailing test of the boatmanship of club members rather than of pocketbooks. It would promote the fraternal feeling which exists among yachtsmen and would also serve to pull into activity even the "piazza" and "rocking chair" fleets, as any member selected by his club would be compelled to perform the duties for which he was selected.

Asked whether he would build a successor to the Joyette, the property of retiring Commodore Childs, and which won the international sonder races last Summer, so that the Bensonhurst Club would again be a defender of the trophy, Commodore Thompson made this significant remark: "The club is supreme in the sonder class. It is going to remain so."

Commodore Thompson said that Commodore Leonard Richards of the Larchmont Yacht Club and Commodore Hazen Hoyt of the Manhasset Yacht Club had already pledged him their support and the participation of their clubs.

Several other members of the club announced their intention of building new boats for the coming season. Knockabouts have been ordered by Dr. C. L. Atkinson, Edward Zimmerman, and F. L. Billingham. Vice Commodore Cochran has placed an order for a forty-foot power boat, from designs by A. Carey Smith, to be entered in the Bermuda race of this year.

While it was not definitely stated by any one in authority, the rumor was nevertheless prevalent that the Motor Boat Club of America would request the Bensonhurst Club to hold the New York-to-Bermuda race of 1910 under its auspices.

Tire Men Here in Force.

Among the late arrivals at the Garden Show is C. E. Matthewson, Pacific Coast manager of the Diamond Rubber Company, who came in with a party of a dozen San Francisco car agents and dealers on Tuesday. Los Angeles, Portland, and Seattle were also represented in the delegation, most of whose members are registered at the Waldorf. Mr. Matthewson is one of the unique figures among men prominent in the motor industry on the Coast. From the saddle of a cowboy of the plains he leaped off one day in Denver, suddenly decided to begin a business career. He got the first position he asked for, which was that of general utility man in the Diamond Rubber Company's Colorado branch. In rapid succession he broke all records for neatness and dispatch in window washing, nailing up boxes, addressing shipments, writing invoices, and entering orders. On his first trip as salesman, after a year of whirlwind activity in lesser things, he "rounded up" enough business in a hard-worked territory to earn a permanent place in the selling organization. Six months later he opened the Diamond tire branch in San Francisco. It was characteristic of both Matthewson and the vast energy of the Diamond concern that ten hours after managers, clerks, and salesmen had been driven from the company's branch on the occasion of the San Francisco fire in April, 1906, a shipment of $40,000 worth of new tires and other rubber goods was on the way from the factories in Akron, Ohio, to replace, in part, the stock destroyed.

Houpt Independent Exhibit.

At the salesrooms of the Harry Houpt Company at Sixty-eighth Street and Broadway there is an independent exhibition of the Houpt car which attracts many motorists. There has been a great deal of discussion about this new machine, for its introduction has been delayed six months in order to complete more exhaustive tests. At this independent exhibit are several new models of touring cars, toy tonneaus, limousines, and landaulets. There is also a complete display of parts, showing the different-powered cylinders. It is expected that the first six-cylinder Houpt car will be on Broadway in March.

MOTOR BOAT RACES AUG. 20.

Harmsworth Trophy to be Competed for in Huntington Harbor.

The Motor Boat Club of America has decided on the date for the races for the British International trophy, donated by Sir Alfred Harmsworth, (Lord Northcliffe.) They will be held at Huntington Harbor, L. I., on Aug. 20.

The present Regatta Committee of the club, of which Charles P. Tower is Chairman and whose other members are Morris M. Whitaker and Walter M. Bieling, is almost certain to be re-elected at the annual meeting of the club, which will be held in about ten days. It is under their direction that the elimination trials of American candidates for the team of three and the real races will be held.

Great Britain has already notified the Motor Boat Club that she will have one boat from the British Motor Boat Club and two from the Motor Yacht Club of Great Britain. The local organization has also been unofficially informed that Germany and France would each send a three-boat team to compete for the international prize. But as these entries were promised last year and did not materialize, the Motor Boat Club is not taking any serious stock in this advance notice until official and actual entries are received.

There are already three boats building especially to represent the United States in this race. Undoubtedly there are others of which the Regatta Committee has not yet been officially informed. One boat, at least, is already completed, and, from the reports which the Regatta Committee has received of her performances, she is simply tearing up the water. She was intended for the race last year, but her Boston designers and builders could not get her ready in time. She was finished just after the close of the race in 1909, and has therefore had ample time to be tuned up into the best of shape.

In the event of more than three boats putting in an appearance as contenders for the honor of representing the United States, the Regatta Committee will hold elimination races about a week or ten days before the main event to select the American team of three to defend the cup.

Right Down to Brass Tacks as to Tires
THESE ARE THE FACTS

More Automobile Tires are manufactured and sold by The Diamond Rubber Co. than any other manufacturer in America. Diamond Tires were the first motor tires manufactured in America. This is history, past and present.

More Men Are Employed, more floor space occupied, and more expensive methods and facilities are used in the Diamond factory than in any other tire factory in the world. Statistics prove this.

More Cars Selling at $1200 and above have been equipped with Diamond Tires the past year and more will be equipped with Diamond Tires the present year than with any other two makes of tires combined.

There is not a Motor Car Manufacturer who would not supply Diamond Tires if he could get them at the same price he pays for others—a price we cannot give and maintain Diamond quality—a thing we have pledged ourselves absolutely to do.

But Ask Yourself—Has any motor car manufacturer the right to sell to the purchaser of his product a pre-created liability—the grievously burdensome liability of excessive cost for tire maintenance?

It is a Mighty Significant Fact that more taxicabs in New York (nearly 1000 of the very best) and more in all America are equipped with Diamond Tires than with the next highest make, by more than 50 per cent. margin.

And it is Mighty Important to you to know that Diamond Tires—Diamond casings and Diamond tubes are developed for 1910 to a degree of tough wear and shock-resisting strength and excellence never before attained. It ought to mean a lot to you to remember that.

The Only Upkeep Contest, and the only official tire tests ever conducted in the world, were all won by Diamond Tires, "hands down."

In Every Sort of Contest, from shows to races, where tires have been chosen on merit and not on account of special inducements, Diamond Tires have had for ten years past and have to-day a wide lead.

The Rank Injustice of special inducements—the giving to one man, or one car manufacturer, more than another receives we will not be a party to.

It Means Nothing to You, it means nothing to us, if evidence of popularity does not trace straight back to merit and merit alone.

Nothing Whatever Counts, in short, if we cannot say to every owner of a car (and rest our whole case on the public verdict)

USERS KNOW!!

One Thought More—Manufacturers can sell only what the public demands—in which connection the most significant fact in the whole tire industry today is that this company is the only manufacturer in the world making tires for every type of rim, demountable or otherwise, and furnishing demountable rims—the "all ready inflated kind," in both quick detachable and regular clincher types. It is only because the public and the automobile manufacturers have demanded all these, built in the Diamond "know how" way.

TIGERS TRIUMPH IN RINK HOCKEY

Dartmouth Team Outclassed by Princeton in Intercollegiate Contest.

READ LEADS THE ATTACK

Football Player Foremost Tiger Against Hanovarians—Second Victory of Season for Old Nassau.

Princeton scored another victory in the intercollegiate hockey league championship series last night at St. Nicholas Rink in a one-sided game, the Dartmouth seven being defeated by a score of 5 to 1. Considering the clever showing of the Hanovarians last season, when they showed strongly against Harvard, the game of last night was a disappointment. Not only ws there little evidence of hockey on the part of the New Hampshire men, but they could not even skate with the speed which was necessary to making a formidable attac against the Tiger goal. During the entire evening Peacock, the Princeton goal keeper, was a man of leisure, with the exception of once, when the Dartmouth players, as much to their own surprise as that of anybody else, caged the puc by a bit of pretty team play. During the first period Princeton scored four times, and in the second half the tallies were even, each side placing the disk in the net for a count.

The men from New Jersey did not offer anything remarkable in the way of hockey, but there was an aggressiveness in the play that produced interest, and it was this feature which gave the Tigers their victory. If there was any one man on the Tiger seven who contributed more to the victory than another it was Read, the football player. He was at cover point, but every sortie that moved down the ice for an attack against the Hanovarians was led by his play. In fact, during the entire game the puck was fed constantly to him, and he made several long lifts which gave the Dartmouth goal tender, Norris, periods of fear, for they were accurate and hard, and every time he sent the puck toward the cage a score was threatened. Blair and Peacock, the first at point and the second at goal for the Princetonians, completed the Tiger defense, and it was all but impervious to the spasmodic efforts of the Dartmouth men to penetrate it.

The Dartmouth seven seemed to have but one idea, and that was to shine as individuals, and in it all they failed miserably. There was no one man who could be called even a good skater, and the efforts to score were for the most part easy to stop.

During the entire game there was not one penalty inflicted, and as one man expressed it, the contest was something of parlor hockey. As a matter of fact, it was more nearly parlor shinny. The line-up:

Princeton.	Position.	Dartmouth.
Peacock	Goal	Norris
Blair	Point	Patten
Read	Cover point	F. Eaton
Kay	Rover	S. Eaton
McKenney	Centre	Wells
Angell	Right wing	Marston

Goals—First half—For Dartmouth by McKinney in 14:00; second, for Dartmouth by Kay in 15:30; third, for Dartmouth by McKinney in 19:00; fourth, for Dartmouth by Read in 19:43. Second half—First for Princeton by McKinney in 1:35; secondf for Dartmouth by S. Eaton in 3:27. Substitute—Stucklin for Patton. Referee—E. Dufresne, Wanderers. Assistant referee—W. Russell, Hockey Club. Goal umpires—E. Garon, Wanderers', and F. Leake, Princeton. Timekeepers—C. J. McDavitt, Dartmouth, and George Harmon, Hockey Club. Time of halves—Twenty minutes.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 12.—Tom Longboat, the fleet-footed Indian, and Percy Smallwood, the Welshman, who holds the world's middle-distance championship title, have been matched, it was announced to-day, to race the twelve miles' distance here in the Exposition Rink on Jan. 25.

HOWARD WINS AT HOCKEY.

Columbia Seven Play Poorly and Are Beaten 6 to 0 in Stadium.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 12.—Harvard defeated Columbia this afternoon at hockey in a slow and uninteresting game by the score of 6 to 0. The game was played in the stadium rink.

The Columbia defense was woefully weak, and had great trouble in withstanding the attack of the unusually slow and inaccurate Crimson forwards. Huntington, at point for Harvard, rounded out a fine defense. The Crimson scored four times in the first half, Hicks getting two of the goals and Hornblower the other pair. The Harvard forwards showed more speed with the opening of the second half, and the visitors continued their listless work. Gardner tallied twice for Harvard. Huntington and Capt. Hicks starred for the Crimson seven, while Murphy at goal for Columbia proved the most capable of the visitors, his defensive work alone preventing the rolling up of a larger Crimson score. The summary:

Harvard.	Position.	Columbia
Hicks (Capt)	Left centre	Cassidy
Gardner	Right centre	Lovejoy
Wigglesworth	Right end	Trimble
Foster, Blackall	Cover point	Murchie
Huntington	Point	Kinney
Chadwick	Goal	Murphy

Goals—Hicks 2, Hornblower 2, Gardner 2. Referees—Dr. F. J. Goodridge and Mr. Foote of Braeburne. Timekeeper—Mr. Haydock. Time—Twenty-minute halves.

Skater Lamy's Case Closed.

Joseph Donoghue, former champion skater of the world, despite his membership in what he calls "the old brigade," still retains the keenest relish and interest in the sport. In view of the Lamy case, which he characterizes as an "unfortunate controversy," he has made the suggestion that, to settle it, it would be a good thing to have a committee of five appointed. Two of its members should come from the International Skating Union, he says, and three from the Amateur Athletic Union. He suggests that this committee hears both sides of the case and gives a decision immediately thereafter.

However, this suggestion comes too late and nothing further need be done in the Lamy matter, as President Brown of the Amateur Athletic Union has rendered a decision in favor of the International Skating Union, which had protested the skater's suspension.

NEW AERO CLUB PLANNED.

Present Body to Reorganize with New Corporation Features.

Courtlandt Field Fishop, President of the Aero Club of America, has notified the members that a special meeting of the organization will be held early next month.

The purpose of this meeting is to consider and act upon the report of a special committee which was appointed at the meeting of the club on Nov. 1 last with instructions to make recommendations upon the subject of amending the club's certificate of incorporation, constitution, and by-laws.

The committee, in its report filed with the President, urges that the name of the present corporation, "Aero Club of America," be changed to "Aero Corporation, Limited," and that an incorporated club be formed under the membership corporation law of this State with the name "Aero Club of America."

The shares of stock of the corporation are to be assigned and transferred to the club as its property, and the corporation stock is to be voted pursuant to the direction of the Board of Governors of the club, who shall select the Directors for the corporation.

All the members of the present Aero Club who have paid their dues for the year ending Nov. 1 next are to have the privilege of becoming members of the new club without the payment of initiation fees and annual dues for the current year. Any member not in favor of this plan is to have the privelege of withdrawing from membership in the existing club, and in that event his initiation fee and proportion of dues paid covering the unexpired portion of the year are to be returned to him.

The special committee whose report will be acted on at the meeting next month consisted of W. W. Miller, Chairman; Courtlandt Field Bishop, Philip T. Dodge, W. W. Niles, and Dave H. Morris, Secretary.

TO CODIFY GOLF RULES.

That a determined effort will be made shortly toward codifying local golf rules is shown by the fact that at a recent executive session of the Metropolitan Golf Association a committee was appointed for that purpose. Those asked to serve were Walter J. Travis, Leighton Calkins, and Max Behr.

This project of codifying local rules was first brought up at the metropolitan meeting a year ago, but nothing was done. At the recent session the delegates voted favorably on the proposition to codify, though there appeared to be a considerable variety of opinion as to how the subject should be handled.

DIRECTORS DEFEND THE SUGAR TRUST

Statement Made at Meeting "to Correct Mistaken Beliefs and Misapprehensions."

NOT REALLY A MONOPOLY

Strength of Competition Cited to Prove This—No Advantages Gained from the Tariff, Statement Says.

The Directors of the American Sugar Refining Company submitted a defence of the company at the annual meeting in Jersey City yesterday. They correct what they call "missapprehensions" and "mistaken beliefs." No figures of earnings were offered, but the report says that the year was a prosperous one, and that dividends were fully earned. President Thomas remarked upon the confidence in the management indicated in the total vote of 648,386 shares, the largest in the company's history, and all cast for the successful ticket.

The statement of the Directors was prefaced by the remark that the Directors recognized the "legitimate interest which the public has in a business organization which deals to a large extent in the necessities of life! A further motive," for the report, "is found in the fact that it seems to be the only method by which the company can correct the widespread misrepresentation and unjust criticism to which it has been subjected." This is added:

> It is commonly supposed that the shares of your company are owned by a comparatively few residents of New York City. The fact is that the average holding of stock by any individual is less than fifty shares. The majority of the stock of your company is held in New England, and its value and stability as an investment is best evidenced by the fact that your shares are largely held by executors, administrators, trustees, and other fiduciaries. The number of our stockholders of common and preferred stock is 18,484.

Offers Proof it is Not a Monopoly.

It is then explained that the company is not a monopoly. Reference is made to the old decision of the Supreme Court of the United States to that effect. The company refines no more than 43 per cent. of the sugar consumed in the United States, the report says, quoting a firm of sugar statisticians.

On the question of the company's relative position in the trade the report explains in detail just where it stands. It says:

> Of the twenty-one cane sugar refineries, with an estimated maximum capacity of daily meltings of 33,000,000 pounds, your company operates seven refineries and has an interest (in each case less than a majority) in four refineries, and it has no interest whatever in ten refineries. Between these independent refineries and those operated by your company, the competition is continuous and severe.
>
> Of the sixty-four factories which produce sugar from beets, with an estimated aggregate daily capacity of 47,700 tons of beets and a period of operation of from 75 to 100 days each year, your company is interested in thirty-three factories, with a daily slicing capacity of about 26,500 tons, and has no interest in thirty-one factories.

The "mistaken belief" in regard to the company's profits from the protective tariff on sugar comes in for more than a page of corrections. After explaining the large total paid in duties the report explains how it operates as follows:

> Inasmuch as the relative duty on raw and refined sugar is so adjusted as to leave to the refiner a margin of protection of only 7½ cents per 100 pounds of refined sugar, or barely more than 1-16 cent per pound, it is evident that, contrary to the general impression, the protection to the refining industry is exceedingly small.

No Advantage in the Tariff.

The company receives substantially the same price for its product whether sold abroad or at home. Granulated is now quoted for export at 3.10 cents, against a domestic price of 4.90 cents per pound. This difference is caused by the refund by the Government of the larger part of the duty previously paid upon the raw sugar, to encourage the exportation of a product manufactured in this country, and this refund is in pursuance of the recognized public policy of encouraging the exportation of products produced by American labor and capital.

This company has no interests whatever, either directly or indirectly, in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, the Philippine Islands, or in any foreign country.

We express no opinion as to whether it is sound public policy to stimulate the production of beet sugar and of domestic cane sugar by the present duties. These questions of policy are for the determination of Congress, and the only purpose of this reference to the fiscal duties relative to your business is to emphasize the fact that its prosperity does not depend upon high protective duties, and that the margin between the duty on the raw material and the duty on refined sugar is so slight that it has no appreciable effect in artificially enhancing the price of the refined product by the exclusion of foreign importations.

Declares Competition is Fierce.

The company takes credit to itself for the present price of sugar, pointing out that it has remained nearly stationary for the past ten years in the face of advancing manufacturing expenses and increases in nearly all of the other necessities of life. This statement is made in regard to the prevailing belief that the prices of sugar to jobbers are reached by agreement:

> The American Sugar Refining Company has no agreement, direct or implied, in regard to the fixing of prices or the regulation of the production of refined sugar. The industry in general contends with a competition of the keenest and fiercest character.

The report refers briefly to the case of the Government on charges of fraudulent underweighing. It says:

> Your board has endeavored in every way to facilitate the investigations of the Government. Without the formality of a subpoena, the officers of this company, with the knowledge and approval of the board, have put in the possession of the special counsel for the Government, all books, documents, letters and minutes of whatever kind, that such special counsel desired, and have given them the freest and fullest access to the offices of your company and the freest and fullest opportunity to interrogate any and all employees.
>
> No attempt whatever has been made to shield any one and your board has no reason to believe and does not believe that any executive officer or Director of this company had any knowledge of or participation in this fraudulent underweighing.

W. M. Thomas was elected President of the company. Henry E. Miese of Jersey City, Edwin F. Atkins of Boston, and E. S. Marston, President of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New York, were elected Directors for terms ending in March, 1913. Samuel C. Hooker of Philadelphia and Samuel Carr of Boston were elected Directors for terms ending in March, 1912. Mr. Marston succeeds Charles H. Senff, who declined a re-election. The number of Directors has been increased from nine to eleven. Messrs. Atkins and Carr are new members.

The meeting adopted a resolution indorsing the management.

CAPTAIN CAN PUNISH SEAMEN.

Court Holds, Under Common Law, That Vessel's Master May Enforce Discipline

Justice McAvoy in the City Court handed down a decision yesterday holding that a sea Captain, under the common law as applied to the merchant service, has a right to administer corporal punishment to his crew while his ship is on the high seas. The case was that of Lionel Nieves, a "boy" employed as a steward's assistant on the Korona, a steamship owned by the Quebec Steamship Company, against James Carmichael, the steamship's Captain. The Korona plies between this city and the West Indies. The boy alleged that on Oct. 28, while the ship was on her way to Jamaica, he became involved in an altercation with the boatswain. He alleged that Capt. Carmichael interfered and knocked him down, ordering him put in irons.

When the Korona reached this port on the return trip the boy had the Captain arrested and brought suit to recover $2,000 damages for assault.

At the trial the Captain testified that the boy refused to obey the boatswain's order, and that he interfered in the fight which followed. He admitted that he "pushed Nieves down," and ordered him put in irons. He said he sent the ship's surgeon to attend to the boy's injuries, which were very slight, if any.

Part of the decision reads:

"Under the common law as applied to those in the merchant service and from the citations submitted, the court decides that the Captain would have a right to inflict such punishment and such chastisement on a servant seaman as would be necessary for the proper maintenance and control of the officers and crew or the ship who were under him.

"The court accepts as true the version given by the Captain and his officers as to the facts as against the testimony of the complainant's side as to the cruelty or malicious character of the assault, and decides on the facts that the Captain would be justified in inflicting the punishment which he himself admits was inflicted on the servant."

COTTON BROKE 70 POINTS.

Added to Slump Since Last Week, This Made a Decline of $8.40 a Bale.

Another heavy break in the cotton market yesterday put prices down around 70 points or $3.50 a bale. Added to the several slumps since last week, this shows a drop of 168 points or $8.40 a bale on the May option since the top of the bull movement was reached on Dec. 30. There were no developments which would account for the last decline. The only explanation was the weak technical position of the market and the activities of the bears.

Opening prices yesterday were from 15 to 30 points lower than the previous day's close. May selling at 15.35 cents per pound, against the closing price on Tuesday of 15.51. That option was carried down to 14.78. A great part of the selling represented stop loss orders around 15 cents, which had been marked as the limit of probable decline by small speculators. In the dror March sold to 14.60, January and July at 14.78, and August at 14.50.

The decline was checked in the noon hour by active buying, some of which was said to be for account of spot cotton dealers and spinners. On this rally the general list recovered an average of 20 points. The market moved uncertainly during the afternoon, and the closing prices were from 15 to 23 points above the low levels.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12.—Owing to the failure of Liverpool to respond to the advance in American markets yesterday, there was another sensational decline in the price of cotton on the local Exchange this morning, initial prices being forty-six or forty-seven points lower than the close yesterday on the old crop positions, or a loss of about $2.50 a bale. May was the weakest month, showing the heaviest liquidation by longs. Following the opening decline there was a recovery of twenty-three to twenty-five points, followed by another easing off period.

Before noon the bears hammered the March option down to 14.77—a net loss of about $3.50 a bale.

A rumor from New York became current that a well-known speculator, prominently identified with the bull movement, had ordered his brokers to unload.

EXTRA DIVIDENDS DECLARED.

Pittsburg & Lake Erie's $20 a Share; Pacific Coast 1 Per Cent.

Among yesterday's dividend announcements was the declaration of a large extra dividend by the Pittsburg & Lake Erie and increases in the common and second preferred dividends of the Pacific Coast Company. The Pittsburg & Lake Erie, whose stock is controlled by the New York Central through the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, in addition to the regular semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent., declared a special cash dividend of $20 a share. The bulk of this will be paid to the Lake Shore as the owner of the majority of the stock.

The Pacific Coast Company announced quarterly dividends of 1½ per cent. on its common and second preferred stocks, in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent. on the first preferred. The payments on the common and second preferred represent an increase of 1 per cent. on each issue.

$15,000,000 MORTGAGE.

Recorded Here by Western Electric Company to Cover a Bond Issue.

A mortgage of $15,000,000 was recorded yesterday by the Western Electric Company to cover the bond issue made a few weeks ago for the expansion of its business interests. The mortgage is held for the bondholders by the Merchants' Loan and Trust Company of Chicago.

While the mortgage covers practically all of the Electric Company's interests throughout the country, the recording of it in this city only covered the property owned by the company here at Bethune Street on the southeast corner of Washington Street and on Bank Street on the southwest corner of Washington. The mortgage bears 5 per cent. interest, and is due Dec. 30, 1922.

FEW IMPURE DRUGS SOLD.

Less Than 7 Per Cent. in This State, Says Dr. G. C. Diekman.

Although the United States Pharmacopoeia is not revised oftener than once in ten years, pharmacologists in this city said yesterday that there is no reason to be alarmed about the drugs sold to the public. The Federal law may give a loophole for the use of drugs below standard, but there is a State law to be reckoned with, and it is so strict and is enforced so well that, practically speaking, it is safe to buy drugs in any store in New York.

Dr. George C. Diekman, Secretary of the College of Pharmacy, discussed yesterday the results of the investigation of the Committee on Adulterations of the State Board of Pharmacy, of which he is Chairman.

"There is," he said, "far more danger from the physicians who dispense their own drugs or who are interested in proprietary medicines than there is from druggists. These doctors will diagnose cases to suit the drugs they have in store, or in which they are interested, while the druggist is forced by law to fill accurately the prescriptions which are supplied to him."

Last year in the eastern district of the State—that is, from Peekskill downward—29,000 examinations were made of the drugs sold in the ordinary stores. Of these we found that not more than 7 per cent. fell short of the standard, and these were largely due to carelessness."

Dr. Walter A. Bastedo, Associate Professor of Pharmacology at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, declared last night that it would be a mistake to put the compilation of the Pharmacopoeia in the hands of the Government, as it would open the door for graft and the exercise of pressure by commercial interests, who might wish to dodge the strict letter of the law.

SLUMP IN GREENWATER

"Cents Per Share" Copper Sells on Down from 18 to 10½ on Unloading by Brokers—Some Copper Losses.

Coppers were again weak yesterday, and most issues closed fractionally below opening levels. Some excitement was afforded by the break in Greenwater Copper, which dropped from 18 cents to 10½ cents on the selling by brokers who found themselves loaded up with shares which they could not deliver. Transactions of 67,500 shares were reported, and the close was within 1 cent of the low price. Boston Copper was one of those to show weakness, dropping from 21 to 20⅝ and closing at 20⅞, after transactions of 5,000 shares. Nevada Consolidated sold down from 26⅜ to 26 on transactions of 7,000 shares, and Miami, after going from 27⅝ to 26½, closed at 27.

THE COMMODITIES MARKETS.

Wheat Opens Lower, but Improves—Corn and Oats Strong at New High Levels—Cotton Demoralized.

The wheat market was a rather small affair. It opened lower on the cables, but failed to find any volume of long wheat, and later advanced above the final of the previous day, closing fairly steady. European markets were weak. There were also rather large receipts in the Northwest, and the interior movement is steadily gaining. The break failed to induce fresh selling, and prices advanced. The advance was influenced to some extent by the pronounced strength of corn and oats, and the advance of both these markets to new high season levels. There was also a little buying on reports that the mild weather west was removing the snow covering and leaving the crop subject to possible damage from freezing and thawing. The close was steady at a little net advance.

Cash wheat was inactive, with only two loads reported for export. Interior cash markets were dull. No. 2 red was quoted at $1.33 spot, asked, in elevator, domestic rate; $1.32, free on board; No. 1 northern, $1.27¼; No. 2 hard, $1.28¼, and No. 1 Manitoba, $1.19½.

Corn was active and strong; prices advanced steadily, and the final quotations were at the top. The weather was wet all through the leading corn States, and this led to apprehension that the movement would be further restricted, while the actual receipts are decreasing instead of increasing compared with last week, and the offerings from the country were light. Shorts were active buyers, particularly after the market was carried into new high ground. Sentiment has been steadily growing in favor of corn, and has been encouraged materially by the continued reports of great profit in feeding corn at the present value of live hogs.

Cash corn was strong. No. 2 was quoted 74¾c, elevator, domestic; 73¼c, export rate; No. 3 was quoted at 72¼c; No. 4, 71¼c; steamer, 72c.

Oats were strong, also making new high records, partly influenced by the strength in corn. Another factor was the decreasing movement of oats at the interior; the strong cash market for oats, and the continued good demand. The close was very firm at the top.

Cash oats were higher. Natural white was quoted 52½c@54½c; white, clipped, 53c@56c; mixed, 50c, nominal.

Provisions were strong and active; buying was attributed to packing interests and based on the strength of coarse grain, although live hogs were lower and receipts of a rather liberal character.

COTTON.

Occasionally in the history of the trade there has been a more excited market than that seen yesterday. On Monday of this week, once last week, and a few times previously. For excitement, persistent liquidation, unsettling rumors, and enormous trading, the equals have been few, and the days which exceeded yesterday's market very few. The selling movement began at the opening, and seemed to be simply a continuation of enormous selling pressure which developed at Liverpool. Orders came in from everywhere. Lots of 5,000 bales were almost as common as 100-bale lots in ordinary markets, and mank brokers executed orders of 25,000 and 50,000 bales.

The early decline was so severe that when the selling pressure stopped above 15c for May there developed quite a strong sentiment that the end of the selling movement had been reached; so confident was the feeling in this respect that Brown of New Orleans was bidding for round blocks freely, and there appeared to be an effort to support the market. The rally, however, was feeble, and with a roar which could be heard for a block around the Cotton Exchange the market went through 15c, catching an immense number of stop orders, dropping to 14.80c almost immediately. This was around midday. The balance of the session the market showed a slow, halting, rallying tendency, with final prices down about ½c per pound, net.

The low of the day was down $3 to $4 a bale from the final of the previous day, and about $8 a bale from the high of the season. There were reports that the leading bull operators generally were selling to protect themselves, and there was evidently no doubt that big lines of pyramided cotton were thrown over. The decline has been so very rapid, and margin calls followed so rapidly, one on the heels of another, that the whole cotton interest has been unsettled and disturbed. Statements that spot cotton was not breaking were no comfort to a "long" when called for $1,000 a contract margin.

Reports that Mr. Scales was a seller of cotton were emphatically denied. This denial had a steadying influence on the market, and the relative steadiness of the May, compared with other deliveries, was looked upon as confirmation of such denial, as his long line was generally believed to have been in May, and if sold would have broken that market. Southern spot markets were generally nominal, and unchanged at most points, but such quotations were not important, in the absence of business.

Spot cotton quiet, 30 decline. Middling uplands, 15c. Middling Gulf, 15.25c.

COFFEE.

Coffee showed a steadier tone, and prices were unchanged to 5 points higher. The French market was ¼@½f higher, and Hamburg was ¼@½ pfenning up, and there appeared to be a more confident feeling in the market regarding the probable action of the Valorization Committee in regard to marketing coffee during the balance of the season, although there was moderate selling for European account early, but the better demand resulted in sales of 34,000 bags. The market was narrow, and influenced by moderate trading either way, but the firmness in the cash position was a strong sustaining factor. Firm offers from Brazil were small, and the fact that offerings have ceased from Santos, and are very small from Rio, points to a steady decrease in the supply during the balance of the season.

ACCUSES ENNIS & STOPPANI.

Some Orders Bucketed, Says Objecting Creditors' Attorney.

Irving L. Ernst of counsel for Ennis & Stoppani, bankers and brokers of 38 Broad Street, said yesterday that specifications of objections to their offer of composition had been served on him by Roslyn M. Cox of Middletown, attorney for two creditors, Thomas Walls and Lehman Stern of Middletown.

It was asserted by Mr. Cox that the estate if economically managed for the benefit of creditors will amount to $450,000 and after paying the expenses of administration should pay a cash dividend of 25 per cent. It was also alleged that Thomas A. Ennis had omitted from his schedules diamonds and jewelry worth $300, and that he gave false testimony before Stanley W. Dexter, referee in bankruptcy, in reference to purchases and sales of stocks, and that several firm and numbered accounts were used by the firm for bucketing of orders of customers.

Mr. Ernst said that if the composition did not go through instead of the estate paying a cash dividend of 25 per cent. creditors would not realize more than 3 cents on the dollar, for in that event Mrs. Stoppani would put in her claim of $588,000. As regards the jewelry not mentioned in the schedules he said that Lindsay Russell, the receiver, has the jewelry.

IRON AND STEEL NOTES.

New Business Light, Following December's Heavy Specifications.

Commenting on conditions in the iron and steel trade at the opening of the year The Iron Age says:

> January is not yet far enough advanced to show definite tendencies in the iron market. After the remarkably heavy specifications sent to the steel mills in December, an inactive period is to be expected in finished lines, and, with some exceptions, new business has been light. The railroads are doing little, and in rails the situation is distinctly disappointing, particularly to Eastern mills. The heavy advance buying by Western lines, which has filled up the mills in that section for the greater part of the year, is in contrast with the procedure of Eastern roads. With one exception, the six mills east of Ohio have very few orders ahead. In equipment buying also the West and Central West have made a much better showing than the East. Some good buying of locomotives for Western lines is reported in prospect at Chicago. In structural steel the principal contract of the week was for 3,000 tons for the new Davenport Locomotive Works, Davenport, Iowa. Buying of wire products has kept up, sales of one interest ranging from 4,000 to 6,000 tons a day.

The Iron Trade Review says:

> The post-holiday season has developed increased interest in practically all branches of the market. After the completion of inventories many buyers have shown a disposition to renew placing of orders, and, in fact, in many cases have been more anxious to do so than the sellers were to take orders, especially for delivery after the second quarter of the present year. The selling of non-Bessemer ore by the Lake Superior interests has continued at a lively rate, although Eastern furnace interests are still manifesting no interest in Lake Superior ores.
>
> Much more general inquiry is being made for pig iron than for a number of weeks, and in the Western territory sales of various grades, including very little steel-making iron, have amounted to 40,000 or 50,000 tons. Many buyers of finished materials are showing a disposition to contract, and in some cases are offering to do so for considerably longer periods than are desired by the mills.

CHASE BANK CHANGES.

S. H. Miller, Cashier, Becomes a Vice President and H. M. Conkey Cashier.

STRAIN ON LEADING SHARES

Third Day of Declines Under Liquidation—Violent Break in Cotton a Factor in Stocks.

For the third successive day the movement of prices on the Stock Exchange was downward. Shortly after the opening of business a rally occurred which carried active issues up a point or more from the quotations fixed for them by Tuesday's declines, but this recovery lacked snap and appeared to be almost entirely due to the covering of short contracts by speculators on the floor of the Stock Exchange. It was soon over, and under the renewal of the pressure exerted upon the leading stocks since the opening of the week these shares, including Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, and St. Paul, weakened, unsettling the whole market, which closed heavy and at practically the lowest prices of the day. Outside of the violent break in cotton prices, which at one time were down as much as $3.50 a bale, although a considerable portion of this loss was latter recovered, there was nothing in the day's news which contributed to a better understanding of the causes underlying the current weakness in securities. It is evident, however, that the Washington situation continues uppermost in the consideration of business and financial interests and that from current happenings in the Nation's Capitol they are finding at the moment, at least, very little inspiration of a kind which is helpful to securities' markets. As was the case on Monday, when the cotton market broke with equal violence, yesterday's fall there had no little bearing upon the course of prices on the stock market. It became necessary for speculators with commitments in both stocks and cotton to make good depleted margins on cotton trades, and the money for the purpose was secured through sales of stocks. Another matter which exercised limited influence was the liquidation of fairly substantial speculative lines of stocks in connection with the judgment of the Governors of the Stock Exchange on the Rock Island affair. In a new way there were declarations of larger dividends by the Pacific Coast Company and the Pittsburg & Lake Erie Railroad and the weekly summary of conditions in the iron and steel trades by the recognized trade organ, noting a disappointing demand for railroad materials but undiminished activity in the pig iron market.

Call money rates were easier, the maximum for the day's loans, 5 per cent., representing a substantial concession from recent quotations for renewals, while the low quotation of 3 per cent. was the minimum figure touched since Dec. 14. In other respects the local position was unchanged; the banks continuing to hold their earlier gains on transactions with the Sub-Treasury. An interesting feature of the day on the Berlin market was the recovery in prices there upon the spread of a report that the German Bank proposed to reduce its discount at an early date.

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—Lake Copper was again the feature in to-day's trading on the local market, and the price reached another high level, sales being made as high as 93. At this point realizing was heavy, however, and the stock gradually sold off to 87⅞ and closed at 88½. North Lake also came in for a good share of attention, and the price was advanced to 11⅞ on sales of over 28,000 shares. Arcadian sold up to 10⅜, and Hancock gained nearly 3 points, to 36. The general market closed steady at a slight recession.

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE.

Wednesday.

Two-thirds of the total business on the Consolidated Stock Exchange was done in the final two hours of trading. Early in the day speculation tended rather to narrowness, but a flood of selling broke upon the market in the late afternoon. The selling of United States Steel common was especially heavy. Transactions in all issues were 131,820 shares, distributed among sixty-four different stocks.

METAL MARKET REPORTS.

Extreme dullness prevailed on the Metal Exchange yesterday, with prices almost stationary, with the exception of tin, which improved about ⅛c for spot. Copper was steady and unchanged.

On the Metal Exchange in London yesterday spot copper at the close showed an advance from the initial price of the day of 1s 3d, and of like amount from the close on Tuesday. Futures showed a similar gain of 1s 3d at the close over the final price of Tuesday, but no gain on the day's initial figure. The market finished steady, closing quotations ruling at: Spot, £61 8s 9d; futures, £62 7s 6d. Pig tin ended steadily, with spot and future deliveries each up 15s, to £149 5s and £150 12s 6d respectively. Spanish pig lead was steady, at a gain of 1s 3d, to £13 16s 3d. Spelter continued steady and unchanged, to £23 7s 6d. Cleveland warrants were quoted at 51s 7½d.

The closing bid and asked prices for copper and other metals for spot delivery on the New York Metal Exchange yesterday compare as follows with those of Tuesday:

Irrigation Bonds

¶ We believe that an income of from five and one-half to six per cent. may be obtained with safety from Selected issues of Irrigation Bonds, and recommend them to those desiring to reinvest their money so as to obtain a better interest return.

¶ This class of bonds is especially well adapted to the requirements of the average private investor, as they usually mature serially, so that a long or short time investment may be made as desired, and they are obtainable in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000.

¶ We are now offering to banks and individual investors a new issue of bonds which we regard as exceptionally attractive, secured by irrigated land in the fertile Sacramento Valley of California. These bonds are guaranteed as to principal and interest by the American Water Works & Guarantee Company of Pittsburg. Since the organization of this Company, 28 years ago, there has never been a single day's delay in the payment of either principal or interest on any bond that it has guaranteed, and we have no hesitation in recommending this issue as a safe investment.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Cable Remittances to Europe.

The decline in cotton in the last week, which was carried many points further yesterday has been responsible for the transfer by cable of large sums to Europe representing payments on cotton margin accounts. It was estimated in banking circles yesterday that within the last week not less than $4,000,000 had been cabled abroad for Liverpool account, the decline in cotton having released moneys which had previously been sent here to provide margins against the high price to which cotton had risen. These cable transfers contributed to the firmness which foreign exchange rates have shown lately.

⁂

Wheeling Stocks Decline Further.

Further declines of 5 points in Wheeling & Lake Erie first preferred, and of 2 points each in the common and second preferred stocks, with a drop in Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal second mortgage bonds to 7, served yesterday to emphasize the fact that the unfavorable effect upon the prices of these securities of the plan of reorganization which is being worked out for the Wheeling & Lake Erie and Wabash-Pittsburg Terminal properties had not been discounted in advance of the terms of the plan becoming generally known. It has frequently happened in similar instances that the effect of the announcement of bad news has been discounted by selling, which has preceded the actual publication of the news, but the action of these securities in the last two days shows that in this respect these securities were an exception.

⁂

Steel Corporation in English Politics

Wall Street was interested in the news brought by yesterday's London cables that the name of the United States Steel Corporation had been dragged into the political contest in England which is now being waged between the Liberal Party and the Conservatives over the budget recently rejected by the House of Lords. The Liberal candidate for Parliament in South Kensington has been accused, according to the cables, by his Conservative opponent, Lord Hamilton, of making his race for Parliament on money which had been supplied by an American millionaire connected with the Steel Trust. G. S. MacIlvaine, the Liberal candidate, demanded a retraction of this charge, and this demand appears to have been followed by an exchange of statements between the two candidates, which left both sides so heated that litigation is said to be threatened between the rivals for Parliament.

⁂

Opportunity for Cotton Bulls.

The Southern cotton bulls, whose coming to New York this week was heralded in advance from New Orleans with predictions of twenty-cent cotton, have had unexampled opportunities in the last few days to pick up a lot of bargain cotton. With yesterday's addition to the earlier slumps the staple is now down 168 points for the May option from the crest of the upward movement reached on Dec. 30. Rumors that the bull leaders had switched their market position wtih the idea of getting a new line at lower prices, were strenuously denied yesterday in the offices where these men are supposed to exchange confidences.

THE EUROPEAN MARKETS.

Americans Close Steady in London—Trading Strengthens in Berlin.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Money was abundant and easy, and discount rates were quiet on the market to-day.

Business on the Stock Exchange was small and prices were irregular. Gilt-edge securities were quiet pending the elections, and good traffic reports helped home rails, but lack of Continental support caused foreigners to decline slightly. Rubber shares recovered after an early bear raid, while Grand Trunk shares were offered on the prospective issue of 5,000,000 Pacific bonds. Mining stocks were more active and dearer.

American securities opened quiet and later improved under the lead of Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fé, the Pacific stocks and United States Steel. Prices were steady until the afternoon, when Wall Street selling caused a setback. There was a slight recovery near the close, and the market finished steady.

Bar silver steady at 24⅛d per ounce.

Money, 1¼@2 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market, for short bills, 3¼ per cent.; for three months' bills, 3¼@3 5-16 per cent.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—Prices were firm on the Bourse to-day.

Three per cent. rentes, 99f 5c for the account.

Exchange on London, 25f 18½c for checks.

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—Trading opened weak on the Boerse to-day, but later prices strengthened on a report that the rate of discount of the Imperial Bank of Germany will probably be reduced next week.

FOREIGN TRADE OPPORTUNITIES.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The Daily Consular and Trade Report for to-morrow notes the following trade opportunities abroad. Further information regarding these may be obtained by addressing the Bureau of Manufactures, care of the Department of Commerce and Labor, Washington, D. C., giving the number of the item referred to.

4,385. MINERAL AND RAPE SEED OIL WANTED FOR EUROPEAN RAILWAYS.—An American Consul has forwarded a translation of specifications for 440 tons of mineral and rape seed oil required by certain State railways in Europe. Tenders must be submitted by Jan. 13, 1910, but the Consul states that it is customary to hold a second adjudication ten or fifteen days after the date on which the offers have been submitted, and he believes there is sufficient time for American firms to compete for this order.

4,386. AMERICAN GOODS OF VARIOUS KINDS.—A report has been received from an American Consular officer stating that an organization has been formed in his district for the purpose of purchasing land and erecting apartment houses, the members being provided with quarters at the lowest possible cost and sharing in any profits that may accrue. Stores will be provided, and American houses are requested to send catalogues, price lists, discount sheets, and terms of payment as soon as possible. The following is a partial list of the goods in which the concern is especially interested: Hardware, builders' supplies, heating apparatus, electrical supplies, woodworking machinery, carpenters' tools, kitchen utensils, and novelties of all kinds.

4,387. BIDS FOR THE SUPPLY OF KHAKI TO EGYPTIAN GOVERNMENT.—Consul General L. M. Iddings of Cairo has forwarded specifications for bids for the supply of 3,600 meters of khaki drill, 2,600 meters of khaki, and 100 meters of the same material, black, necessary for the Prisons Department, with samples of the goods required. Tenders for supplying this material will be received until Jan. 20, 1910.

4,388. AMERICAN GOODS FOR ITALY.—An American Consul has been informed by a business man in his district that a company composed of local merchants and engineers has been formed for the purpose of importing American manufactured products into Italy. He states that the company has considerable capital and will soon open offices and salesrooms. It will concern itself chiefly with the importation of the following classes of American manufactures: Machinery in general, machine tools, small tools, railway supplies and rolling stock, lightweight automobiles, heating appliances, sanitary supplies, rubber goods, and special steels. American manufacturers of these articles are invited to furnish the fullest possible information concerning their products, and if the same are satisfactory as to price and quality the company states it is prepared to make payment upon such terms as exporters may prefer.

4,389. PULP-MAKING MACHINERY.—A letter received from a mechanical and electrical engineer in Canada requests the names of manufacturers of pulp-making machinery in the United States.

4,390. MEN'S READY-MADE CLOTHING.—An American Consular officer in Germany reports that a local business man would like to get in communication with manufacturers in the United States of men's ready-made clothing, with the view of securing the agency of the same.

4,391. SPRING SHADE ROLLERS.—A firm in the Far East doing an extensive business advises that it desires to arrange with a manufacturer of spring shade rollers to represent him in Australia and New Zealand. The house states that it employs a number of traveling salesmen who cover the entire trade frequently and thoroughly.

4,392. AMERICAN PRODUCTS FOR EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.—A Belgian business man writes that he has become the proprietor of an old-established house in that country, and would like to enter into business relations with American firms in order to import their products into Europe. He is interested in the following articles: Motor cars, cycles, motor supplies, electrical instruments, arms, typewriters, shoes, tobacco, sewing machines, novelties, and special machinery of various kinds.

4,393. COTTON PIECE GOODS AND COTTON FABRICS.—An American house writes that a responsible firm in Australia, doing business as American manufacturers' representative in that country and New Zealand, desires to arrange with a group of manufacturers of above goods. The firm will make a specialty of this class of goods, and one of the members is now in the United States to manage the details.

4,394. DEMAND FOR CUBAN BEESWAX.—An American Consular officer in Russia reports that a large importing house in his district is anxious to arrange with American dealers for shipments of Cuban beeswax, believing it is possible to make more satisfactory terms with them than with the European commission houses, from which purchases have been made. The demand for beeswax is very great, owing to the requirements of the Church for candles, which can not be manufactured from any other material. For the first nine months of the past year 5,472,000 pounds of beeswax, valued at $1,795,805, were imported into that country.

4,395. STATIONERY, INKS, AND PRINTING PRESSES.—A communication received states that a firm in Australia desires to arrange with some American manufacturers carrying a full line of plain and fancy stationery and supplies to represent it there. The concern has a special department devoted to this line of goods, with special salesmen, and writes that a large business could be done with proper goods. It also wants a line of hand and power printing presses, for which it has many inquiries, and lithographers' and printers' inks.

4,396. COATINGS USED IN GLAZED AND COATED PAPER.—A New York commercial organization writes that it has been requested by one of its foreign correspondents to furnish information in regard to the manufacture of glossy, glazed, and coated paper, and would like to secure the names of works in the United States manufacturing satin white and fixed white coatings employed in the manufacture of glazed and coated paper, also the names of concerns that use such materials.

4,397. FEATHERS AND SKINS.—An American Consul in a South American country reports that one of the largest local exporters of feathers desires to correspond with American firms wishing to purchase ostrich and vulture feathers, egret and other bird skins, animal skins for rugs and wool.

4,398. WEIGHING AND EMBLEM EMBOSSING MACHINES.—An American foreign freight contractor writes that one of his customers in Italy is anxious to secure the names of American manufacturers of weighing and emblem embossing machines.

4,400. SEMOLINA.—Communication received from an American export house states that it has been asked by European business connections where semolina can be secured. Samples of the grits can be obtained by writing to the American firm forwarding the communication, which states that the color must be as pure yellow as possible. The importer advises that he is in excellent position to conduct a large business in this article.

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—Trading in local stocks to-day was broadly distributed, and prices as a rule were compartively firm until upset by the heaviness of the New York market. A conspicuous weak spot was Lake Superior stock, which on unusually heavy offerings for that issue fell nearly $1.50 a share, going below 27. The weakness of Rock Island in New York affected Lehigh Valley in the last hour, but there was still buying for accumulation to all appearances.

These bonds are secured by an absolute First Mortgage on 400,000,000 tons of Coal, together with the Company's Plant and Railroad.

The value of the property is ten times the bond issue, and the Company's earnings will show a large margin over both principal and interest requirements.

The Bonds are protected by a Sinking Fund sufficient to pay the entire issue from the exhaustion of less than one-fortieth of the security.

The ownership and management of the Company is in strong hands and the stockholders have a large cash investment behind the bonds.

Having sold $300,000 of these bonds, we offer the unsold portion at par and accrued interest to net 6 per cent.

MERCANTILE TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK TRUSTEE

The property of the Great Western Power Company is located on the Feather River in northern central California, about 160 miles from San Francisco, and from its water rights engineers of the highest standing estimate a salable output of over 400,000 horse power can be produced. The first development is in operation and will have an output capacity of 70,000 horse power. The construction throughout is of the most permanent and enduring character, nothing but metal or masonry being used.

California is one of the best territories for the sale of hydro-electric power in America. Fuel, either oil or coal, is so high in price that it cannot compete with hydro-electric power.

Although the total amount of power supplied by the Company in the past few months has been about one-third of the output capacity of the first development, the net earnings have shown a surplus above all fixed charges.

The directorate of the Company includes Edwin Hawley, A. C. Bedford, H. E. Huntington, W. H. Crocker, Frank H. Ray, and other prominent capitalists.

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Lenox Library Lot Jumps in Value—Five Big Apartment Houses Sold—The United Cigar Stores Co. Buys 23d St. Plot—Many West Side Deals.

The resale of the northwest corner of Madison Avenue and Seventieth Street yesterday by Pease & Elliman brought to light some interesting facts regarding increased and assessed valuations.

On Monday last Robert D. Graham purchased the property which consists of a lot, 21 by 100.5, from the trustees of the Lenox Library for $42,000, although the lot is assessed by the city for taxation purposes at $110,000. Yesterday Mr. Graham resold the lot through Pease & Elliman to a Wall Street broker for $45,000.

The new owner has already been offered an advance of $5,000, which he refused to accept.

The adjoining corner of Madison Avenue and Seventy-first Street was also sold recently for $42,000, and the adjoining 22-foot lot on the Seventieth Street side of the block was sold by the library trustees in May, 1908, to E. W. Humphries for $3,750 a front foot, or $78,750.

Norman and Sunderland Courts Sold.

The Braude-Papae Company has sold to a client for the Anaconda Realty and Construction Company the two new six-story elevator apartment houses known as the Norman Court and the Sunderland Court at 522 to 526 and 528 to 530 West 136th Street, 175 feet east of Broadway.

These buildings have been held at $450,000, and cover a plot of 200 by 99.11, comprising the greater part of a group of high grade modern elevator apartment houses recently completed, and are under the sole management of the same brokers.

United Cigar Stores Company Buys 23d Street Plot.

The United Cigar Stores Company was the successful bidder yesterday at the Yard Estate sale of 148 to 156 West Twenty-third Street at the stand of Bryan L. Kennelly, in the Vesey Street auction room. The property, which consists of a plot 102 by 98.9, with two six-story and one four-story buildings thereon, located in the new Pennsylvania Terminal loft section, attracted a large number of bidders, and the first bid of $225,000 was quickly raised. Active bidding followed between Ranald H. Macdonald and the purchaser, Alfred M. Rau, who was acting for the Cigar Stores people, who secured the property at $296,000. The price was considered very fair and satisfactory by the executors of the estate.

Mr. Kennelly also sold 348 Sixth Avenue, a lot 24.8 by 59, with a three-story building thereon, for $154,500. Also a choice plot on the east side of Third Avenue, 25 by 110, for the Rhinelander estate, to Nathan H. Weil for $20,000; also, the corner of Thirty-second Street and Second Avenue for the estate of James Coogan, consisting of two four-story brick tenements, with stores, on plot 24.8 by 100, for $39,500.

A $650,000 Deal in Loft Zone.

Richard Bergmann and A. Robinson sold for the Realty Holding Company, of which N. J. Hess is President, the new twelve-story and basement fireproof store and loft building, on plot 75 by 100, and just completed at 129 and 133 West Twenty-seventh Street, to A. Epstein, who gives in part payment 164, 166, and 168 Henry Street. Building operations on the Twenty-seventh Street property were started last July and the building is now sold completed and fully occupied. The transaction involves $650,000.

Joseph Reiser has sold his three-story dwelling 225 West Twenty-fifth Street. The adjoining house, 223, owned by Prof. Charles G. Herbermann, has also been sold.

C. A. Sweet sold to Mary Earmann 452 Sixth Avenue a five-story building on lot 20 by 100 between Twenty-seventh and Twenty-eighth Streets, adjoining the Mouquin parcel. Max Radt, President of the Jefferson Bank, recently purchased 450, adjoining.

Lofts to Replace Old Buildings.

Alfred M. Rau has bought the three three-story houses 142, 144, and 146 West Twenty-fourth Street from Bruno Steinel, Jacob Spielberger, and Marion J. Barkley, respectively. S. B. Goodale & Son were the brokers in the sale of 142 and 144, and Bryan L. Kennelly in that of 146. The houses occupy a plot 56.3 by 98.9 in the block between Sixth and Seventh Avenues. Loft buildings will replace the old structures.

The property 12 and 14 West Thirty-seventh Street, 43.5 by 98.9, was reported sold yesterday. The owners of record are Catharine Lapsley and Frances G. Alexander, respectively. 12 is a four-story dwelling on lot 19.7 feet front, and 14 consists of three-story front and rear buildings. On the westerly end of the plot there is a small alley.

R. Stuyvesant Leasehold Sold.

A. Humpfner & Co. have sold to a client for investment 320 East Twenty-first Street, Rutherford Stuyvesant leasehold, a two-story brick building on lot 20 by 92. This parcel stands on the block of the New York Post Graduate Hospital and the United Hebrew Charities Building, which has recently acquired several other parcels adjoining.

Adolph Humpfner, in conjunction with K. M. Goldner & Co., has sold the five-story tenement with stores, 769 Second Avenue, adjoining the corner of Forty-first Street.

A. Humpfner & Co. and K. M. Goldner & Co. have leased for a term of years the store premises 219 East Twenty-third Street to the Metropolitan Distributing and Advertising Company.

Louis Morris Starr, of the firm of Theodore B. Starr, is the buyer of the dwellings 42 to 46 East Seventieth Street, on plot 50 by 100.5, adjoining the southwest corner of Park Avenue, sold recently by the Union Theological Seminary through the Douglas Robinson-Charles S. Brown Company. Mr. Starr will erect a dwelling for his own occupancy.

Post & Reese sold for Von Beverhout Thompson to Dr. Eugene H. Cool 107 East Sixtieth Street, a four-story brownstone dwelling on lot 20 by 100.5, 60 feet east of Park Avenue.

Horace C. Foote is reported to have sold the five-story flat 23 West Eighty-fourth Street, on lot 17.6 by 102.2.

Heights Apartments Sell for $450,000.

F. R. Wood & Co. have sold for the White Construction Company to an investor, the Speranza, at 568 to 572 West 183d Street, a six-story elevator apartment house, on plot 75 by 100. The property has been held at $150,000.

The Columbian Board of Brokers sold for Loewenfeld & Trager the St. Thomas apartment house, on the nothwest corner of 178th Street and Amsterdam Avenue, plot 100 by 100, to an investor. The consideration was $300,000.

Recent Buyers.

Herbert Du Puy, owner of the Severn apartment on West Seventy-third Street, facing Sherman Square, is the buyer of 168 West Seventy-third Street, adjoining, sold Tuesday by Dr. R. S. Hooker.

Isaac Friend is the buyer of the four-story dwelling 31 West Eighty-fourth Street, sold last week by the McDonald estate.

J. Boyd is the buyer of the five-story flat 23 West Eighty-fourth Street, the sale of which was reported Tuesday.

Max Marx is the buyer from Georgiana Shufflin of the lot, 25 by 150, on the south side of Vermilyea Avenue, 175 feet from Emerson Street, transferred Tuesday to Thomas Alexander. Hall J. Howe & Co. negotiated the sale. Mr. Marx owns the northwest corner of Isham Street and Vermilyea Avenue, 100 by 100.

Dr. Linsley R. Williams of 711 Park Avenue is the buyer of 882 and 884 Park Avenue.

Sarah H. Sandford, owner of the stable property at 45 East Sixty-second Street, is the buyer of the adjoining stable, 43 East Sixty-second Street, sold recently by the Postley estate. The combined plot is 50 by 100.5.

Bronx Sales.

John A. Steinmetz has sold 1,542 Hoe Avenue, a two-family house, on lot 25 by 100.

John A. Steinmetz has sold to Samuel R. Waldron 807 East 17[illegible]th Street, a one-family house, on lot 25 by 100.

Francis Haff has sold for M. J. Dowd a plot, 100 by 112 feet, on the west side of the Concourse, 75 feet south of 194th Street, for a high-class residence.

Building Company Buys Borough Park Block.

A. J. Murphy has sold for the Realty Associates to the New Utrecht Building Company for immediate improvement the block bounded by Fifty-first and Fifty-second Streets, New Utrecht Avenue, and Twelfth Avenue.

The purchasers of this property intend to erect thereon five-story limestone and brick buildings, with stores on the ground floor and high-class apartments above. This is the largest sale that has taken place in this section for some months.

Sales Along the Palisades.

F. Merletto has sold to W. D. Lorenzo of Hackensack, N. J., a plot of 2,500 square feet on the south side of Cliff Street, Cliffside Park, N. J.

J. D. Cox has purchased from the Edgewater Realty Company two lots, 25 by 100 feet each, at Edgewater, N. J.

The Leonia Heights Land Company has sold to I. S. Corrilston of New York a plot, 50 by 150, on Highland Avenue, Leonia, N. J.

The Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Newark have purchased four lots on Anderson Avenue, Hudson Heights, N. J., and purpose erecting a church on this site.

The Leonia Heights Land Company has sold to F. L. Colbert of New York a plot, 50 by 150, at Leonia, N. J.

A. E. Neuman of Cliffside Park, N. J., has purchased from the New Jersey and Hudson River Ferry Company a strip, 79 by 25, on the southwest line of Gamwell Street, Hackensack, N. J.

G. B. Morrow of New York has purchased from the Leonia Estates a plot, 75 by 100 feet, on the property known as Leonia Estates, Leonia, N. J.

E. H. Loveridge has purchased from the Columbia Investment and Real Estate Company a very handsome house, on plot 75 by 100, on the south side of Linden Avenue, Morsemere, N. J.

Suburban Sales.

The Percival G. Ullman, Jr., Company has bought through the Prince's Bay Realty Company sixty-eight acres in Richmond Borough of the Southern Land Company.

Payson McL. Merrill has sold for William H. Erhart his property on the Round Hill Road, at Greenwich, Conn., opposite Conyers Manor, the estate of Edmund C. Converse, and adjoins the residence of Dr. J. Clifton Edgar. The property consists of over 200 acres of land, with two dwellings, stables, and farm buildings.

$805,000 in Building Loans.

The Title Guarantee and Trust Company loaned yesterday the following building and permanent mortgages: $405,000 to the 563 Park Avenue Company, on property 101-109 East Sixty-second Street. The building is to be a twelve-story fireproof apartment. The first advance under building loan contract is $175,000; also, $225,000 to the Sternfeld Building Company, on property 317-323 East Thirty-fourth Street. A twelve-story steel loft building is to be erected.

"Big Tim" Borrows $20,000 on Bronx Plot.

Timothy D. Sullivan has borrowed $20,000 from Edmund Q. Trowbridge on the plot, 100 by 100, at the southwest corner of Sherman Avenue and Hawthorne Street. Mr. Sullivan bought the property a few weeks ago. The loan is for three years at 5 per cent. interest.

Building Restriction Removed.

Another illustration of the downfall of old restrictions was given yesterday by the action of the owners on the south side of Thirtieth Street, between Broadway and Fifth Avenue, to remove the requirement that no structure should be erected within five feet of the building line. This meant that all buildings had to be set back five feet. The removal of this restriction, which business interests have virtually rendered useless, is largely due to Walden Pell, who is completing a twelve-story structure at 24 West Thirtieth Street.

In several of the streets north of Twenty-third, similar restrictions were put into operation when the neighborhood was wholly of a residential character, and in some cases have proved to be a serious hindrance to the present development of the properties. A recent effort to invalidate a setback restriction covering the south side of Twenty-sixth Street, between Broadway and Sixth Avenue, was defeated in the courts.

Title Insurance Co. Officers Elected.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Title Insurance Company of New York, held yesterday at 135 Broadway, the old officers of the company were re-elected for the ensuing year. Edgar J. Levey, President and General Manager; John D. Crimmins and Clinton R. James, Vice Presidents; Cyril H. Burdett, Secretary; William N. Harte, Treasurer; Chauncey H. Humphreys, Edwin A. Bayles, and Frank L. Cooke, Assistant Secretaries. Charles H. Keep, President of the Knickerbocker Trust Company, was also elected a new member of the Board of Directors.

Waldo Mansion Not Sold.

The auction sale of the mansion belonging to Mrs. Gertrude Rhinelander Waldo, mother of Fire Commissioner Waldo, situated at Madison Avenue and Seventy-second Street, which was scheduled at the Vesey Street salesroom yesterday, did not take place. The property was withdrawn, but no explanation was given. It was stated afterward that some settlement had been reached on the judgment under which the foreclosure proceedings were brought.

The judgment, amounting to $10,000, with interest from Dec. 3 last, was secured by Anna M. Schmitt-Baier. In addition there is $9,221 in unpaid taxes and a mortgage of $150,000 on the property. It is said that $600,000 was offered at one time for the property and refused. Many prospective purchasers have sought to buy it without success.

The interest in the mansion, said to be a copy of a French chateau, has been widespread from the fact that the owner has never occupied it in the fourteen years that it has been built. It was completed in 1895 while Mrs. Waldo and her late husband, Francis W. Waldo, were traveling in Europe.

To Remodel Old Mulberry Tenement.

Plans have been filed with Building Superintendent Miller for remodeling the old fashioned four-story brick and frame tenement house, which was one of the old timers of the original "Mulberry Bend," at the corner of Mulberry and Bayard Streets, and which, when the Bend was wiped out by the new park, acquired a fine frontage on the plaza overlooking the pavilion and was made into studios and offices in the lower stories. The upper floors are now to be made into small flats, removing the building from the jurisdiction of the Tenement Commissioner. The changes are to be made from designs by Gross & Kleinberger for Jacob Lippman as new owner.

Lecture on City Property.

Thomas H. Hovenden, Treasurer of the Chauncey Real Estate Company, will lecture before the students of the real estate class conducted by the Bedford Branch Young Men's Christian Association of Brooklyn this evening on the subject of "City Property." The lecture is one in a concluding series on real estate practice, to be followed by ten sessions on real estate law.

Big Flushing Deal.

Property said to be valued at about $75,000 changed ownership on Tuesday, when A. S. Robbins of Manhattan sold eight acres of land situated directly in the rear of the Samuel McCreery homestead, on Broadway, Flushing. The plot runs 553 feet on Boerum Avenue and 700 feet on Murray Lane. The buyer is Frank S. Hutchingson of Murray Hill, Flushing, who intends to improve the tract.

New Long Island Realty Company.

A certificate of incorporation of the North Jamaica Realty Company has been filed with the State Department. The capital stock is placed at $50,000, and the Directors are Charles Martin, John J. Roberts of Brooklyn, and John L. Cummings of Richmond Hill.

Will Improve Patchogue.

The Equity Holding Company of Patchogue has been incorporated. The capital stock is $10,000, and the Directors are William A. Hulse of Bay Shore, Joseph Bailey, Emerson C. Terren, Walter S. Rose, H. Clay Losee, and Robert S. Pelletreau of Patchogue, George D. Howell of East Islip, and E. Eugene Hawkins of East Patchogue.

Notes.

The property at 76 East Ninety-first Street, offered at auction on Jan. 11 by Joseph P. Day at executor's sale, was purchased by a party in interest and not by J. T. Rose, as originally reported.

The Charles F. Noyes Company has been appointed by the Berthfeld Realty Company as exclusive renting and managing agent for the eight-story Hanover building, an office structure, at 130 and 132 Pearl Street, extending through to 96 and 98 Water Street.

The Harlem Property Owners' Association will hold a meeting this evening at 147 East 125th Street.

Leases.

E. W. Gray has leased for Blumenkrohn the third loft at 19 East Twenty-first Street to Schneider & Troshinsky.

Warren & Skillin have leased in the Stock Quotation building, 26 and 28 Beaver Street, the entire third floor to the New York News Bureau and also to Barclay & Co. the entire fifteenth floor, for a term of years.

Cammann, Voorhees & Floyd have leased the building, 25 South William Street through to 45 Stone Street, and the entire upper part of 27 South William Street, through to 41 Stone Street, for the Hermanos Realty Company, to B. P. Ducas Company; also the building, 121 Broad Street, for Herman H. and Frederick Fajen, to the New Amsterdam Trucking Company; also the building, 27 Coenties Slip, for Amos F. Eno to H. L. Bond Company.

No Better Way

There is no better way to bring about the recovery of Lost articles than to advertise the loss in The New York Times.

When an article is found, the finder, nine times out of ten, consults first of all the Lost and Found column of The Times.

This because The Times is a recognized Lost and Found medium.

Lost articles of sufficient value to warrant the expenditure should be advertised a week or more.

The wisdom of this has often been demonstrated. The Lost and Found column frequently restores articles, thought to be hopelessly lost many days after the loss occurs.

"All the News That's Fit to Print"

DR. JONNESCO SAILS AWAY.

Compliments American Surgeons on Departure and Says He Will Return.

Dr. Thomas Jonnesco, the Roumanian surgeon and demonstrator of stovaine, sailed yesterday on the White Star liner Adriatic. He went away pleased with the result of his stay in this country and delighted, he said, with the courtesy shown him. He is going to Paris and later to Algeria. After that, he said, it was a possibility that he would return here. On the next visit, he said, he would be able to speak English well.

"I have found American surgeons to be the equal in all respects of any in the world," he said. "The human bond of sympathy seems stronger here than I have found it in some countries abroad. This means much to the medical profession, and the new ideas and methods of treatment which are advanced. Here one receives a fair hearing."

Dr. Jonnesco performed twenty-three operations while here. In cases of the most difficult character, he said, stovaine had been used in operations and always successfully.

REPUDIATES CONFESSION.

Convicted Murderer in Virginia Says 3 Others Convicted Were Innocent Also.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Jan. 12.—Henry Smith, the negro recently convicted of the murder of Walter F. Schultz, a Chicago artist, has made a brand-new confession, declaring himself innocent of complicity in the killing of Schultz, and alleging that the previous confessions made by him, implicating in the crime Calvin Johnson, Richard Pines, and Eugene Dorsey, all negroes, were false and made through coercion by Chief of Police Good, whom he charges with desiring to make a record for himself in ferreting out the criminals.

"I had always intended to deny my confessions had I been acquitted," says Smith. "God knows I am innocent of this crime. Had I murdered Schultz I certainly would have got all his money and gone away." He maintains that if the three men previously convicted had anything to do with the murder he knows nothing about it.

Chief Good says the new confession is an absolute falsehood. It was made to Attorney Drumback and witnessed by the jailer at the Alexandria Jail. The Governor, however, has commuted for sixty days the sentence of death imposed upon Johnson, Pines, and Dorsey in order to permit further investigation of the case.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The storm that was developing Tuesday in the extreme Southwest was centred Wednesday night over Missouri, whence it will move slowly eastward.

Heavy snow fell in South Dakota Wednesday.

Fair weather, but with considerable cloudiness prevailed in the East and South.

A further rise in temperature has occurred in these districts, but it has changed little elsewhere.

Winds along the New England Coast will be light to moderate variable, becoming easterly; Middle Atlantic Coast, moderate east and southeast; South Atlantic Coast, light to moderate east and southeast.

Steamships departing Thursday for European ports will have moderate easterly winds, with rain or snow, to the Grand Banks.

FORECAST FOR TO-DAY AND FRIDAY.

Eastern New York and Eastern Pennsylvania—Rain or snow Thursday and probably Friday; moderate east winds.

New Jersey—Rain Thursday and probably Friday; not much change in temperature; light variable winds, becoming east.

New England—Increasing cloudiness, followed by snow Thursday and probably Friday; light to moderate variable winds, becoming easterly.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from the thermometer at the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, is as follows:

	1909.	1910.		1909.	1910.
3 A. M.	37	27	4 P. M.	31	35
6 A. M.	33	26	6 P. M.	29	34
9 A. M.	35	30	9 P. M.	26	33
12 M.	38	32	12 P. M.	22	32

This thermometer is 108 feet above the street level. The average temperature ystrday was 30; for th corresponding date last year it was 32; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 30.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 30; at 8 P. M. it was 34. Maximum temperature, 35 degrees at 5:30 P. M.; minimum, 26 degrees at 4:30 A. M. Humidity, 76 per cent. at 8 A. M.; 76 per cent. at 8 P. M.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS IS HELD IN PEACE

Insurgents Attend Meeting to Elect Congressional Committee and Two Get Places.

TAFT HOPES TO END STRIFE

Expected to Issue Statement as to His Position—Yale Man Appointed to Succeed Pinchot.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—In spite of reports that bombshells would be exploded to-night, the meeting of the Republican delegations of the House and Senate for the election of the Republican National Congressional Committee passed off smoothly, without a murmur of disturbance.

The insurgents were well represented, and those who were not present said they considered the meeting purely routine. Having participated in the elections held previously by their State delegations, they did not see the necessity of being on hand when those elections were ratified.

Representative Olcott was elected a member for New York State, Loudenslager for New Jersey, Senator Bulkeley for Connecticut, and Representative Moore for Pennsylvania. Two of the members are out and out insurgents. They are Representative Wods of Iowa and Representative Hinshaw of Nebraska. Representative Davidson of Wisconsin is on the fence. He came to Congress presumably as an insurgent, but failed to develop. Now, however, according to a prominent member of the progressive wing, he is "itching to be an insurgent," and the anti-Cannon men are hoping it is only a matter of time before he will be voting with them. He is said to have announced privately that he will not be for Cannon for Speaker another term. A good deal of anti-Cannon pressure is being brought to bear on him from his district.

The meeting to-night was presided over by Senator Hale, Chairman of the Senate caucus. On account of the illness of Representative Loudenslager, Secretary of the last Congressional Committee, Representative McKinlay of California acted as Secretary. Representative McKinley of Illinois, Chairman of the last committee, said he would call a meeting about Jan. 21 for the election of officers.

The Wisconsin delegation in Congress has decided to demand that the Congressional Committee give a statement of all receipts and expeditures in the last campaign and in campaigns in the future. The Wisconsin men will demand that these statements be prepared in the greatest detail, showing from whom all moneys were received and to whom every dollar was paid. The Wisconsin delegation, which is strongly insurgent, has an idea that the Congressional Committee, which exists for the purpose of helping Republican Congressional candidates, has been devoting some of its efforts to hindering the chances of the party whose political creed is not entirely in accordance with the desire of the organization. They figure that if their demand for a detailed statement is acceded to, it will be difficult to discriminate against Republican candidates who are likely to turn into insurgents.

From a representatice who is in a position to know it was learned to-day that while popular report that the funds collected by the Congressional Committee for the last Congressional campaign amounted to $750,000, the total, as a matter of fact, was less than $125,000. This questio did not come up at the meeting to-night.

President Taft is accredited at the Capitol with a desire to put an end to the internecine war which threatens his Administration. It was common report today that the President was preparing to assure the public through some form of communication that there was no war between the Administration and the Republican insurgents. There was no disclosure of details, but leading insurgents were expectant of some such official repudiation of the war being made upon them by the Republican organization members of the House.

That correspondence has passed between the President and Representative Norris of Nebraska, one of the foremost insurgents, concerning the situation was admitted by the Nebraska member to-day, but in the absence of official sanction he declined to make public the contents of the letters.

Mr. Norris wrote to the President protesting against the action of the Republican Congressional Committee in opposing insurgent members in their home districts. In reply President Taft is said to have written Mr. Norris a letter declaring that the Administration was making no war upon any member of the House and that he in no wise blamed individual members for acting in an independent capacity in anything affecting themselves or their districts.

The President, however, is said to have deprecated the action of the Republican insurgents in making such a fight as to cause the press and the public to believe that a division had occurred within the party and that the administration was confronted with a serious defection in its own ranks before it had become a year old.

Representative Miller of Minnesota, another of the insurgents, is said also to have similar assurances from the President sent to him through an intermediary.

GRAVES FOR PINCHOT'S POST.

Head of Yale Forestry School to Be United States Forester.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—President Taft this afternoon appointed Henry S. Graves, Director of the Yale Forestry School, as forester of the United States, to succeed Gifford Pinchot. He also appointed Albert F. Potter, at present acting forester, as associate forester. The new forester and his associate are both known as Pinchot men. Both have served under Mr. Pinchot, and both are in sympathy with his policy of administration.

It was largely through Mr. Pinchot's efforts that the Yale Forestry School was established, and Mr. Graves went from the post of Assistant Chief of the Division of Forestry under Mr. Pinchot to become director of the school in 1900. He had served in the forestry division for two years.

Mr. Graves was graduated from Yale in 1892. He was trained in forestry in this country and in Europe, and has had extensive experience in the West, having made the reconnaissance survey of the Black Hills in 1897. Mr. Graves will take up his duties as forester Feb. 1.

Mr. Potter, the new associate forester, who succeeds Overton W. Price, is a native of California, and had spent all of his life in the West until he became a member of the forestry staff nine years ago. He has had jurisdiction over all grazing privileges within the preserves. He is well acquainted with Western conditions, and is thoroughly informed of all the policies and practices of the forest service.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 12.—The selection of Henry S. Graves to be National Forester in place of Mr. Pinchot did not surprise the Yale authorities, who knew of the calling of Mr. Graves to Washington. It is said at the office of the Secretary of the university that no statement as to a successor to Mr. Graves would be made until after the corporation meeting to-morrow. It seems likely that a temporary head of the Forestry School will be chosen, as the students in that department are now in the midst of the completion of their laboratory and technical work in preparation for taking up field work in the early Spring. Prof. Toumey may be selected for the place temporarily.

The Pinchots have been the greatest backers of and financial donors to the Yale School of Forestry, and Gifford Pinchot is popularly referred to as the father of the school. It would please Yale men if Mr. Pinchot could be induced to take charge of the school, but it is not believed that this can be made possible.

Mr. Graves several years ago was married to the daughter of Pierce N. Welch of this city.

President Arthur T. Hadley said: "I consider the appointment a most excellent one. Mr. Graves has a full knowledge of forestry and is a clear-headed business man."

Commends Pinchot's Work.

The Manhattan Single Tax Club, through its President, Frederick Cyrus Leubscher, has written to Gifford Pinchot, ex-Chief Forester of the United States, praising Mr. Pinchot's "fight to conserve the National resources" and offering him its "support in the determined stand which he has taken."

REJECTS SENATE RESOLUTION.

House Refuses to Concur in Amendments Regarding Ballinger Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The House to-day refused to concur in the Senate amendments to the so-called Pinchot-Ballinger resolution, and decided to ask for a conference. The Speaker named the following conferrees: Representatives Dalzell of Pennsylvania, Smith of Iowa, and Fitzgerald of New York. The Senate members of the Conference Committee are Senators Nelson of Minnesota, Clark of Wyoming, and McEnery of Louisiana.

In announcing the arrival of the Senate resolution Mr. Dalzell said that the most important change made in the House measure was the elimination of the restriction that the investigation should be completed before the end of the present session of Congress.

The Senate joint resolution is a compromise measure, the basis of which was the Jones-Humphrey resolution. A portion of the resolution reported from the House Committee on Rules was incorporated in the measure, and this included all of that part which provided for the compulsory attendance of witnesses and the punishment of those who refused to obey the orders of the Investigating Committee. It provides for the election of the House members by the House itself in accordance with the wish of that body expressed by a close vote. The sending of the resolution to conference is a mere formality, and indicates that the contest over the form of the resolution is near at hand.

SAY CONGRESS AIDS TRUST.

Increased Tax, Say Independent Tobacco Men, Will Mean Their Ruin.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Congress was arraigned to-day at the annual meeting of the independent tobacco manufacturers. President Hugh Campbell of Richmond, Va., accused that body of siding with the Tobacco Trust and declared the increase of the revenue tax on tobacco from 6 cents to 8 cents could be interpreted in no other way.

If the increase is carried into effect this year, he said, combined with the advanced prices of Burley tobacco, it will bring many of the independents face to face with ruin. The only hope of the independents, President Campbell declared, is to get a year of grace before the increase goes into effect. He quoted statistics of the Bureau of Corporations to show that the trust profits 9 cents net on the tobacco which it manufactures and sells, while the independent profit is but a little more than 2 cents a pound.

It was decided to ask Congress for a year's extension of time before the new tax becomes effective.

The following officers were elected: President, W. F. Axton, Louisville, Ky.; Vice President, W. T. Reed, Richmond, Va.; Secretary and Treasurer, J. A. Bloch, Wheeling, West Va.

DAUGHERTY SEES TAFT.

Aspirant for Dick's Place in Senate Says Afterward He's Satisfied.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Harry M. Daugherty of Ohio, who has been prominent in Republican politics in that State for some years, and who recently announced himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Senator against Senator Dick, had a long talk with President Taft regarding the Ohio situation. Mr. Daugherty said he was entirely satisfied with the situation and with the attitude the President is taking in the matter.

It has been currently reported for some time that the President's brother, Charles P. Taft, would again be a candidate for the Senatorial nomination against Senator Dick.

LATEST CUSTOMS RULINGS.

English Raincoats Are Held to be Undervalued—Other Tariff Decisions.

The Board of United States General Appraisers, in a decision written by Marion De Vries, President of the tribunal, has decided that raincoats from J. Weinberg & Son of Manchester, England, are undervalued, and must pay duty on the basis of the advances in value made by the Appraiser of the Port. The goods were entered at a valuation of 8s. 6d., and are held by the board to be dutiable properly at the rate of 11s. The value of the coverings is added to the advanced values.

Linen lace articles from F. Schwarz and Gustav Prager, both of Vienna, are held by the board to be dutiable at the higher rates imposed by the Appraiser. The advances vary according to the character of the merchandise, and include doilies, Cluny scarfs, and similar goods, all of which are decided to be dutiable at higher rates. It is understood that the board experienced considerable trouble in forming a decision on account of the conflicting evidence.

Sub-Board No. 3 has handed down a decision sustaining the entered value of cigarette paper exported by S. Spitzer & Co.

Alleged Bankrupt Tries Suicide.

By the filing yesterday of a petition in bankruptcy against Berthold Bendheim, wholesale liquor dealer, 1,487 Avenue A, it was learned that he attempted suicide by turning on the gas on Tuesday, and is now a prisoner in Bellevue Hospital. His creditors, three distillers, allege that he is insolvent, and has made preferential payments to unknown creditors. They also assert that he has purchased in the last three months upward of $30,000 worth of goods, all of which have been disposed of, except about $1,000, and that he is either in possession of the proceeds or has placed the same under cover. His liabilities are said to be $40,000, and has assets $6,000.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

JOSEPH ABRAHAM.—Schedules in bankruptcy of Joseph Abraham, egg dealer, 1,586 Avenue A, show liabilities of $5,785 and no assets. Among the creditors are the Germania Bank, $1,000; Nichols Brothers, $940, and Frank Goldstein, $740.

G., S. & K. MANUFACTURING COMPANY.—Goluberg, Silverberg & Kluböck, who did business as the G., S. & K. Manufacturing Company, cloaks and waists, 17 East Broadway, have made a settlement with creditors at 20 cents on the dollar cash, and Judge Hand has dismissed the petition in bankruptcy filed against them on Dec. 28.

HORATIO E. DUTCHER.—Horatio E. Dutcher, general store at Oliverea, in the Catskills, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $6,101 and nominal assets of $3,125, consisting of stock, $925; fixtures, $124; accounts, $719; notes, $137; telephone stock, $25; thirty tons of ice, $20, and store property, $1,175, mortgaged for $1,325. He owes $1,500 to twenty-three creditors in New York City.

BERNARD BARAS.—Bernard Baras, dealer in toys and stationery at 149 Eighth Avenue, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $5,698 and nominal assets of $1,400 in stock and fixtures, which are covered by a chattel mortgage for $1,900 to Charles La Bowsky. Among the other creditors are John Day & Co., $699, rent; L. H. Mace & Co., $550, and M. Zimmerman Co., $306. He has been in business seventeen years.

EMANUEL & LOEFFELHOLZ.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Max Emanuel and Jacob Loeffelholz, who composed the firm of Emanuel & Loeffelholz, manufacturers of leather goods, 102 Prince Street, by these creditors: Simon S. Hamburgh, $433; Appelbee & Newman, $95, and George W. Weiss, $70. It is alleged that they are insolvent, made preferential payments of $3,000, and transferred merchandise and accounts of $2,500.

LORD ADVERTISING AGENCY.—The Lord Advertising Agency, a New York corporation, at 333 Fourth Avenue, has made an assignment to Francis P. Sherwood. The deed was signed by George E. Lord, Vice President, and Arthur H. Lord, Secretary. The business was started in Scranton, Penn., in December, 1903, removed to this city in October, 1905, and was incorporated on March 20, 1907, with a capital stock of $75,000.

BENJAMIN LEVIN & CO.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Benjamin and David Levin, who composed the firm of Benjamin Levin & Co., manufacturers of vests and smoking jackets at 751 Broadway, by these creditors: Morris Weissman, $475; Joseph Schoenfeld, $38, and Charles Decker, $15. It is alleged that they are insolvent and made preferential payments of $1,500. Judge Hand appointed George J. Thomson receiver of the assets, which are estimated at $1,500, in stock, fixtures, and accounts.

KOURI BROTHERS.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Antoine Kouri, doing business as Kouri Brothers, exporters of notions at 24 Stone Street, by Olcott, Gruber, Bonynge & McManus, attorneys for these creditors: Market and Fulton National Bank, $4,876; Battery Park National Bank, $1,388, and Harry M. Spence, $4. It was alleged that he is insolvent, made preferential payments, and since Dec. 28 concealed $7,000 or a large part thereof, being the proceeds of goods sold by him in Haiti. Mr. Kouri was formerly in business in Cape Haitien, came to New York in 1891, and in 1894 became a partner in the firm of Kouri Brothers, and has carried on the business alone since the death of Habeeb Kouri, in 1900. When there were so many failures in the Syrian colony last Summer it was said that Mr. Kouri suffered heavy losses, and in September he went to Haiti to collect his outstanding accounts in that country. His liabilities are reported to be more than $50,000.

BANKRUPTCY SALES.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In the matter of GEORGE B. ADAMS AND COMPANY, alleged bankrupts.

To the creditors of the above-named alleged bankrupts:

Pursuant to an order duly made in this matter the receiver of the estate of the alleged bankrupts will sell property belonging thereto, consisting of office furniture, fixtures, carpets, furniture, etc., all situated in the building at No. 40 North Street, Middletown, New York.

Sealed bids will be received for the whole of the said property. These bids must be submitted to Burt Royce, receiver herein, at 63 North Street, Middletown, New York, on January 17th, 1910, at one P. M., at which time and place they will be opened by the receiver, and creditors may attend and advise as to the acceptance of bids.

All bids must be accompanied by cash or certified check for ten per cent. of the amount thereof, and the balance of the purchase price must be paid to the receiver upon approval of sale by the court.

TROUBLE AHEAD FOR RECKLESS AUTOISTS

Committee Chosen to Draft Severe Laws for Curbing the Speed Mania.

CHAUFFEURS WILL CONCUR

Prospect That Applicants for Licenses Will Soon Be Compelled to Take Examinations.

The movement for legislation to put an end to reckless automobile speeding got a good start yesterday at the conference of men representing various automobile interests, the Magistrates' Courts, District Attorney's office, Police Commissioner's office, chauffeurs, and automobile owners at the National Highways Protective Association rooms, 6 West Twenty-eighth Street.

After about two hours of discussion of the speed craze and its danger to the public the gathering passed a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to go more thoroughly into the problem, with a view to recommending to the Legislature amendments to the motor laws intended to abolish the evil.

Henry Clews, the banker, President of the Highways Association, as Chairman of the conference, appointed on the committee A. K. Wing, counsel to various taxicab companies; John H. Coleman of the West End Improvement Association, J. Dumont Thompson of the Automobile Club of America, William H. Walters of the Professional Chauffeurs' Club, J. Ehrentreu, an automobile supply manufacturer; E. S. Cornell, Secretary of the Highways Association; Lorillard Spencer, Jr., and Col. Schuyler Crosby, representing automobile owners.

It was the sentiment of the conference that the surest way to curb the speed mania is to put more responsibility on chauffeurs. Rigid examinations for automobile drivers as to competency, vigilance by the police in arresting offenders, and the infliction of heavy punishment for chronic offenders against the law were suggested as the best way out of the trouble. It was the general impression that the present law, which enables chauffeurs to obtain licenses by paying $2 to the Secretary of State, without examination, is at the bottom of the evil that has grown up.

Perhaps the greatest surprise for the conference came when Mr. Walters, for the Professional Chauffeurs' Club, got up, after several others had told what legislation they thought should be passed, and announced that for two years their organization had been trying to get a law passed requiring strict examination of men applying for chauffeurs' licenses.

Drew Up a Bill.

"We drew up a bill two years ago," said Mr. Walters, "and we made every effort to have it passed. I took a copy of it down to Deputy Police Commissioner Bugher. He approved of it, but that was all."

Mr. Walters turned to Mr. Bugher, who sat near him, and asked if what he had said was not true.

"Yes, that's right," assented Mr. Bugher.

Mr. Walters went on to say that the chauffeurs desired to have a law that would make it impossible for any one not entirely familiar with the mechanism or operation of automobiles to obtain a license.

"We are glad to see the public is coming around to our way of thinking," he said. "We will certainly help in every way we can."

Magistrates Barlow, Cornell, and Herbert, representing the Magistrates board, agreed that the problem would be solved if the present law could be amended to provide for licenses after proper examination. They favored licensing drivers after the custom in vogue in France and England, where the photographs of chauffeurs are placed on the licenses.

In England a memorandum is made on the back of the license, which is in a small book, each time the chauffeur is arrested, so that it is always possible for the police to ascertain how many speed offenses the prisoner has committed. This acts also as a guide to the courts in determining the punishment.

"It is entirely wrong," declared Magistrate Cornell, "that a license is issued upon the mere application of a chauffeur, as at present. It is impossible for the Secretary of State to know whether the man to whom he issues the license is capable of running a machine or not.

"The Magistrates are anxious to help put a stop to reckless speeding. We hold all chauffeurs for trial when there is evidence sufficient to do so."

New Law Needed, He Says.

Mr. Bugher suggested that the speed problem would be pushed a long way toward solution if an amendment to the law were passed licensing the driver alone instead of the driver and the automobile. It is difficult for the police, in many instances, to ascertain the names of drivers after accidents, he said, as they hurry off, and all that can be obtained is the automobile number, which sometimes does not give the clue wanted.

Mr. Bugher favored having one license for the driver, no matter how many cars his employer owned, this number to be displayed conspicuously on the automobile and illuminated at night. By registering the chauffeurs the police would have no trouble in learning who was responsible for an accident when the number of a car was obtained.

"It is necessary to make the chauffeurs responsible," declared Mr. Bugher. "Until they are made to thoroughly understand that automobile accidents will not cease."

He thought the automobile numbers should be at least two inches higher than those used now. When one of the automobile owners asked him if he did not think the police ought to put a stop to the practice among some chauffeurs of turning corners sharply, to the imminent danger of pedestrians, the Deputy Commissioner replied:

"Yes, that ought to be stopped, and it would be if the Magistrates would back up the police who make such arrests. When a chauffeur is taken in on that kind of charge the Magistrate generally imposes a fine of $1. He doesn't care for that, as his employer, as a rule, pays it for him."

W. B. Carrigan, President of the New York Taxicab Company insisted that the drivers as a rule are careful and that most of the accidents happening through reckless speeding are caused by chauffeurs employed by individuals or by the owners themselves.

Owners Blamed, Too.

"Our millionaires, or some of them, want their automobiles driven fast, and they are the ones who are largely to blame for the breaking of the speed laws," said Mr. Carrigan.

Assistant District Attorney Whiteside, who appeared for District Attorney Whitman, agreed with Mr. Carrigan that not all the speeding offenders are the chauffeurs.

"Quite often we have as defendants before the Special Sessions Judges the individual owners," said Mr Whiteside. "They have the speed mania fully developed. The chauffeur is not by any means the only desperate criminal in this respect."

Mr. Whiteside gave the conference some figures showing that in the last year 4,283 automobile cases were handled by the Magistrates, of which 3,751 were sent to the Special Sessions Judges. Only about 10 per cent. of the total number were dismissed by the Magistrates, and those were instances in which the offenses were slight.

"There's one very good way to stop all this speeding," interjected Commissioner Baker, "and that is for the Special Sessions Judges to put heavy sentences on the third-time offenders. Let them get some of that and we won't have so much trouble."

TO REGULATE AUTO TRAFFIC.

Three Bills Embodying New Provisions Introduced in the Assembly.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 12.—Three bills embodying new provisions affecting automobile traffic were introduced in the Assembly to-night, one by Assemblyman Charles A. Dana of New York, another by Assemblyman Albert S. Callan of Columbia County, and the third by Assemblyman Irving J. Joseph of New York.

"My bill," Mr. Dana said to-night, "was drawn to meet conditions as I found them while Deputy Assistant Attorney General. The trial of automobile cases fell to me, and several defects in the existing law were brought out."

The bill requires any one operating an automobile to be licensed, and provides that all chauffeurs shall pass an examination before being licensed. Provision is made also for a license fee of $10 for a car less than 30 horse power, and $20 for a car of more than 30 horse power.

A new speed regulation of fifteen miles in the built-up portions of cities is provided for. The speed proposed in outlying portions of cities is twenty-five miles, and a speed of more than thirty miles in country districts is declared to be prima facie evidence of negligence. Fines and penalties are to be devoted to the fund for improving roads. No license to operate an automobile is to be given to a person less than 18 years old. The license of a chauffeur shall be canceled upon his fourth conviction for speeding.

Mr. Dana said the provisions of his bill met the recommendations of Gov. Hughes. The measure, he added, had not been shown to any of the automobile associations, and he did not know their attitude.

Mr. Callan's bill is based upon the Massachusetts law, and he explains that the provisions of the measure follow closely the suggestions in the message of Gov. Hughes. The maximum speed for autos outside city limits is twenty miles, and the license fee is not to exceed $25 a year. Other provisions are similar to those of Mr. Dana's measure.

Assemblyman Joseph introduced a bill carrying out recommendations made by Police Commissioner Baker to increase the size of the figures in which the number must appear on the rear of motor vehicles. The bill provides that the number must be painted on the body of the car, not less than 36 inches from the ground. At night the number must be illuminated by a white light, so as to be plainly visible.

$80,000 TO TEST AUTO ROADS.

State Highway Board Wants That and Auto Fees to Pay for Increased Cost.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 12.—In its first annual report presented to the Legislature this evening the new State Highway Commission asks for an appropriation of $80,000 for the building of experimental roads to determine what class of material is best suitable to withstand the wear and tear caused by automobile traffic.

"This traffic," the report says, "has compelled more expensive methods of construction which will in general aggregate at least $2,500 a mile and this construction upon 500 miles of road will cost annually over $1,000,000."

The experiments are to be conducted by the Bureau of Research established within the department. The report recommends that owing to the large additional amount necessary for the construction and maintenance of roads used by automobiles an annual registration fee which should net the State not less than $500,000 be provided for by legislation and that the entire proceeds be devoted to the care of improved highways.

An amendment to the constitution is recommended permitting the construction of proper roads in the forest preserve. The Attorney General has ruled that the commission under the present law has no authority to improve highways in the forest preserve which are not entirely within the alignment of the existing roads, nor can the commission cut any timber within these lines.

DISCUSS FEDERAL AUTO BILL.

National Association Takes Up the Question of Legislation.

The National Legislative Board of the American Automobile Association yesterday, at 437 Fifth Avenue, discussed the Federal Registration bill, now before Congress, the opinion being expressed that it did not tend to interfere with the rights of the several States to regulate automobile traffic within their boundaries.

It was brought out that the chief aim of the bill is to permit automobile owners, after obtaining licenses in one State, to take their cars to another without the necessity of getting additional licenses. In this way an owner would be enabled to take his car where he pleased with a single license, through registration at Washington.

A resolution was passed that all State Legislatures be urged to incorporate in their laws a provision that persons operating motor cars drive "in a careful and prudent manner, and at a rate of speed so as not to endanger life or property." The board expressed itself as being opposed to any provision restricting the number of miles an hour for motor traffic.

MADE OATH IN MISTAKE.

Friends of Ossining's Postmaster Hope President Won't Remove Him.

Special to The New York Times.

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 12.—Friends of John Nally, who has been Postmaster here for eleven years, are hoping that President Taft will not revoke his recent reappointment of Mr. McNally because of the fact that the Postmaster is now under indictment for perjury in the Criminal Branch of the United States Circuit Court. The indictment grew out of Mr. McNally's certification of several Italians who applied for citizenship papers a month or so ago, and it is explained by the Postmaster and his friends that what testimony he gave he honestly believed to be true and was the victim of his own faulty memory. McNally expects to be acquitted in court.

Some fifty Italian residents of this place had made preparation to go in a body to White Plains and apply for naturalization. The Postmaster said he knew twenty-eight or twenty-nine of the number well enough, he thought, to certify that they had lived in Ossining for five years. It developed that three of them had not been in the country that long. Mr. McNally has learned, he says, that the men lacked only two or three months of the time, and his certification was simply a mistake.

Vice President Looking Up Realty.

BAYSIDE, L. I., Jan. 12.—Vice President Sherman slipped quietly into Bayside yesterday and went to the home of J. Calvin McKnight, where he dined. After dinner he and Mr. McKnight looked at some real estate, and the Vice President left town by train, as he had come. It is known that Mr. Sherman holds views of the future of Queens Borough, which he did not hesitate to express at a real estate men's dinner last Summer at Long Beach.

EQUAL PAY QUESTION AGAIN SIDE-TRACKED

New Board of Education Refuses to Pass on It at Its First Meeting.

OPEN-AIR SCHOOL COMING

Despite Some Opposition, the Board Votes to Start One for Sickly Children.

The women teachers in the public schools who think they are entitled to as much pay as the men teachers were disappointed again yesterday.

They are getting used to disappointments. They had hoped, though, that the new Board of Education, which met for the first time, would favor the resolution offered on Dec. 22 by Arthur S. Somers providing for equal salaries for the men and women who teach in the schools.

The resolution had been turned over to the board's Committee on By-laws and Legislation, the proposed measure carrying with it the amendment of the by-laws to legalize an equalization of pay.

The committee reported the measure unfavorably at yesterday's meeting, and it looked for a few minutes as though the report was about to be adopted by the board. This was prevented, however, and the entire question of equal pay was put over until the meeting of the board next month for full discussion of the question. The newly appointed women members are expected to take an active part at that time.

In declining the proposal to equalize the teachers' pay the committee gave three reasons for its action. One was that the Board of Education had twice before taken a stand against equal pay, and that the committee could find no sufficient reason at this time for the board to reverse its previous action.

The second reason offered was that the budget appropriation for the present year was not sufficient to provide for the increased salaries the change would necessitate, and that, as the measure would have to become operative as soon as the by-law was amended, the additional money would have to be in hand.

The third reason advanced was that a Committee of Five had already been appointed to appear before the Board of Estimate and urge the appropriation of such additional funds as would enable the Board of Education to pay the proposed increased salaries of teachers included in the estimate for 1910 and to determine whether legislation is necessary in the matter. This Committee of Five was appointed by the Board of Education after a meeting on Dec. 22, at which the Somers resolution was offered, and it has not yet reported to the board.

It was decided after some discussion to establish an open-air class for anaemic children at Public School 27 in Manhattan. The matter came before the board in the form of a report of the Committee on Elementary Schools, which favorably reported a resolution to establish the open-air class.

Dr. Dennis J. McDonald objected to Public School 27 being chosen for such a purpose. He said that the name anaemic was only a subterfuge; that tuberculosis was really what was meant in the resolution and that the location of School 27 was not suitable for a class in which there were children who were likely to be exposed to tuberculosis. He said that because of several chimneys near the school there was a great deal of smoke there, and that much dust drifted in through the open windows of the building.

"The conditions at School 27 are favorable to the breeding of tuberculosis rather than its amelioration," said Dr. McDonald.

Mr. Stern said that evidently a mistake had been made, that the open-air class was not for tuberculosis sufferers but to prevent tuberculosis.

The plan calls for the reconstruction of a room on the third floor of the school, having an east and a south exposure, to accommodate a class of twenty anaemic children. The room will be equipped with Venetian blinds for the windows, twenty movable and adjustable desks, twenty reclining chairs, and a scale for measuring and weighing pupils. Additional clothing will also be provided—robes, caps, and footwarmers, so that they will dun no danger from the cold air during the Winter months.

Ex-Controler Metz and ex-President McGowan of the Aldermen were at the meeting in their capacity of board members. They were appointed just before Mr. McClellan vacated the Mayor's chair.

MAE WOOD TRIAL PUT OFF.

Once More the Case Drops Back Into the General Calendar.

Those who have watched with interest the periodic appearances on the calendar in General Sessions of the Mae Wood case, felt that yesterday would see its positive farewell. January 12 was the final day set by Judge Foster for the District Attorney's office to show cause why he should not grant the pending motion for the dismissal of the indictments against her.

The Wood woman is charged with perjury and forgery in connection with her divorce proceedings against ex-Senator Platt, who disowned the signature of the letter referring to his alleged marriage to her at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in 1900.

With the expiration of the time allowed, Assistant District Attorney Nott went before Judge Foster and pointed out that the motion for dismissal had been made by a lawyer other than the attorney of record, and that it was therefore improper and could not be granted. The motion was denied, and the case dropped back into the general calendar.

To Oppose Differential Rate Changes.

The Executive Committee of the Board of Trade and Transportation resolved last night to join with the Chamber of Commerce and Produce Exchange in opposing further changes in differential railroad rates on imports at Atlantic ports of entry. The committee deferred action on the question of approving the Jamaica Bay barge canal proposition. Stephen Farrelly's motion that the committee commend Mayor Gaynor for appointing Calvin Tomkins, a member of the board, to the Dock Commissionership provoked opposition, and Mr. Farrelly withdrew his motion.

WILLIAM WATSON SAILS SADLY AWAY

His Friend, Robert Ely, Giving Out a Statement of the "Bitterness of Soul" He Takes with Him.

BADLY TREATED, ELY SAYS

But His Stateroom on Departure Was Filled with Flowers, and Mrs. Watson Hopes to Return Some Time.

After spending several days quietly at the Hotel Gotham in this city, William Watson, the English poet, sailed yesterday with his wife for England on the White Star liner Adriatic. At his request the steamship company had kept his name off the passenger list, and when he went on board, soon after 8 o'clock yesterday morning, he retired to his cabin on the promenade deck, remaining there with Mrs. Watson until fifteen minutes before the Adriatic sailed.

When the gong sounded the last call for visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Watson came on deck, where they were joined by Joseph Gilder, brother of the late Richard Watson Gilder; William B. Feakins, and Robert Erskine Ely, who had come to see the poet off.

Mr. Watson appeared to have aged somewhat since his arrival in this country early in December. He was inclined to be taciturn, when addressed by the reporters. His only replies to the questions put to him were, "Indeed!" and "My word!" Asked if he had anything to say regarding the controversy over the poem, "The Woman with the Serpent's Tongue," the poet was about to make some reply when his friend, Mr. Ely, said sternly, "Not a word." Mr. Watson became silent and refused to be enticed into speech again. Turning to the reporters Mr. Ely said:

"I am authorized to talk for Mr. Watson, and will give out a statement after the Adriatic sails."

Mrs. Watson evidently was not included in the conversation embargo placed on her husband, and said she had greatly enjoyed her visit to the United States and Cuba, and hoped to come back again some time.

Mr. Ely's statement later was to the effect that Mr. and Mrs. William Watson were cutting short their trip "because the object for which they came here, a pleasure tour, to see a country which they had never visited before, and for which both of them had a fervent admiration, cannot longer be fulfilled." Since their arrival, Mr. Ely said, they had made some warm friends, who felt that "the greatest living English poet and his young wife have been treated, since they came to America, in a manner which should cause every self-respecting citizen of this country to feel a sense of shame." However, the regard felt for them has been expressed in many ways, among them a private tea given in their honor on Tuesday afternoon by a woman well known in New York society and her husband, at which twenty men and women well known in American literary and social circles were present.

Mr. Ely added that the suite occupied on the Adriatic by Mr. and Mrs. Watson was filled with flowers sent by the poet's admirers in New York, and they said good-bye to America "with at least some abatement of a bitterness of soul which no words could adequately characterize."

During his stay at the Gotham Mr. Watson passed most of his time in receiving in the Red Room poets who came from all parts of New York City and adjacent towns. Sometimes he read to them extracts from his works and in return they read theirs to him to the wonderment of the bellboys, who listened with bated breath.

In an absent-minded moment, while thinking out a poem on American reporters, last Thursday afternoon, Mr. Watson, returning from a walk in the park, went up to Room 1,607 in the Hotel St. Regis, instead of the Gotham, and became indignant when he had knocked on the door and a voice within bade him go away.

Visitors at the vis-a-vis hotels, at Fifty-fifth Street and Fifth Avenue, have made this mistake before, and the floor clerk called up the desk at the Gotham and asked if a man named Watson had Room 1,607 in that hotel. On receiving a reply in the affirmative the clerk said:

"Well, he's here in the St. Regis now, and you had better tell him the mistake he has made."

This was done, and after apologizing for the trouble he had given Mr. Watson descended in the elevator and went across to his hotel.

Coroner's Jury Blames McAdoo Co.

A Coroner's jury in Jersey City last night held the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad Company responsible for the death of Irving H. Lovejoy and August Floecker, the two men who were caught in the passenger elevator in Jersey City on New Year's Day and killed. The jury's verdict also charged the company with gross carelessness in not having a guard stationed at the elevator. Lovejoy was a Manhattan real estate operator and Floecker a railroad car inspector.

Tompkins Makes H. T. Clews Secretary.

Dock Commissioner Tomkins appointed Harry T. Clews yesterday as his secretary, to succeed William C. Blaney. The place pays $2,000 a year. Mr. Tomkins announced that the appointment was purely a personal one. The Commissioner also laid off several laborers and attendants, declaring that he had no work for them to do, and accepted the resignation of Arthur J. McQuade, foreman of dock laborers.
